BONUS ARMY TREKKING WEST

German Chief Talks on Eve of Ballot.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 29.—Chancellor Franz von Papen, whose government is made up of men powerful in the aristocratic and military caste of the old imperial régime, tonight appealed to the United States for "an understanding of Germany's demand for justice and equality among nations" in a trans-Atlantic speech.

The head of the so-called "monocled" goverment vigorously denounced the treaty of Versailles in his address. Two important factors emerge as the result of his words—at home Germany is closing her campaign for the reichstag elections on Sunday, and abroad she is involved in a new dispute with France.

Spoke for All Germany.

Just before the chancellor began his address, Baron Constantin von Neurath, the reich's foreign minister curtly told the French ambassador Andre Francois-Poncet, that when Gen. Kurt von Schleicher, minister of defense, threatened the other day to arm Germany if the other nations did not disarm, he spoke not only for the German cabinet but also for the entire German nation.

[By the Versailles treaty, Germany's armed forces are limited to the number necessary to preserve internal order.]

Von Papen, who spoke in English, blamed the difficulties under which Germany is struggling on the treaty of Versailles.

"This treaty is the fundamental cause of the despair and dissatisfaction which is shaking our country," he said. "No single German will recognize this treaty as just because it places Germany in a position of inferiority. This applies particularly to the youth of our fatherland. They are suffering the greatest privations and do not understand why they should continue the suffering and injustice inflicted on us under that treaty."

Endangered by Civil War.

The chancellor referred to the political events of the last few weeks and said:

"The outside world does not quite realize that Germany was endangered by an aspect of civil war due to extreme tension. The communists had built powerful fighting units throughout Prussia and the recent disorders were due chiefly to their illegal activities, which no government could continue to tolerate without relinquishing its own authority.

Communism is directed against the cultural foundation of our national social life, and is therefore a revolutionary movement and a danger to the country and to the world, whereas National Socialism [Adolf Hitler's Fascist movement] aspires chiefly to national reconstruction.

"Order has been restored through out Germany and the present government will see that this order under no circumstances is disturbed. The administration of Prussia by a federal commissioner [dictator] was only temporary. No single state will lose its sovereignty or independence. We have achieved the reëstablishment of federal authority.

Scoffs at Dictatorship.

"Since my appointment as chancellor fears have been expressed abroad lest this government might favor a dictatorship in Germany. Neither myself nor my colleagues will support such a movement.

"The German people desire nothing more than to live in peace and to devote their energies to assisting in the reconstruction of the world. Let us build up a better future, conquering the world by conquering ourselves, with God's help in a spirit of solidarity for the commonweal."

The statement of Foreign Minister von Neurath to the French ambassador earlier in the evening was an answer to the protest by the ambassador about Gen. von Schleicher's talk over the radio last Wednesday.

"If the other nations do not disarm Germany will reorganize her defenses to obtain the security and equality which she demands," the minister of defense said at the time.

French Premier Protests

Premier Herriot of France called on Ambassador Leopold von Hoesch of Germany in Paris yesterday and protested against the general's speech, describing it as "tactless and inopportune."

'OTHER WOMAN' TELLS OF FRIEND SLAIN BY WIFE

Widow, Guarded, to Attend Funeral.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

Lodged in a cell at the county jail last night on a charge of murdering her husband, Joseph Pollak, south side alcohol dealer reported to be worth $100,000, Mrs. Dorothy Pollak, 26 years old, attractive brunette, wept because she had been denied bail, pouted because her cot was hard, sighed reflectively and said:

"I shouldn't have shot poor Joe. It was a dirty trick and I'm sorry."

Mrs. Pollak revealed that she had asked Attorney W. W. O'Brien to file a suit for separate maintenance against her husband three months ago. The suit was not filed, she said, because her husband pleaded with her not to leave him.

Find "Other Woman."

A new development in the case yesterday was the finding of Mrs. Frank Cebulski, young mother of three children, named by Mrs. Pollak as the woman to whom Pollak had been paying attention and the cause of the quarrel which ended on Wednesday night when Mrs. Pollak shot her husband in the right eye in their home at 1936 Garfield boulevard.

"I knew Joe for a long time," said Mrs. Cebulski. "He asked me to marry him 14 years ago. I refused him because he had been married before.

"I don't think Mrs. Pollak ever loved him. She just married him for his money. He gave her everything. She is nice looking and he bought her lots of beautiful clothes and two automobiles.

"Pollak came to see me and my husband often because we were old friends and because my husband worked for him delivering alcohol. She thought he came to see me alone, I guess, and that's why she came here to hunt him when I was gone."

Mrs. Cepulski was aroused to a bitter retort when one remark of the widow Pollak was reported to her: "I wouldn't have minded if my husband had been going out with a pretty woman."

"She is trying to make a goat out of me," said Mrs. Cepulski. "I didn't kill him. She did. I certainly never tried to win Joe's love. I've got my children to think of and I behave myself and devote myself to just one man, my husband. Mrs. Pollak thinks she is pretty. Well, mere prettiness isn't all men look for in a woman."

Scene at the Mortuary.

Mrs. Pollak was a woman of many moods yesterday. She was alternately angry and pleased. She staged a scene at the undertaking parlors when she threw herself upon the body of her husband, kissing his face and sobbing: "O, my poor Joe! I loved him, I loved him." Later she was calm and discussed her chances of getting out of jail on bail.

Judge John Sbarbaro in the Felony court denied bail for Mrs. Pollak. He admitted her father, Simon Mysza, 50 years old, charged with being an accessory after the fact because he at first denied being present at the slaying, to $5,000 bail. The state was unsuccessful in obtaining a warrant charging accessory to murder against Mrs. Victoria Schultz, cousin of Mrs Pollak, who also was a witness to the shooting. Attorney O'Brien asserted that Mrs. Schultz would be a willing witness and would testify that Mrs. Pollak shot in self-defense.

Assistant State's Attorney Michael V. Ostrowski said the state wanted Mrs. Schultz arrested because she had told conflicting stories of the killing.

Orders Wreath for Coffin.

When Mrs. Pollak was led into the undertaking rooms at 4605 South Hermitage avenue she saw her husband's body lying in the $1,500 casket she had ordered. She flung herself upon the body and screamed hysterically. Afterwards, she instructed that a large wreath of flowers bearing the legend "From Loving Wife" be placed beside the coffin.

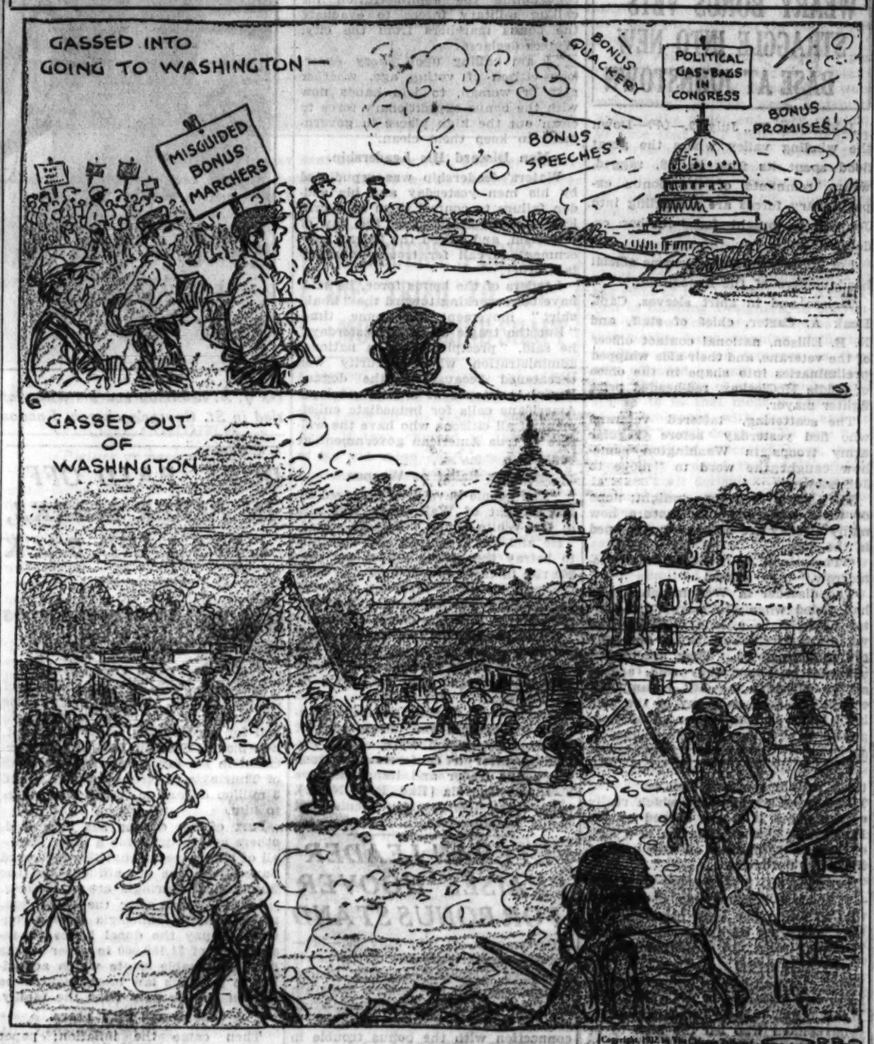

The young widow again spent much time on her costume yesterday. She wore a cadet blue dress with a close fitting hat to match. The dress was trimmed with fur.

At the jail last night Mrs. Pollak expressed gratification when told that Judge Sbarbaro had issued an order permitting her to attend the funeral of her husband Monday afternoon. She will attend the funeral under guard and be taken back to the jail afterward.

"I'm so glad I can go," she said. "It will help make it up to poor Joe for what I did to him. This whole thing has hurt me very much.

STOCKS AGAIN GAIN; RAIL SHARES SHOW WAY IN BRISK RISE

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—Further gains ranging up to more than three points were scored in a strong market on the New York Stock exchange today. Early hesitancy and some weakness gave way to a substantial rally after noon with prices at the close holding near their best levels for the day and around the highs for the current recovery. In many leading issues present prices are more than double the recent lows for the bear market.

A feature was the sharp and general advance of railroad shares, at first under the leadership of the four eastern lines heading proposed consolidated systems. Other prominent issues such as American Telephone, United States Steel, Allied Chemical and Consolidated Gas were among the strong leaders in the rally. Volume around 2,000,000 shares was somewhat under the total of 2,800,000 yesterday, which was the largest for the year.

City to Greet Von Gronau on Arrival Today

Plans for a representative reception of the German flyers, Capt. Wolfgang von Gronau and his crew of three, who are expected to reach Chicago today after crossing the Atlantic for the third time, were completed yesterday. The flyers reached Ottawa yesterday from Montreal and will take off for Chicago this morning.

City officials, the Women's International Aeronautical association, the American Legion and half a dozen German societies will participate in the welcoming ceremonies, according to Capt. George H. Weidelling, chairman of the reception committee.

Planes to Meet Germans.

Capt. D. B. Litsner, chairman of the aviation corps of the American Legion, will summon as many airplanes as possible to greet the flying boat, Groenland Wal, when it nears the city. Sheriff Meyering and a party will fly out over the lake in a Sikorsky amphibion.

The reception committee will meet at the Illinois Women's Athletic club, 115 East Pearson street, where the flyers will make their residence while in Chicago, at 3 o'clock. From there the welcomers will proceed to the 7th street ramp and wait for the arrival, expected around 4 o'clock. Aviation post, No. 651, of the American Legion will act as escort to the members of the Women's International Aeronautical association, of which Dr. Irene Behnke is president.

Others to Greet Flyers.

Among others to greet the flyers will be Dr. George Schaller, acting German consul general in Chicago; Capt. Weidelling, chairman of the 1932 German day committee; Julius Klein, Republican nominee for congressman at large; Col. T. A. Siqueland, City Greeter George Gaw and Mrs. Gaw, Postmaster and Mrs. Arthur C. Lueder, and Miss Olga Mann.

From the ramp the party will proceed to the city hall, where the flyers will be officially welcomed by Ernst Kruetgen, vice president of the board of local improvements, representing Mayor Cermak.

Plan Reception Tonight.

There will be a reception tonight in the Lincoln Turner hall, with various German societies participating. The flyers will address the German population of the middle west in their native tongue over station WIBO during the regular German hour, 1 to 2 p. m., tomorrow.

Capt. von Gronau has announced that he would spend several days in Chicago and then proceed to Milwaukee and perhaps to Los Angeles, where he wishes to see how movies are made and watch the Olympic games. Monday he is expected to deliver one or more lectures here, discussing the practicability of the northern air mail route, via Iceland and Greenland, between Chicago and Berlin.

LAWYER MARRIES HEIRESS AFTER YACHT ROMANCE

A romance which began in Florida waters on a yacht a year ago led to the marriage of a Chicago lawyer and a River Forest heiress in Waukegan last night.

The bride was Mrs. Marie Mills Armstrong, 36 years old, of 551 Jackson avenue, River Forest, heiress to the fortune of her father, the late Herbert S. Mills, millionaire novelty manufacturer. She was married to George E. Woods, 41, who has law offices at 134 North La Salle street. He is a Harvard law school graduate and a member of the Lincoln park legal staff. Both have been married before.

Accompanied by three friends, who were on the original Florida cruise a year ago, Mrs. Armstrong and Attorney Woods sailed into Waukegan harbor on the 109 foot yacht Minoco at 7 o'clock last night. They obtained a license from County Clerk Lew A. Hendee and were married at the home of Justice Walter Dow Wright. After a wedding dinner aboard the yacht they returned to Chicago.

The attendants were Wesley A. Behel, divorced husband of Marion Claire, opera singer; Ralph Chapman, captain of the 1915 Illinois football team and All-American guard, and Ruth H. Davis, 7450 Rogers avenue.

2 Hungarian Reds Hanged; Paris Protests

BY WILLIAM SHIRER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUDAPEST, Hungary, July 29.—A Hungarian military court-martial today sent to death by hanging two men whose crimes—being leaders of the communist party—are outlawed in this kingless kingdom.

Refusing pleas for clemency pouring into Budapest from radical intellectuals all over Europe, Hungarian justice moved with unprecedented swiftness.

The trial began at 8 a. m. At 2 p. m. death sentences were pronounced and at 4 p. m. the bodies of the two communist leaders swung from the gallows.

Both Men Jews.

The convicted men were Emmerich Sallai, 33, and Alexander Fuerst, 29, both Jews and leaders of the communist party, which has been illegal in Hungary since the bloody days of Bela Kun's Red dictatorship.

After the arrest of the two men ten days ago radical leaders in European capitals attempted to influence the Hungarian government to have the communists tried in the ordinary courts. Budapest refused. It insisted on bringing them before the court-martial set up last September when the government suspected that communists were responsible for the train wreck at Bia Torbagy, which cost twenty lives.

Ten Have Been Executed.

An investigation disclosed that Sylvester Matuschka, a fanatic, wrecked the train, but Hungarian authorities felt a real Red menace existed nevertheless. Since September ten persons have been tried and executed by this court-martial, which, according to law, may only free or sentence to death those brought before it. There is no middle ground.

It is reported in diplomatic circles tonight that Premier Herriot of France was so incensed over the death sentences that he telegraphed the French minister to Hungary to demand the Hungarian government postpone the execution. The message from the Quai d'Orsay arrived at 3:45 p. m., just as the two men were marching to the gallows. The French minister vainly tried to get in touch with Count Julius Karolyi, the prime minister, but before his energetic protest could be received John Kavoc, Hungary's famous hangman, had ended his day's work.

Fear Loans May Be Recalled.

It was believed until the last minute that the French pressure would save the lives of the two communists. Because it did not, it was reported tonight that the Hungarian banks might find a lot of short term loans being recalled by Paris next week.

French Socialists, upon whom Herriot partly depends for his parliamentary support, are reported to be back of France's interest in the case and one which Hungarians regarded as a purely local matter. Leon Blum, leader of the Socialists in the French chamber of deputies, sent this message to Prime Minister Karolyi:

Joan Longuet, French radical deputy, arrived in Budapest yesterday and conferred with the French minister on how the lives of the two communists could be saved. The semi-official hint from France only stiffened the attitude of the Hungarian authorities, who felt that hanging the two bolshevik leaders might put an end to the communist movement, which has become exceedingly strong under cover.

Appeals Are Denied.

The court-martial made short work of the case. The prisoners admitted they were communists. That guilt was sufficient in the eyes of the court-martial. Two defense lawyers, who were unable to interview their clients until the trial opened today, begged the court to stay the death sentence, but the judge held that the prisoners, being communists, were guilty of plotting to overthrow the present political and social order, and passed the death sentence. Motions for appeals to Regent Nicholas Horthy were refused.

The two men went to the gallows shouting "Long live soviet dictatorship!"

Budapest was placed under military law tonight to curb any communist uprising. Mounted troops patrolled the streets, but groups of Reds broke loose and smashed windows in several stores. All workers ceased work for five minutes this afternoon to protest the executions. A threatened general strike was called off.

Gasoline Blast Damages Banker's Yacht; 1 Hurt

Albert Smith, 48 years old, of 305 Judge avenue, Waukegan, was severely burned last night in an explosion aboard the 45 foot cabin cruiser owned by Charles Nelson Steele, president of the First National bank, Waukegan. The accident occurred in Waukegan harbor. Smith was preparing the boat for a cruise when gasoline, which had seeped into the bilge, blew up.

TROOPS MOP UP STRAGGLERS TO CLEAR CAPITAL

Hoover Starts Grand Jury Inquiry.

Leaders Pass Gettysburg

Gettysburg, Pa., July 29.—(AP)—The advance guard of the retreating bonus "marchers" army started passing through Gettysburg shortly before midnight tonight in Pennsylvania highway department trucks.

Pennsylvania state troopers and highway patrolmen escorted the motorized group westward. The troopers' commander, Maj. C. M. Wilhelm, said none of the men would be permitted to leave the trucks at Johnstown, where plans have been made by Mayor Eddie McCloskey to receive them.

The group, estimated by state police to number between 2,500 and 3,000 men, were dropped from Maryland highway department trucks at the Pennsylvania line.

Washington, D. C., July 29.—[Special.]—A final assault by regular army troops ended the bonus war late today and swept the defeated veterans' army out of Washington in disorganized retreat. The trek is westward. One state may move them on to the next state.

Tonight a few soldiers patrolled the blackened ruins of the bonus army camps while their late occupants hastened by truck, automobile, or on foot to their homes or to the supposed new concentration point at Johnstown, Pa., about 140 miles from the national capital. But the Pennsylvania state police may send them directly west, not allowing them to assemble in Johnstown.

Move Veterans on Trucks.

Maryland authorities tonight reported 3,200 of the departing bonus marchers had been hauled northward toward the Pennsylvania line by state and county trucks. Gov. Ritchie had ordered the veterans be given transportation across the state.

Offers were made by the national Red Cross today to finance the journey home for all veterans with families. Several family groups accepted the offer. Many others stuck with the bonus army as it moved toward Johnstown hoping to organize the Fascist order of the "khaki shirts." The state of Virginia blocked the bonus boys from that state.

Troops Sent to Camp.

Satisfied that the bonus battle had been won, with only a few communist stragglers scattered through the city, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, army chief of staff, ordered all except 600 infantrymen across the Potomac to Fort Myer, where they will be held in reserve.

The withdrawal of the troops and the departure of the veterans came less than thirty hours after the army had been ordered by President Hoover to put an end to rioting which had broken out between veterans and the police and had resulted in the death of one bonus marcher and injury of three score other persons, including police and spectators.

Open Anti-Communist Drive.

As the army mopped up the last remnants of a veterans' army that once boasted a membership of 20,000, police and federal agents of the secret service, the department of justice, and the deportation section of the labor department launched a drive against the communists in Washington.

Secret reports filed with the President have stated that the bonus army disturbances which were climaxed on two occasions by rioting in front of the White House were inspired by communist agitators who came to Washington from all sections of the country. Federal agents working on the investigation have orders to arrest every person in any way connected with the inciting of the rioting.

As a first move the police surrounded an abandoned church building and arrested 26 alleged communist agitators and veterans. Among them were six from Chicago, Harrison Reeves, 44; Cedor Laschuk, 36; John Tsotsos, 43; Walter Czyzowicz, 40; Havanes Mackloodian, 47; and Erskine Brown, Negro, 37.

Start Grand Jury Inquiry.

In a second move to bring the communist agitators to justice the attorney general's office launched a grand jury investigation into all phases of the bonus war, including the treatment accorded the veterans by local police.

Twice during the day the President made public communications dealing with the bonus war. One of these was a letter directed to the district commissioner. In this communication he sharply reminded the commissioners that the duty of maintaining law and order in the national capital was a burden for the police. He charged that their laxness in law enforcement was largely responsible for the outbreak of yesterday and warned that he would exact strict enforcement of all district laws in the future.

In the second statement, read at the afternoon press conference, the President sought to justify his action in ordering out the federal troops.

The President's Statement.

"A challenge to the authority of the United States government has been met swiftly and firmly," the President said. "After months of patient indulgence, the government met overt lawlessness as it always must be met if the cherished processes of self-government are to be preserved. We cannot tolerate the abuse of constitutional rights by those who would destroy all government, no matter who they may be. Government cannot be coerced by mob rule.

"The department of justice is pressing its investigation into the violence which forced the call for army detachments, and it is my sincere hope that these agitators who inspired yesterday's attack upon the federal authority may be brought speedily to trial in the civil courts. There can be no safe harbor in the United States of America for violence.

Lawlessness Retards Recovery.

"Order and civil tranquillity are the first requisites in the great task of economic reconstruction to which our whole people now are devoting their heroic and noble energies. This national effort must not be retarded in even the slightest degree by organized lawlessness. The first obligation of my office is to uphold and defend the constitution and the authority of the law. This I propose always to do."

The actual hostilities came to what appeared to be a sudden end late in the day. Although most of the veterans had departed early today after the razing of their camps last night, a few stragglers were bunched at camps in the section where federal building construction is going on. At noon the district commissioners, through the local police, ordered the camps evacuated. Veterans at the Maryland and 4th street camp and the communist camp at 12th and B streets lingered on. The final drive was then ordered by Gen. MacArthur.

Troops Rout Stragglers.

As the troops again went into action with tear gas to mop up the stragglers, Washington again bristled with bayonets and sabers. Gas masked infantry rushed through the cantonments, putting the torch to the few huts that escaped the flames yesterday and driving to precipitate retreat bonus stragglers and spectators.

Again calvary squadrons clattered through the streets. Machine gunners mounted on trucks followed the attack of the shock troops, ready to use bullets if tear gas failed. There was no temporizing. Wherever the soldiers found men congregated tear gas bombs quickly routed them. They had tasted tear gas yesterday when 3,000 soldiers opened the assault on the bonus army, and they had no relish for it today.

Situation Under Control.

With precision and speed the doughboys swept from Pennsylvania avenue and 3d street to 12th and B, mopping up everything that hinted of connection with the late bonus army. When they reached the end of their objective the job was complete. Tired and hot, the men rested on their arms until the order sending most of them to Fort Myer came at 5 o'clock.

At 7:30 Brig. Gen. Perry L. Miles, commanding the 12th infantry, expressed the belief that the situation was under control. He was of the opinion all federal troops could shortly be withdrawn and the task of enforcing the laws turned back to the district police. Even before this statement was made, Gen. MacArthur locked up his desk and went home, while Secretary of War Hurley motored to his estate in Virginia.

Hoover Assails Police.

The lessening of the tension came at the end of a day during which President Hoover had kept in close touch with the local police. It was disclosed at district headquarters that the President had shown great dissatisfaction over the way the bonus marcher situation had been handled. Reports were circulated that Pelham D. Glassford, chief of police and honorary member of the bonus force, was to be asked to resign. The resignation of one of the commissioners also was expected.

President Hoover had been at his office only a few moments when Secretary Hurley arrived to give him the latest reports on the bonus war. The first reports from army intelligence were that the veterans were thinning out rapidly. It was then made known that the district police had been directed to eject all veterans connected with the bonus army from the district.

Instruct Grand Jury.

In calling upon the District Supreme court to make an investigation, Attorney General William D. Mitchell stated that he had been instructed by the President to conduct a searching inquiry into recent disorders in the district. He said that he assumed the inquiry would be far flung and would cover all the activities of the bonus army from the time it entered the district several weeks ago.

District Supreme Court Justice Oscar R. Luhring called the jury before him at 2 o'clock and ordered them to begin their inquiry Monday.

"It appears," Justice Luhring said, "that a mob, incited by some of their number, attacked the police yesterday, seriously injuring a number of them and engaging in riot and disorder. Their acts of resistance reached such a point that the police authorities were unable to maintain order and the commissioners of the district were compelled to call upon federal authorities for troops.

"You should undertake an immediate investigation of these events, with a view to bringing to justice those responsible for this violence and those inciting it, as well as those who took part in acts of violence."

Keep Army "On the Move."

Both Virginia and Maryland made it clear that they wanted no bonus camps in their boundaries. Virginia officials said that veterans in the state will be kept on the move. Those outside will be kept out if possible. Brig. Gen. S. Gardner Waller, adjutant general of the Virginia National Guard, is in general charge of the situation. He said today he was prepared to call out the militia companies of Alexandria, Winchester, and Fredericksburg.

A score of motorcycle policemen patrolled the borders of Alexandria last night and the veterans' camps there were kept under surveillance.

State police patrolled Maryland highways under orders to keep the bonus army on the move as it retreated from Washington.

NATIONAL PRESS VIEWS ON BONUS VETERANS' CASE

Comment on Use of Force by Government.

Editorial comment on the ousting of the "bonus expeditionary army" from Washington, as gathered by the Associated Press, follows:

BOSTON HERALD—Cavalry at the White House and tanks and machine guns in the streets of Washington are not pleasant spectacles, but it was evident that the riffraff mob would not understand arguments any milder. . . . The only criticism, if there is any, that lies against the President is that he did not act sooner.

BOSTON EVENING GLOBE—Come what may, the national government must maintain its authority over its own property in its own capital.

BIRMINGHAM AGE-HERALD—The bloody collision between veterans and police in Washington is surprising only because it has been so long delayed. . . . There was never any excuse for this attempt to frighten congress into granting the bonus by the sheer massing of petitioners.

CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR—Radical agitators, who are always on the lookout for trouble which can be widely advertised, were responsible for Thursday's violence. But what about the congressmen who, for reasons of political profit, started the marchers on their futile and dangerous journey?

CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER—The obvious duty of the authorities at Washington is to maintain order at whatever cost. The capitol cannot surrender to the B. E. F. or to any other group insisting on rights that do not exist.

COLUMBUS EVENING DISPATCH—Only Moscow will view the event with complacency. . . . President Hoover was entirely within his right to insist that order be maintained and to lend the services of army troops to that end when the situation got beyond the power of local authorities to control.

DALLAS MORNING NEWS—When a horde of hungry and penniless men are set down in a city where government has no authority to care for them and private means cannot, disorder is inevitable. . . . Commander Waters admits that his men got beyond control. Only force could control them. It had to be used.

DENVER POST—It is the duty of the authorities to deal with the matter as they would deal with any other movement that challenges and defies law and order. The agitators who are keeping the stupid movement alive should be shut up for a while.

EMPORIA GAZETTE—The problems of this nation cannot be solved by collecting mobs in Washington. There is no question of the patriotism or the sincerity of the boys, but they picked a bad way to urge what was at best a dubious cause. The country is relieved to know that there is at the helm of this nation, in this year of crisis, a hand which has been patient and which can be firm.

KANSAS CITY STAR—Of course, the constituted authorities could not permit the marchers to defy the law. . . . the politicians and others who encouraged the marchers have an added responsibility in view of the happenings in the national capital.

LEWISTON, ME., SUN—Don't damn those trouble makers in Washington with the shameful title of communist—all those no-better-than-they-ought-to-be bonus seekers. All the wrong they have done the republic is petty indeed compared with the wrong inflicted . . . by President Hoover and the Democratic-Republican congress.

LOUISVILLE TIMES—Grover Cleveland would have employed troops in a similar situation, and it would be disturbing to believe that any President of the United States would hesitate to use troops to compel evacuation of federal buildings, or areas, occupied by a disorderly mob, regardless of the classification of members of the mob as veterans, Reds, criminals or what not.

NEW YORK DAILY NEWS—The government cannot surrender to these men. But neither can it afford to go one inch beyond the absolute minimum of violence that may be necessary to keep them on their side of the line.

NEW YORK TIMES—Now that the latent spirit of insolent lawlessness has manifested itself in overt acts, the country should demand that the whole affair be thoroughly cleaned up, the vetcrans dispersed as speedily as may be, and Americans be no longer called upon to witness an insubordinate body of men asserting at the national capital that they are above the people as a whole and more powerful than the government itself.

NEW YORK HERALD-TRIBUNE—Whether these men are really communists or not is immaterial; they are agitators, and their object is to foment trouble and make headlines. Their assault upon the police—who bore the attack with courage and restraint—was bitterly unjustified.

OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES—While we mourn in the presence of the unknown soldier whose life is forfeit in this backwash of war, we think a far more terrible catastrophe has been averted and that the menace of the bonus marchers in Washington has been solved with a minimum of bloodshed, for which we are deeply grateful.

OMAHA WORLD-HERALD—The continued occupation of the city by this tatterdemalion army . . . was fast becoming intolerable, if indeed it was not from the very start. The leaders who fomented the march on Washington have much to answer for.

PHILADELPHIA EVENING LEDGER—It is probable that this clash was plotted from the beginning, and the real veterans honestly seeking help from the government are made the victims of the consequences of the radical propaganda. The President and his secretary of war deserve high praise for the promptness and efficiency with which they met the situation.

PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER—The disorders of yesterday are serious and the government has acted properly in taking them in hand at once.

PHILADELPHIA RECORD—What happened in Anacostia was ghastly and shameful. A thousand explanations cannot make it less so. . . . There is an explanation which really explains, but it is not offered by the President. The explanation is a lack of human sympathy on the part of the chief executive.

PORTLAND, ME., PRESS HERALD—If there is any criticism of the way this situation has been handled, it is that measures of the kind used on Thursday were not employed sooner.

SACRAMENTO UNION—If any blame attached to any one for the unfortunate outcome of this march to Washington, it is to be placed on the congressmen who led the men to believe that their demands might be achieved by concerted action.

SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE—Riot is riot; whoever does it and in whatever cause. And order must be order if civilized life is to continue.

SEATTLE TIMES—After congress adjourned whatever objective the veterans might have had in their "march to Washington" vanished. Most of them recognized that fact and left the national capital. Those who remained were a menace to health and sanitation and served no purpose other than to offer vain hopes to the radical groups that unendingly plot against the American people and their government.

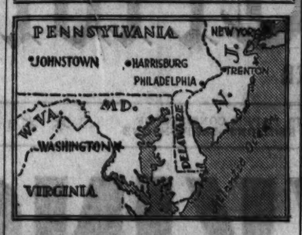

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH—It is impossible to judge at this distance how tactful the federal authorities were; but we cannot have government by mobs and still preserve law and order. The constituted authorities must always be the judges of how serious the threat of disorder is. We can only trust that they were not mistaken in this instance. The whole bonus movement has been badly advised.

ST. LOUIS GLOBE-DEMOCRAT—No government could retain its self-respect or the respect of the people that would permit such defiance of its authority as was displayed by these men.

TOLEDO BLADE—Some [of the nations of the world] will say this new trouble is one of many we acquired by getting into a war that was not any of our business.

TOLEDO NEWS-BEE—Basically the blame rests with vote seeking politicians who, in the beginning, encouraged the men to come to Washington on a mission those politicians knew was doomed to failure.

Bonus Army Moves

Map showing Washington, from which veterans were driven; Johnstown, Pa., to which they are bound (though the state police now say they will not be permitted to stop there); Harrisburg, the Pennsylvania capital, and Philadelphia, the largest city in the Keystone state. Johnstown is 273 miles from Philadelphia and 140 from Washington.

WEARY BONUS VETS STRAGGLE INTO NEW BASE AT JOHNSTOWN

Johnstown, Pa., July 29.—(AP)—Down the winding valley where the great flood spent its fury in '89, ragged, weary remnants of the bonus expeditionary forces are straggling into Johnstown tonight for "further orders."

Tieless and in shirt sleeves, Capt. Doak A. Carter, chief of staff, and R. B. Ellison, national contact officer of the veterans, and their aids whipped preliminaries into shape in the office of Eddie McCloskey, red-headed prize fighter mayor.

The scattering, tattered veterans who fled yesterday before regular army troops in Washington somehow caught the word to "move to Johnstown."

They came in groups tonight; none of their leaders would venture how many already are here, or are camped in the hills.

"There will be hundreds here tomorrow," they agreed.

The disorder in Washington barely had faded when McCloskey and Carter engaged in a long distance conversation. McCloskey invited the leaders to Johnstown. They accepted.

Tentative plans, they said, are to set up offices in the city, revamp the expedition, send as many of the men back home as possible, and then reorganize a new march on Washington.

WATERS TO FORM FASCIST GROUP OF 'KHAKI SHIRTS'

'Take Rule from Moneyed Powers,' He Urges.

Washington, D. C., July 29.—[Special.]—Walter W. Waters, nominal commander of the bonus expeditionary force, declared today that he is laying plans for the organization of a "khaki shirt" Fascist movement among the masses of the nation "to take the United States government away from the moneyed powers."

"In a "morning after" statement condemning the administration for calling military forces to evacuate the bonus marchers from the city, Waters declared:

"I am calling upon every American citizen of voting age, whether man or woman, to join hands now with the bonus expeditionary force to clean out the high places in government to keep them clean."

Men Discard His Leadership.

Waters' leadership was repudiated by his men yesterday and his sudden failure to control them at a critical moment precipitated the day of terrorism, and forced the federal government to call for troops to maintain order.

Leaders of the bonus force, he said, have been working toward the "khaki shirt" movement for some time. "But the tragic affair of yesterday," he said, "precipitated by a national administration whose security was threatened because of the dogged lawful resistance of a force of loyal Americans calls for immediate enlistment of all citizens who have the welfare of true American government at heart."

Urges Ballot as Weapon.

"The people have been betrayed by the servant of Wall street who sits in the White House," Waters stated. "He and his henchmen will continue to betray the people unless the people rise in their own defense and with the weapon given them by law—the ballot—turn out all whose interests are not the interests of the masses.

"The khaki shirt will be our symbol and every supporter, friend and member is asked to wear such shirts that our strength may be known by all who see."

Rumors that Waters had been planning to organize the unemployed of the country, which were widely circulated after a conference between the bonus leader and Representative F. H. La Guardia [Rad. Rep., N. Y.], have been consistently denied at bonus headquarters.

VETERAN LEADER PRAISES HOOVER FOR BONUS STAND

Portsmouth, N. H., July 29.—(AP)—Porter Adams, chairman of the newly organized Veterans' Loyalty league, tonight said he had sent a telegram to President Hoover congratulating him on his "courageous action" in connection with the bonus trouble in Washington.

Adams, a world war veteran and a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve, made public the following telegram:

"Both personally and as chairman of the Veterans' Loyalty league, now organized with the support and membership of veterans all over the country for the purpose of supporting the government, conserving public funds and combatting selfish interests, may I congratulate you on your courageous action in meeting a grave national peril and assure you that you have the whole hearted support of thousands of veterans who still stand for the best interests of the whole country and who are proud to support you as their commander in chief."

MILITARY RITES FOR CHICAGO VET SLAIN IN CAPITAL

William Hushka, 2316 West 23d place, war veteran who was killed by the police in Washington on Thursday, will be given a military funeral in Chicago, according to an announcement yesterday by Frank Bracciavanti, 845 Milton avenue, of the Adjust-the-Bonus league. Final arrangements are to be made when the body arrives from the east. Congressman A. J. Sabath, in whose district Hushka lived, said last night that he would demand a congressional inquiry into the death of the veteran. James P. Ringley, senior vice commander of the state department of the American Legion, reported he had heard nothing concerning Legion participation in the Hushka funeral.

PRINCE OF WALES TELLS HOW TO BEAT DEPRESSION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 29.—The prince of Wales won fresh recognition as a great traveling salesman at the concluding session of the international congress of commercial education today. Charles Boissevain, Dutch president, introduced him as "the first commercial ambassador of the world." The prince declared the depression is due to the maladjustment of the distribution of world products and its capacity for consumption.

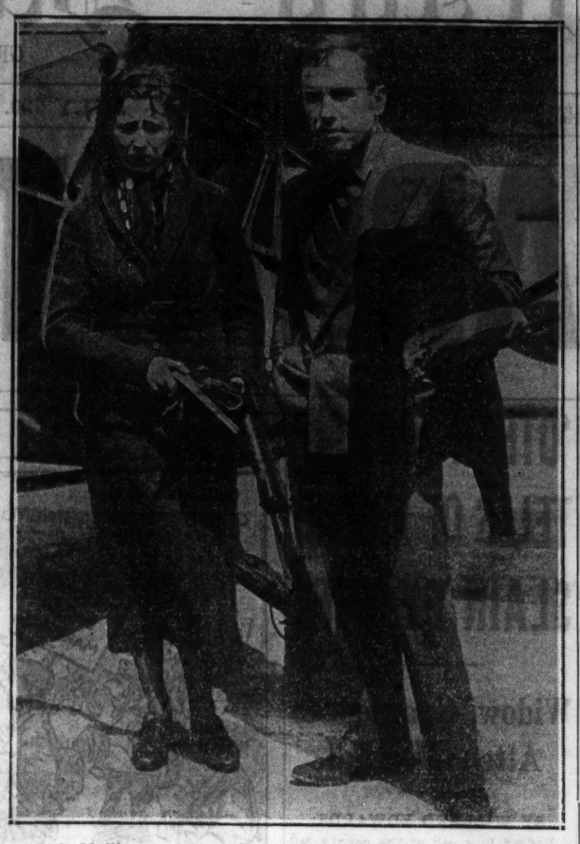

"The potential output by existing means of production is greater than ever before," he said. "If employable labor is employed for a reasonable number of hours per week the world will have at its disposal a volume of commodities and services that will enable the entire population to live at a higher level of comfort and well being than has ever been contemplated in the rosiest dreams of the social reformer.

"The urgent task of the world is to bring consumption and production into a proper relationship; it is not a simple, but a quite possible task."

DUKE, PAID OFF IN PAPER MARKS, GETS LAND BACK

German Decision Strips Thuringia's Deal.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 29.—Duke Ernst of Saxe-Altenburg, erstwhile ruler of the small state of that name in Thuringia and for seven years nearly bankrupt, now has a German federal court decision in his favor ordering the state of Thuringia to refund between 7 and 8 million dollars or return his estates to him.

Part of the estates has been sold, others are security for a state loan—all of which means that the dethroned Saxe-Altenburgs are affluent and the finances of Thuringia are in distress.

In 1919, just after the revolution, republicans in Thuringia drew a contract to pay the ducal house an installment of $1,150,000 in paper marks on the valuable estate which according to previous law might neither be broken up nor pass from the family.

Case Drags Five Years.

Then came the inflation; paper marks were worthless. The duke sued Thuringia in 1924 and the case dragged five years before it reached the "final stages." A lower court decided for the duke, and the federal court now has rejected Thuringia's appeal.

Already political opponents of the Hitler movement have seized on the case for use as propaganda. Once during the proceedings the ducal family, being hard up, would have settled out of court for a $24,000 annuity and released its claims. Opposition of the Hitlerites, who dominated Thuringia, prevented the settlement which would have cost only a fraction of what must be refunded now.

Unfriendly to Hitlerites.

The duke of Saxe-Altenburg in prewar days was known as the "red duke" because he did not share the feudal, reactionary attitudes of his fellow artistocrats. His retiring nature even now distinguishes him from nobles of his rank and background. He lives simply on his estates, pursues scientific studies, and is friendly neither to Hitlerites nor monarchistic nationalists.

This unfriendliness caused Hitlerites in the Thuringian diet to defeat the annuity compromise. The outcome, a triumph for the duke, delivers a knockout blow to Thuringian finances, which were already weak.

Autoist on Mercy Errand Is Robbed by Hitch Hiker

Kankakee, Ill., July 29.—[Special.]—A bandit hitch hiker put a disappointing finish today to the mission of mercy of George Sandberg, a merchant of Morocco, Ind. Sandberg drove a townsman, a disabled war veteran, to the Hines hospital near Chicago, and then started homeward. At Andres, in Will county, he picked up a signaling hitch hiker, a youth of 20 years. Five miles north of here, in U. S. route 45, the hitch hiker drew a pistol and robbed Sandberg of $40 and his automobile.

Plans Ocean Flight

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 29.—Miss Amy Johnson and J. A. Mollison, two of England's most famous long distance flyers, were married in St. George's church today—a week before the bridegroom plans to take off on a round trip Atlantic flight.

The bridal couple was nearly mobbed. A heavy police cordon formed around the church, but the line was broken by cheering women when Miss Johnson arrived with her attendant, Countess Drogheda, also a noted aviatrix. Col. F. C. Shelmerdine, director of civil aviation, was the best man. The crowd cheered as the couple left the church.

The aviator and his bride will go to Scotland, but will return to London next week to enable Mollison to complete arrangements for a three day flight from Ireland to New York and return. Before they were married Miss Johnson said she wanted to go along, but since then they have not announced whether they will make the flight together.

TRAIN KILLS BOY AS NEIGHBORS RACE TO SAVE HIM

A woman and her 15 year old daughter raced a fast South Shore electric train last night in an effort to save William Martin, 4 years old, of 9124 Dauphin avenue. They lost and the boy was killed.

William was playing on the right of way back of his home with a chum, Walter Kane, also 4 years old, when the train appeared from the north. Walter saw it approaching and ran for safety.

Not far away, Mrs. Vera Sheppard and her daughter, Lorraine, sitting in back of their home at 9054 Dauphin avenue, also saw the train. They saw William still on the tracks, oblivious to his danger. Mrs. Sheppard and Lorraine hurried toward him, crying warnings. Just as they reached the right of way near him the train struck the boy.

TEACHERS' PAY DAY POSTPONED; NO DATE IS SET

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

School teachers and employes will not be paid a half month's salary totaling $2,245,000—which Mayor Cermak had promised would be distributed yesterday—before the council meeting next Thursday, when the school tax levy ordinance becomes effective. Nor is it certain they will be paid then. Every indication yesterday pointed to the probability that the school pay day will be further, if not indefinitely, postponed.

Meanwhile, employes of the city began to receive $1,900,000 yesterday as their compensation for the first half of May. All will be paid by Monday night. The city has credit, and funds for the pay roll were borrowed yesterday from loop banks.

Sanitary District Pay Roll.

The sanitary district also has credit. Ross A. Woodhull, chairman of its finance committee, borrowed $248,675 yesterday. This will be distributed to the 980 employes of the district next Tuesday or Wednesday, for the period between April 15 and May 15.

The only prospect that the school board has at present to borrow enough money for a pay roll is from the city's aggregate of funds. Deputy Controller Victor S. Petterson, who is in charge of the office while Controller M. S. Szymczak is in the east trying to sell tax anticipation warrants, issued a statement yesterday indicating that he will not assume the responsibility of lending to the school board unless he gets legal advice sanctioning it.

Awaits Council Action.

In no event, he said, would he lend the money until the school board is legally empowered to issue tax anticipation warrants by the council action scheduled for Thursday.

Mr. Petterson said the city has no free funds to invest and has invested more than it should already. "The city," he said, "has exceeded the reasonable and legal limitations of investments in our aggregate of funds to the extent of approximately $17,500,000."

Last winter the city invested $3,970,455 in 1932 school board tax anticipation warrants before the board could properly issue those warrants, because the tax levy of the board had not been passed at the time. It has been referred to in formal statements of city officials as "an overdraft." The money was paid out to school teachers and employés on a security which city officials did not recognize as binding.

For another loan of $3,400,000 to the schools, to pay teachers' salaries before April, the city accepted 1931 tax anticipation warrants. By order of the city council these warrants are to be returned to the school board and 1932 warrants substituted.

TEACHERS MEET MONDAY TO MAP ACTION ON PAY

Members of the joint boards of the teachers' unions will meet at 10 o'clock Monday morning at 506 South Wabash avenue, Miss Agnes B. Clohesy, president of the Elementary Teachers' union, announced last night. She is chairman of the joint board.

Thurlow G. Essington, attorney for the federations, is expected to address the board, and to give an opinion as to the effect of the Illinois Supreme court's ruling this week upholding the law providing that teachers may be paid by the school board in "N. S. F." checks. Miss Clohesy said that if Mr. Essington urges repeal of the law applying to such checks, action will be started in Springfield in line with his advice.

MILWAUKEE MOVES TO RECEIVE A SHARE OF U. S. RELIEF FUNDS

Milwaukee, Wis., July 29.—[Special.]—A meeting to set in motion activity for claiming a share of the $2,000,000,000 of the Reconstruction Finance corporation fund for increase in employment in Milwaukee was held at the Association of Commerce today. The business stimulation committee and the executive committees met in joint session with Morton R. Hunter presiding, and Harry B. Hall, president, attending. A second meeting to consider a definite program will be held next week.

The third section of the Reconstruction Finance act provides the largest appropriations for self-liquidating construction projects and public works and it is to work of this kind that the committee will give its sole attention. Appropriations for direct relief and for federal highway development will not be considered. John L. Barchard, president of Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce, and E. L. Krueger, secretary, attended the meeting.

The committee, made up of industrial, professional, commercial and civic leaders, purposes to review all projects submitted to the association for trade recovery, study their relation to unemployment, pass upon their self-liquidating possibilities, and investigate as to their necessity, Mr. Hunter said. No specific projects were mentioned today.

CONCERTED PUSH TO AID RELIEF IS HOOVER PLAN

Announces His Nine Point Program.

Washington, D. C., July 29.—(AP)—Plans for a concerted push toward national economic rehabilitation were outlined in a nine point program today by President Hoover.

He enumerated plans to replace slum districts, stimulate programs for railway replacement and repair, broaden live stock and feeder loans, expand credit facilities, and speed up the movement of agricultural commodities.

When these variegated efforts are further advanced, the President said, the "business and industrial" committees composed of prominent men in each of the twelve federal reserve districts will be called into conference "with a view to establishing united and concerted action on a broad front throughout the country."

Text of Statement.

"Some erroneous speculation has taken place with regard to conferences which have been held during the past two weeks in respect to organizing concerted action along the front of economic recovery.

"Such conferences have been held by myself, the secretaries of the treasury and of commerce, the heads of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, federal reserve board, and other government officials, together with representative groups in the country. The activities comprise:

"1. The organization of the new powers granted the Reconstruction Finance corporation in respect to self-liquidating works, for which one billion 500 million dollars is available, is being coördinated with other government agencies.

Seek Expeditious Action.

"An engineer of standing will be delegated by the army engineer corps as chairman of the board of outstanding engineers to advise the corporation in respect to these works with a view to the most expeditious action in stimulating employment by starting of the work and the placing of orders for material.

"2. Stimulation of a movement for slum clearance and replacement under the reconstruction act is being given immediate examination with a view to early expansion of employment through such programs of modernization.

"3. In order to effectively make adequate provision for live stock and feeder loans, I have requested Commissioner Bestor of the farm loan board, which has administration of the intermediate credit banks, the secretary of agriculture, who has some special powers from congress, and the federal farm board, which has already entered largely into this field, to place themselves at the disposal of the Reconstruction corporation so as to develop a coördinated program to solve these and other agricultural questions under the leadership of the corporation.

Aid Orderly Marketing.

"4. The Reconstruction corporation is devoting particular attention under its new powers to the possibilities of financing the movement of agricultural commodities into consumption with a view to stimulating demands through restoration of orderly marketing. We are discussing the possible supplementing of such efforts by private agencies.

"5. We have also taken up the subject of organized coördination of the wider expansion of credit facilities to business and industry through business, the banks and the federal reserve banks, particularly for the purpose of supplying full credit for production where consumption of goods is assured and thus materially expand employment which has been hampered by dislocation of the credit machinery.

"6. Preliminary conferences have taken place with some of the railway leaders with a view to their developing programs for increased repair and maintenance in coöperation with the agencies of the government for the purpose of expanding railway employment and for expansion in orders for railway supplies and equipment, which would also be immediately reflected in increased employment in the supply and steel industries.

Assisting Home Owners.

"7. I am proceeding as rapidly as possible with the selection of the directors of the home loan bank board. I have already under discussion methods of coöperation of this institution with the Reconstruction corporation and other agencies of the government to secure the fullest effect in assistance to home owners under mortgage duress and expansion of home building in localities where there is a present shortage.

"8. I have under discussion with various agencies the question of a movement to further spread existing employment through reduction of work hours.

"9. Other avenues of coöperation between the government in aid to private and public agencies are under preliminary consideration.

"When this program is more fully developed I shall confer with the business and industrial committees created in each federal reserve district and other groups in the country that are primarily interested with a view to establishing united and concerted action on a broad front throughout the country."

Lawyer Obtains Picture of Snow White Robin

Attorney Emil C. Wetten, who reported last Sunday that he had discovered a snow white robin on his farm near Barrington, has succeeded in getting a picture of it. During the week Miss Lillian Reed, 2850 Christiana avenue, informed Mr. Wetten of her belief that the bird is the same white robin which was hatched earlier in the summer at her cottage on Loon lake, near Antioch. Prof. Sewall Wright of the department of zoology, University of Chicago, said yesterday that albino robins are rare.

FARLEY CONFERS WITH ROOSEVELT ABOUT CAMPAIGN

Governor Uses Porch for Council.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Albany, N. Y., July 29.—[Special.]—Gov. Roosevelt and his political impresario, James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, held a long conference tonight on the front porch of the governor's mansion.

JAMES A. FARLEY.

They talked of plans for capturing Republican state strongholds for Roosevelt in the presidential campaign, and they talked until the shadows had fallen and the glow of the governor's cigarets and Jim Farley's cigar were all that showed through the darkness.

Favorite Conference Spot.

The wide veranda of the governor's mansion would seem to an observer of these last few days to be Roosevelt's favorite conference spot, at least so far as his presence in Albany is concerned. It bids fair to become more and more a meeting place where the candidate will greet the great minds of Democracy and nation who come to tell the governor of hopes and plans and ideas, and to receive his orders, appreciation and encouragement.

Watching the governor, as in his characteristically spirited manner he converses with his guests, a philosopher might compare him with other distinguished men who sat under the eaves of this rambling, red brick mansion—with Grover Cleveland and Theodore Roosevelt, his kinsman, both of whom were governors of New York before being rewarded with the presidency of the nation.

Other Governors Recalled.

One thinks of two other men who also ruled the mansion, the dignified Charles Evans Hughes and the forthright Al Smith, who sought the presidency as Gov. Roosevelt seeks it, but who were not to be chosen.

Economists, labor leaders, agriculturists, politicians—these will continue to sit out on the historic old front porch with Franklin Roosevelt during the next three months and then the philosopher's thoughts will have been answered.

After the conference with the governor, Mr. Farley hastened to catch a night train back to New York, but he dropped a few cheerful words to newspaper men.

"I have talked over with the governor what has been done in the organization of headquarters," he said. "We made tentative plans for his campaign tour, the selection of a treasurer and a general campaign policy.

Sees Growing Sentiment.

"I have told the governor that my conferences in Washington and the reports brought to headquarters indicate that sentiment for him is growing in all sections. We are not making any predictions this early in the game, but we do say that there is not a state in the Union that we concede to the Republican candidates."

Farley refused to tell what names were mentioned by himself and the governor in discussing appointments to the campaign committee, but he said he expected several important appointments would be made within a few days.

He was accompanied on his flying trip by Louis Howe, the governor's political secretary, Edward J. Flynn, Roosevelt's secretary of state, also attended tonight's confab.

Columbus May Hear First.

It seems definitely established that Roosevelt will make his first public address—other than his radio speeches, the first of which he makes tomorrow night—at Columbus, O., before a meeting of the Ohio Democratic convention on Aug. 20. A week later he will enter another Republican stronghold, New Jersey, talking on Aug. 27 at Seagirt. Gov. Roosevelt hopes to take both these states, which went for Hoover in 1928, into his own camp.

The governor spent most of today in preparing his speech on the Democratic platform, which will be delivered over a nation-wide broadcast system at 9 o'clock eastern daylight saving time tomorrow night.

TWO NAVY FLYERS MISSING IN ANOTHER SAN DIEGO ACCIDENT

San Diego, Cal., July 29—(AP)—Two navy flyers were missing and three were rescued after a navy flying boat crashed at sea twenty miles north of Del Mar today. The missing are Lieut. Dick R. Downer, pilot, and John F. Hogan, aviation pilot, second class.

Lieut. Paul B. Tuze, flying another ship of the same squadron, alighted and rescued others in the plane. They were John P. McDonald, aviation machinist's mate, first class; Howard F. Mears, aviation pilot, first class, and Claude A. Manley, radioman, second class.

The cause of the accident was not ascertained.

It was the second to occur in this area within 24 hours to the fleet of flying boats sent here this year from Panama. Two men were killed yesterday and four were injured when a patrol plane struck the coast guard cutter Tamaroa while taking off.

Downer, 27, was reported to be a native of Davenport, Ia.

PUBLIC HEARING IS FORECAST ON WALKER CHARGES

Roosevelt Silent as He Studies Reply.

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—While Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt plunged in earnest today into the voluminous reply of James J. Walker to the removal charges brought by Samuel Seabury the belief grew in informed quarters here and at Albany that the next move will be the fixing of a date for a public hearing.

Associates of the governor held the view that, despite the 27,000 words of explanation presented by Mr. Walker the governor will require more information before taking action. This was interpreted as meaning that the charges in all probability will not be dismissed without a hearing.

To that extent opinions were that the mayor will be deprived of what might be termed an exoneration on his own statements. At the same time no one close to the governor would venture to predict the ultimate decision regarding Mr. Walker, and Mr. Roosevelt himself refused all information.

Study of the answer by those in political circles showed that it did not as a whole deny the charges by Mr. Seabury concerning the mayor's conduct. Instead it challenged the inferences drawn by Mr. Seabury and attempted to set up contrary inferences drawn by Mr. Walker.

HOLD UP 2 MEN AND 3 GIRLS IN COMPANY OFFICE

Four gunmen late yesterday afternoon entered the office of the J. W. Johnson company, awning manufacturers at 1237 Macedonia street, and, after terrorizing a member of the company and four employés, escaped with $1,139 and four watches.

A. W. Johnson, a partner in the concern, and George Wittmer, 3035 North Keeler avenue, cashier, were making up a pay roll when the bandits arrived. They were compelled to stand with upraised hands, as were three girls, Miss Emma Heusman, 3634 South Sacramento avenue; Miss Anna Winn, 4620 Addison street, and Miss Ann Schiff, 1608 South Homan avenue.

After taking the money from Wittmer and Johnson and the watches from Johnson and the three young women the robbers left with a warning that any one trying to follow them would be killed. They drove away in an automobile.

Kinsman of Durkin Freed After Werner Murder Quiz

George Downs, brother-in-law of Marty Durkin, surrendered yesterday for questioning concerning the machine gun murder of Jack Werner, elevator starter in the Criminal courts building. He was released after he said he was riding with his wife last Friday night, when Werner was killed. "I didn't even know who Werner was," he told Prosecutor Charles Lounsbury. Downs was sought because police believed Werner had furnished information which led to the capture and conviction of Durkin for the murder of an agent of the department of justice.

REPEAL DEMAND SWEEPING U. S., SAYS BULKLEY

Full of optimism over the Democratic party prospects and the outlook for ultimate repeal of the eighteenth amendment, Senator Robert J. Bulkley of Ohio came to Chicago yesterday to study economic problems. He will spend several days here, the guest of Attorney Herbert J. Friedman, president of the Municipal Voters' league.

"The Democrats will carry Ohio this year and the national ticket will sweep the country," said Senator Bulkley. "Prohibition will be the paramount issue from the standpoint of the voters, but economic questions will be stressed by the campaign speakers.

"Beer Is Not Just Around Corner."

"The eighteenth amendment is doomed, but the people should not be told that beer is just around the corner. No repeal resolution will be submitted until we elect a new congress, which will not consider the question until a year from next December.

"No one can say how long it will take to obtain ratification: it may take several years. Meanwhile I believe congress will modify the Volstead act to permit beer, but that, too, must wait until the next congress convenes."

Senator Bulkley, who assisted Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, Michael Igoe of Illinois, and Brook Lee of Maryland in putting over the dripping wet plant at the Democratic convention, said repeal sentiment was sweeping the country, and pointed to the recent 2 to 1 wet vote in Texas as a typical expression of growing discontent.

One of the questions to be studied by the senator while in Chicago is unemployment, which, he said, is far from solved, and should be inquired into further.

Additional Tax Burden.

"I am opposed to public works just to put men to work," he said. "Such work, unless it is useful, is nothing but governmental waste, which creates an additional burden for the taxpayers."

The opening blast of the Republican party's midwestern campaign to reelect President Hoover will be fired by Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa, 1932 convention keynoter, over a national radio hookup at 1:30 p. m. today. Senator Dickinson will address the farmers of the country and will attack the record of the Democrats as it affects agriculture. The Iowa senator is western director of the Republican senatorial committee and is seeking the election of twelve Republican senators from the middle west.

MISSISSIPPI'S SALES TAX LAW RAISES $318,776

Jackson, Miss., July 29.—(AP)—Mississippi's sales tax, created as the corner stone of a revenue program to bolster rapidly shrinking incomes from other state levies, is fast developing into the revenue raiser it was designed to be.

Put in operation May 1 the levy has brought $318,776 into the state treasury.

Originally estimated to yield $166,000 a month, the levy already has exceeded that during the first two months.

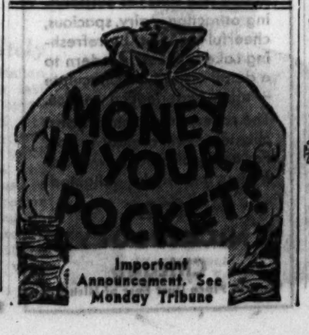

The levy carries a flat 2 per cent rate on merchandise sold by retailers. This provision, reaching about 17,000 merchants, contributes the largest portion of revenue from the tax.

In addition, a 2 per cent levy is imposed on incomes of professional men and the rate graduates down to ¼ of 1 per cent for certain classifications of manufacturers.

2 RESCUERS, 3 BOYS DIE; TRIED TO SEE MOON IN MINE SHAFT

MINTO, N. B., July 29.—(AP)—Three boys who had been told that they could see the moon in broad daylight if they climbed to the bottom of an old mine shaft are dead and two miners lost their lives trying to rescue them.

Clambering down a rickety ladder in an abandoned shaft, the first one down choked as gas overcame him. He lost his hold on the ladder and dropped forty feet into a pool of water at the bottom. Two of the others had started right behind him. They, too, lost consciousness and fell. Six year old Joe O'Leary saw his friends drop and fled terrified, coming back with his father and several other men.

Two of the men started down the ladder. Both succumbed to the gas and fell. Another rescuer was lowered on a rope and stayed down long enough to tie a line about one of the bodies. It was hauled to the surface, but the rescuer also was unconscious when he was lifted out. While a doctor revived him other men went down and by evening all the bodies had been recovered. The dead were: Alwyn Gaudine, 9; Cyril Strack, 13; his brother, Vernon Strack, 10; Vernon Betts, 37, father of five children, and Thomas Gallant, 48, father of nine.

WHEATON MAYOR PRESENTS CHARGE AGAINST RIVAL

William H. Caldwell, mayor of Wheaton, appeared before the Du Page county grand jury there yesterday to present charges against City Commissioner Joseph Sauer, a political opponent.

Mayor Caldwell, Gordon J. MacKenzie, city engineer, and other city employés charged that Sauer, who is an electrical contractor, obtained contracts to furnish supplies to the city while holding office as commissioner. This, it is charged, violates the law and constitutes malfeasance in office.

Mayor Caldwell made similar charges against Sauer some weeks ago before a justice of the peace, but those charges were dismissed because they were barred by the statute of limitations. Sauer is a holdover in the city council, the only survivor of the administration which preceded Mayor Caldwell's.

The mayor has announced that if he is successful in obtaining Mr. Sauer's indictment and conviction he will institute quo warranto proceedings to remove him from office.

James G. Blaine Jr. G. O. P. Committee's Treasurer

Washington, D. C., July 29.—(AP)—Appointment of James G. Blaine Jr. of New York City as treasurer of the Republican senatorial campaign committee was announced today by Senator Hatfield of West Virginia, the chairman. Blaine, son of the late James G. Blaine of Maine, veteran Republican leader of a generation ago, is president of the Marine Midland Trust company of New York.

WORRIED MALES DECLARE WAR ON PEG TOP PANTS

"We Won't Wear 'Em," Answer to Fashion.

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

Belts and suspenders can be depended on to do their duty as of yore—but what they're going to be holding up this fall loomed yesterday as a possible basis for sartorial warfare. Trousers being conceded the major feature of masculine garb, their wearers have been known to resent touchily any suggestion that their contours might be improved by change. It's peg tops that threaten the male world now.

Two salient points about "peg tops" appeared yesterday to stand out in the minds of those who "wore 'em when." They were extremely wide at the upper end, they recalled, so wide that they stood out like riding breeches. And they tapered to a narrow cuff at the ankles, so narrow, in fact, that "you couldn't get them off unless you took off your shoes first."

Philosophy of Style.

So exclamations of alarm echoed among the men yesterday on State street and other loop thoroughfares at the edict of the International Association of Clothing Designers, in convention in New York City. Bulletins from this fashion front, warning of the impending attack on trousers as they are, offended in many quarters the male philosophy of style, which would appear to be that mode is something to be embraced with fervor and to cling to "until death do us part."

It wasn't a concerted howl, however, that greeted the anouncement. It wasn't all derision. Wholehearted acclaim there was none, but a few rather sheepish voices were raised on behalf of the economic, even if not the esthetic, charms of peg top pants. They may not enhance the manly form, admitted these radicals, but at least they should be good for business.

May Help Business

"Personally, I detest 'em," was the comment of George Lytton, himself recognized as a Beau Brummel. "I think they're hideous. But we have been selling trousers twenty inches around the bottom for the last two or more years, and anything that's different and new is good for business. It's possible that they may catch on enthusiastically, especially with the younger generation."

"People don't want them—they're no more likely to come back than hoop skirts," boomed Maurice L. Rothschild, whose ideas count. "They may try to bring 'em back, but they're not coming." Which indicates the drift of conflicting opinion.

"They're already here," blandly announced W. J. Fitzgerald, president of the Chicago Cutters and Designers' association. "For the past few months younger men who are particular about their clothes have been coming in and asking to have their trousers made with wider tops and narrower cuffs. Of course, these are not nearly so exaggerated as when the style first had its heyday. But young fellows like them because they make the coats fit more snugly about the hips, and they like that."

Not as Comfortable

"Will I wear them? I should say not," said Arthur Bissell, one business man who is always well turned out. "I can't just remember what peg tops looked like, but I shouldn't think they'd be as comfortable as those we have today."

"They wouldn't appeal, I believe," laughed Aldis J. Browne, realtor. "Not to many, anyway."

"Please don't quote me," chorused half a dozen others who had indulged in vocal shudders about the resurrected fashion.

WARNS PROPERTY OWNERS TO MEET TAX DEADLINE

County Treasurer McDonough yesterday warned taxpayers that there will be no further extension of the deadline for payment of 1930 taxes under the installment plan beyond next Monday. Late that afternoon the treasurer will go before County Judge Jarecki to obtain a blanket order restraining the sale of all property upon which the owners have agreed to pay taxes on the four payment plan. Yesterday 1,100 taxpayers paid a total of $160,190 as their first installment. On Wednesday and Thursday 1,372 taxpayers paid a total of $271,404. Thus far approximately $4,000,000 has been received in tax installments.

CUBA SPURNS JAP PLEA TO PUT O. K. ON MANCHOUKUO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, July 29.—Secretary of State Orestes Ferrara today announced a new Cuban policy for recognition of new governments and states and at the same time refused the Japanese request to recognize Manchoukuo [Manchuria], but granted recognition to Davila's socialist government in Chile.

Before a new establishment—whether the result of revolution, coup d'état, election, or military invasion—is recognized it must fulfill three general requirements:

1. Formally declare to continue, respect, abide by and enforce all international treaties, pacts and obligations contracted by former constitutional governments. [Cuba regards this as most important.]
2. The new government must be supported by the country's majority expressed through elections or the action instituting the new government.
3. Must first receive recognition from the nations most vitally connected politically, geographically and economically with the new state.

DANZIG CHARGES POLAND IS TRYING TO SMOTHER HER

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DANZIG FREE CITY, July 29.—Danzig is not to blame for Poland's attitude in provoking trouble with the Free City, according to Dr. Johann Ferber, chief councilor of Danzig and the city's representative before the league of nations. Dr. Ferber, who has won many victories for Danzig in her conflict with Poland, claims that Danzig has shown her good will toward Poland on many occasions and will continue loyally to obey the league of nations in her relations with Warsaw.

The root of the trouble between Poland and Danzig, according to Dr. Ferber, is that the Poles want Danzig to become a Polish city, with the Danzigers equally determined to remain Germans. Danzig's independence has been guaranteed by three treaties—the Versailles treaty, the Paris treaty of 1920 and the Warsaw pact of 1921. Under the protection of the league and with a league commissioner living in Danzig, the Free City's government is jealously guarding its freedom until the time comes when it can return to Germany.

[Commercial, industrial and agricultural interests of Danzig Thursday charged that Poland is throttling her trade and that the city is facing economic ruin as a result.]

"We Are Not Politicians."

The leaders of Danzig argue they are not politicians. They point to 700 years of active trading and insist that they are eager to do business with Poland, but that Poland is exerting an economic pressure to force the Polonization of Danzig.

Dr. Ferber said that the Poles began to spread propaganda that Danzig was not a safe city for the Poles to live in a year ago. The Danzig senate thereupon passed a series of ordinances on public safety. One law deprived the 30,000 National Socialists of Danzig of the right to carry arms. All demonstrations and public assemblies were prohibited. All permits to carry guns were canceled.

Fines for carrying weapons were increased to about $600 and prison sentences were provided. Another law gave authorities the power to suppress any organization containing four members who were found with arms.

Danzig's Gesture of Good Faith.

"Danzig wanted to assure the Poles that the Free City was anxious to protect them," Dr. Ferber said. "The laws have had a good effect and since then there have been no attacks upon Poles."

But relations between Danzig and Warsaw failed to improve, and more Poles continued to drift into the city. The number of Polish officials quartered here continued to increase. When the number of Polish railroad officials in Danzig reached 500 the city protested. The case was taken before the league. The league's decision was protested by Poland, but confirmed by the world court. Then Danzig ordered the Poles to leave by Oct. 1.

"The fact that Polish citizens haven't the right to live in Danzig and are considered as a minority is a bitter pill for Warsaw to swallow," Dr. Ferber said. "It has resulted in further retaliations. A boycott was aimed at Danzig and her seaside resort, Zoppot. A year ago 12,800 Poles came to Zoppot to spend their vacations. This year only 450 have appeared."

Danzig's quarrels with the Poles have made the Free City a difficult post for diplomats. Official notes and protests passing between Warsaw and Danzig now average 600 a year and the diplomats, who must follow each step, are kept busy.

Hard Hit Economically.

The league has sent another special committee of experts, consisting of a Hollander, a Hungarian and a Luxemberger, to Danzig to investigate the Polish boycott. Danzig's economic plight, according to Dr. Ferber, is critical. The Free City's population is 407,000, of which 96 per cent are of German origin. There are 116,000 registered workers. Thirty-two thousand are unemployed. Restaurants, movies and stores are empty.

"When the treaty of Versailles was drawn up in Paris, and President Wilson, David Lloyd George and Georges Clemenceau were discussing the amputation of Danzig from Germany and turning her over to Poland, it did not seem to fit in with the principle of self-determination, and so we were given our freedom," said Dr. Ferber. "Nobody in Danzig wanted to be free. We were told that we would return to our boom period of the middle ages and by signing a trade union agreement with Poland we would have perpetual prosperity. We were quickly disillusioned."

(Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.)

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., July 29.—Royal assent was given today to an agreement under which Bernt Balchen, American aviator, will make a trans-Atlantic mail flight. The agreement is between the Newfoundland government and Capt. Alaf Olsen, local shipping agent, and Charles Hunt, representative here of L. S. Clarke of Minneapolis.

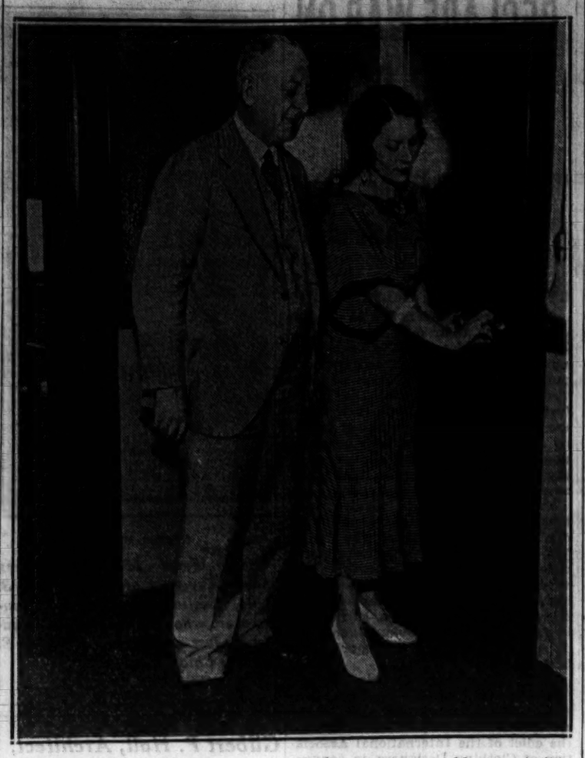

The Newfoundland government hopes to obtain for the treasury $30,000 from the sale of stamps for special air mail.

The flight is to start from Minneapolis early next month, stopping at Montreal en route to Holyroodarm, Newfoundland. From Newfoundland the flight is to continue via the northern route to Bergen, Norway, with a possible return flight if the weather is favorable. Balchen will pilot a flying boat which is understood to have accommodations for twelve.

GERMANY ASKS FOR EQUALITY AMONG NATIONS

Von Papen Denounces Versailles Treaty.

forced to give way to Von Papen, does not share the chancellor's belief that Germany is not on the verge of dictatorship. He spoke before a cheering audience of 20,000 in the Sports palace here tonight and warned the government "not to indulge too much in experiments endangering the constitution and which the German people will not tolerate much longer." The crowd pledged itself to fight for "authoritative democracy against dictatorial experiments."

For the first time in his political career Dr. Bruening, leader of the Catholic Centrist party, was frankly sarcastic. He said that all the constructive measures the Von Papen cabinet is pointing to with pride are virtually plans which he and his cabinet worked out in detail and which were lying on his desk for signature when he left Wilhelmstrasse.

Nazis Make Final Bid.

Hitler's Nazis made a final bid for votes over the government controlled radio tonight. Gregor Strasser, Hitler leader, urged the Germans to vote against the "parties which ever since the revolution have made German workers the slaves of the world at large and the defense troops of Judaism." He sketched the "ideal state" which Hitler seeks to create.

"Give Hitler the power and he will give you work and bread," Strasser cried.

Republicans tonight protested that the state of Oldenburg has enlisted 250 Nazi "storm troopers" in addition to its police force of 300 men to patrol the streets on election day. They also charged that the theft of arms and ammunition from the Cassel police barracks has been carried out by Hitlerites for months. Police traced part of the stolen revolvers and ammunition to a residence today. The owner dropped dead when the officers arrived.

In an effort to cool the political fury of the parties after Sunday's election, President Paul von Hindenburg tonight decreed a ten day post-election truce to enable the parties to sift the returns calmly. All political meetings, whether indoors or out, are prohibited. The armistice becomes effective on Monday.

Mass Police of Berlin.

The entire Berlin police force has been ordered mobilized for 48 hour service beginning at noon tomorrow to insure an orderly election. Parades and all outdoor demonstrations for election day have been banned and the sale of liquor is prohibited.

The order to mobilize was taken after threats that Hitler's Nazis, if disappointed, would start disturbances.

FRENCH FINANCE CHIEF SLATED FOR WASHINGTON POST

PARIS, July 29.—(AP)—Appointment of Louis Germain-Martin as ambassador to the United States during the discussion of war debts which probabaly will take place in the near future is being discussed by government officials, it was reported today in an informed quarter.

The Socialist newspaper, Le Populaire, said Premier Herriot had considered the appointment but that when Germain-Martin was asked about it said he had not requested the post nor had he been approached regarding it. His friends say if the embassy were offered to him he would accept.

Le Populaire said the appointment would be for six months, in line with the procedure followed when Henri Berenger was made ambassador in 1925 when the French debt to the United States was first funded. Germain-Martin is now minister of finance in the Herriot cabinet. The present ambassador at Washington is Paul Claudel.

Mexico Declares Holiday to Boost Home Products

MEXICO CITY, July 29—(AP)—Mexico observed a half holiday today to push a campaign for restricted use of foreign products and greater production and consumption of Mexican made goods.

Return Lunch Money

Three gunmen yesterday entered a suite of offices on the sixth floor of the Reaper building, 105 North Clark street, robbed three lawyers and a woman clerk, and carried off a strong box containing $1,100 and valuable papers.

The strong box was the property of William Handel, a loan and real estate broker, who shares the office suite but was not present during the robbery. The three bandits walked into the office, revolvers drawn, and forced Miss Minna Hacker, 24 years old, 3733 Flournoy street, to hand over an $800 diamond engagement ring.

While one of the bandits guarded Miss Hacker, the other two entered an inner office, where Attorney John W. Tauchen was talking with Attorney John J. Sankstone. Tauchen was forced to surrender $24 and Sankstone $18.

"You'll need something to eat on," one of the bandits said and gave Tauchen $4 and Sankstone $1. Attorney D. W. Elliot, 54 years old, entered from another office and offered the gunmen 25 cents.

"If that's all you've got, you better take this," one of the bandits said, and tossed Elliot a dollar bill. They forced Miss Hacker to open the safe and fled with the strong box.

BERLIN CENSORS ALL POLITICAL TALKS OVER GOVERNMENT'S RADIO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 29.—Gregor Strasser, leader of Adolf Hitler's Fascisti, spoke in behalf of his party, the National Socialists, over the government controlled radio tonight. The Socialists will have a speaker tomorrow night to wind up the "air" campaign which has marked the battle for votes for the new reichstag which will be elected on Sunday.

Strasser's address was delivered, like all others, under the strict supervision of the government, which in recent years had evolved strict regulations which violate practically all the principles of free speech. Under the regulations enforced by the postmaster general, political speeches must be prepared on a basis of 25 minutes' delivery time. They must be submitted in advance to censors, who are connected with the ministery of the interior and who may delete any portions objectionable to the government or force the speaker to tone down his words. A censor uses a copy of the approved speech to check on the man before the microphone and shuts him off if he deviates from the text. The government also reserves the right to bar any speaker or program.

During the presidential campaign, President von Hindenburg was permitted to use the radio but the Bruening governor, then in power, barred Hitler who was also seeking the presidency. While the Von Papen government has increased government control of the radio in the present campaign, it has permitted all the political parties, except the communists, to have one night apiece on the air. The programs were arranged in reverse order relative to the strength of the parties in the reichstag. Thus the Socialists, who had the largest representation in the last reichstag, get the final blast tomorrow night.

The Von Papen government has also ruled that all of Germany's nine broadcasting stations, in which the government holds 51 per cent of the stock, must be ready to broadcast its speeches every evening between 6:30 and 7 o'clock.

Offers Aid in Prosecution of Two on Murder Charge

William B. Livingston, 164 West Grand avenue, yesterday went to the state's attorney's office and volunteered to aid in the prosecution of Lawrence Albertson, 916 Oakwood boulevard, and Clare Lyngen, who are held by Will county officials and charged with the murder of George Sanders, 55 years old, 538 North Dearborn street. The body of Sanders, who had been shot to death, was found in the Illinois-Michigan canal at Channahon, twelve miles from Joliet, on Sunday. Lyngen and Albertson have confessed they took part in Sanders' murder in an effort to get his money after he had agreed to buy Albertson's speakeasy. According to Livingston, Sanders was a quiet, studious person.

WALES SEEKS U.S. AS COAL ALLY IN DRIVE ON RUSSIA

Ready to Share Market in Canada.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., July 29.—The British imperial conference may result in some sort of an agreement between anthracite producers of the United States and Wales to share the Canadian market and shut out the Russians, who are now exporting first class anthracite in large quantities at prices with which neither American nor Welsh producers can compete.

Sir Alfred W. Cope, director of Amalgamated Anthracite Collieries, Ltd., of Wales, arrived here last night to see what could be done to protect the coal trade of both countries from Russian dumping. His firm has been selling about one million tons of Welsh anthracite to Canada. He said he hopes to increase this quantity under the proposed preferential tariff rates to about a million and a half tons, but added that there is sufficient trade in Canada for both Wales and America, providing the "Russian menace" is adequately dealt with.

Canada Bars Soviet Coal.

Russian coal is now barred from Canada, but is being dumped in the United States. If this dumping assumes large proportions, it may force the American producers to undersell Welsh coal in an effort to get rid of their surplus coal in Canada. Such a war must be avoided, Sir Alfred believes. He has been in Washington discussing the situation.

The United States recently put a tariff of $2.24 a ton on foreign coal. It was aimed at Russia, but hit Wales as well. This was the tax referred to by J. H. Thomas, British secretary for dominions, a few days ago and over which Britain is now negotiating with the United States. In spite of this tax and a $4 a ton freight charge on top of a 200 mile train haul from the Donetz basin, where the coal is produced, to the port of Mariopol, where it is shipped, the Russians are offering their coal in the United States at $9 a ton. Coal men insist this means that they are getting practically nothing for the fuel.

Canada's reply to America's recently imposed prohibitive duties against Canadian copper is a demand on the United Kingdom for a prohibitive duty against American copper. Canada, South Africa, and southern Rhodesia emerged from their copper conferences today with this proposal to submit to the mother country. Their specific request is a duty of $60 a ton against all non-British copper.

Hear Pleas on Currency.

The committee on monetary and financial questions today heard the pleas of Australia and New Zealand to restore their depreciated currency, which, they charge, makes it difficult for them to import or to finance their foreign debts. This committee is being pressed to produce some plan to raise and stabilize commodity prices. The dominions are hard hit by the fall in prices. Their large overseas debts must be paid in goods and with the prices about half of what they were last year, the actual sums required to pay interest and sinking funds have been doubled.

An American trade source has revealed that the newly concluded trade treaty between South Africa and Canada may effect American trade in automobiles, farm implements, electric equipment and lumber. In 1930 Canada sold 10 million dollars worth of these goods to South Africa and in return only bought 2 million dollars worth of South African products. In the same year America sold 45 million dollars worth and purchased six millions. Some of this American trade may be transferred to Canada under the new treaty, but it is pointed out that it constitutes many articles now manufactured in American factories in Canada so that, while Canadian labor may benefit, the profits, if any, will still be American.

Although no country of the empire has laid its cards on the table, it is now possible to visualize what some of them want. Canada's demand apparently is a British tariff of 4 or 5 cents a bushel on wheat, from 3 to 6 cents a pound on meat, a tax and a quota arrangement on dairy products, preferences on lumber, copper, fish, fruit, wine, and other articles.

Wants Tariffs Lowered.

Where foreign goods are taxed, Canada wants hers on the free list. Britain is demanding in return for these concessions a general lowering of tariff rates with substantial preferences for British steel and iron, automobiles, textiles, boots and shoes, and electrical machinery.

Premier R. B. Bennett's list of 8,000 articles not made in Canada and on which he is willing to promise preference for Britain has now been received by the British and is being treated with ribaldry. Many articles mentioned in it are not made in England. Many of them are not imported at all, and their value is not large enough to encourage Britain to begin manufacturing for the Canadian market.

BELGIUM PLANS MODERN FORTS FOR EAST FRONT

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

BRUSSELS, July 29.—Ultra-modern fortifications on Belgium's eastern frontier, patterned after the strong fortifications France has built up since the war, are projected in the program outlined today by the minister of national defense in a newspaper interview.

"In case of an invasion on the right band, the Meuse river will be defended to the extreme limit of our strength," the minister declared. The first line of defense will consist of a chain of concrete dugouts along the frontier, where first the German Uhlans passed through. Behind the outer ring of dugouts will be a second line of defense consisting of a system of the latest improved types of concealed sunken batteries.

It is planned to place three strong forts at Ebenemael, Battich, and Depinster, which will be of the same type France has adopted for the defense of the Rhine at Longyon. For defense of the Meuse, Belgium plans to build a chain of nine forts around Liege and seven more at Namur.

FARMERS DEMAND IRISH-BRITISH TRADE WAR END

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, July 29.—Free State farmers are becoming rebellious against the government's policy which has resulted in British duties on Irish produce. They decided today to hold a protest meeting in Dublin to demand settlement of the dispute and cessation of the economic war.

President Eamon de Valera in a speech last night indicated that his five years' plan has been upset somewhat by the British-Irish row, but he declared that he will achieve in one year what was originally intended to occupy five. This means intensification of the work of setting up a completely new economic system with markets both for selling and buying outside of Britain. The reply of the British government to this scheme, some say, may be to increase the duties on Irish goods which at present are not yielding sufficient revenue to recoup her for loss of land annuities.

A split in the Labor party on the policy of supporting the government developed at the trade union congress at Cork. Senator O'Farrell said the Cosgrave party, if in power, would save the railways, which are now jeopardized. Deputy William Norton, Labor leader, resented this, declaring that labor will not be made a stick to beat the De Valera party. A definite split of the Laborites would make De Valera's position impossible.

POUR BEER INTO SEWER; REMOVE BAR FIXTURES

Milwaukee, Wis., July 29.—[Special.]—Federal prohibition agents and furniture movers worked together late today. On instruction of the agents, the movers took all the furniture and fixtures from the saloon of Paul Staub, 1614 North 27th street. Agents said they found liquor and also beer. They poured it into a sewer in the basement. The moving vans attracted a large crowd of spectators. Staub was arrested and will have a bail bond hearing tomorrow morning before Floyd Jenkins, Federal court commissioner.

FRANCE AND U. S. AGREE TO KEEP UP DISARMING TALKS

Herriot Host to Yankee Delegates at Lunch.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 29.—Another one of those confidential ententes, this time linking the United States, France and Great Britain was cemented today on the eve of the return home of America's disarmament delegation.

In an official communique released by the American embassy here following the conference at Qua d'Orsay between Premier Edouard Herriot and Norman Davis, a U. S. delegate, during which the accord was clinched, it was described as a "tacit understanding that the collaboration in the field of disarmament between the British, French and American delegations which was practiced in the final period at Geneva should continue."

Talks With Herriot for Hour.

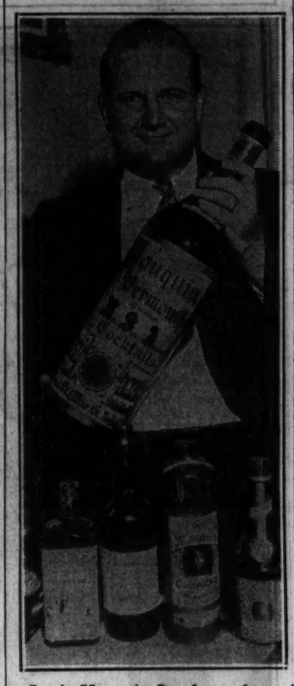

Davis' talk with Herriot lasted over an hour. He was accompanied by Robert Pell, public relations officer of the delegation.

Following the conference a state luncheon was held at Quai d'Orsay in honor of the Americans. Guests on the American side included Davis, Senator Claude A. Swanson, Assistant Secretary of State Harvey Bundy who came to France with Ambassador Walter E. Edge, Counsellor Norman Armour and Pell.

Doubt French Committed Themselves.

Although both the French and Americans seemed optimistic regarding some compromise on the Hoover plan to reduce military effectives through continued negotiations between the three big powers, it is not believed that any definite commitments were obtained from the French. In soundly informed quarters, it is believed that the American embassy's communique merely means that the French, British and Americans, who accidentally were forced into the same position last week at Geneva, concluded the present diplomatic lineup for the preservation of their more or less united front on disarmament.

W. VA. PAYS 13 OF GOVERNOR'S KIN $38,224 YEARLY,

Charleston, W. Va., July 29.—[Special.]—As an example of nepotism, which the state legislature is investigating in special session to reduce governmental costs and to balance the state's depleted budget, Delegate Rush D. Holt of Lewis county today asked the house of delegates to place into the record by unanimous consent a "certain family affair."

"Let's see what it is first," he was asked. The clerk read it, as follows:

"Gov. William G. Conley's salary, $10,000; son-in-law, governor's private secretary, $5,000; wife's cousin, adjutant general, $4,000; wife's cousin, commissioner of school lands, no stated amount; wife's sister as wife's secretary, $1,200; wife's brother, president of New River State college, $4,749; wife's brother's son, New River State college, $2,628; wife's brother's son's wife, New River State college, $801; wife's son's wife's father, New River State college, $3,585; wife's brother's son's wife's mother, New River State college, $2,625; nephew, student professor and laborer, $654; son, member of law firm working for state, no stated amount; grandnephew, state road commission, $3,000; total for 13 relations of Gov. Conley on state pay roll, $38,224 annually."

There were no objections and Speaker J. Alfred Taylor ordered the "family list" printed.

Independent Driver Tells of Arrest.

The story of an independent taxicab driver, who, equipped with all necessary licenses and bonded in accordance with the laws of Illinois, could not get a cab stand license, was related yesterday to Ald. Thomas J. O'Grady [14th], who took a leading part in the repeal of the cab monopoly ordinance. This ordinance was adopted by the council on Sept. 5, 1929, in an omnibus measure, but did not appear in the city code until April of this year. Apparently it was hidden purposely.

The law, which limited the number of cabs in Chicago to 5,283, the number in operation in 1929, was repealed on Thursday of this week by a vote of 40 to 6, on motion of Ald. Oscar F. Nelson [46th]. Bitter debate preceded the vote, but the arguments of O'Grady and Nelson prevailed and the motion was carried. Independent cab drivers will be allowed to operate after the council meeting next week, when the repealer becomes a law.

Independent Driver's Story.

One of the independent drivers who has worked unsuccessfully for months to obtain a stand license is George Hughes, 4111 North Menard avenue, who has operated a cab since 1913, except while serving in the army during the war, and who is a son of an old time horse cab driver, Archibald Hughes. The opposition of the Yellow Cab company is blamed by Hughes for his ill-luck. The Yellow Cab company was said to be actively favorable to the mysterious ordinance just now repealed.

George said he served 15 months overseas, much of the time as a chauffeur for general officers. After the war, Hughes worked eleven years as a driver for the Checker Taxi company of Chicago but left its employ last spring, he told Ald. O'Grady, and tried to run his own cab as an independent.

On April 14, he said, Lieut. James Killackey of the vehicle bureau refused to give him a stand license. Attorney Lee Daniels, who accompanied him, reminded Lieut. Killackey that the cab monopoly law passed in 1929 had not been included in the city code —an oversight, it is said now. This did not change Killackey's ruling. It was that same afternoon that the city council repassed the monopoly ordinance to correct the code "oversight."

Form Livery Service.

A few months later Hughes and six other cab drivers formed the Independent Taxi Service, with headquarters in a garage at 748 Aldine avenue, got permission from Killackey to operate as an auto livery; that is, answer telephone calls for cabs but refuse fares offered them upon the streets.

On July 11, Hughes said, he was called to the John B. Murphy hospital, and arriving there found Policeman William McEvoy of the vehicle bureau who arrested him on a charge of operating a cab without a stand license. He was fined $10 by Judge Theodore Ehler. Daniels said that Ben Samuels, vice president of the Yellow Cab company, assisted in the prosecution.

McEvoy was one of the policemen listed as stockholders in the Lake Shore Mutual Insurance company, which, according to Daniels, writes bonds for drivers of the Checker Taxi company. Commissioner of Police Allman began an investigation of this charge yesterday.

QUICK MANEUVER HALTS WOMAN'S JOURNEY TO JAIL

Some rapid fire work by her attorney saved Mrs. Pauline Smolenski, 2036 North Wood street, from going to jail yesterday after she had been ordered committed by Judge J. G. Van Keuren in the County court for failure to pay a $2,500 judgment obtained against her in an alienation of affections suit.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tancrati, 7120 Prairie avenue, was the plaintiff against Mrs. Smolenski. Last December she told a jury before Judge John Preihs in the Superior court that her husband, Antonio, met Mrs. Smolenski while delivering ginger ale to her soft drink parlor. The acquaintanceship ripened, they began to meet outside of business hours, and Antonio left her, the wife charged. She won a verdict.

Mrs. Smolenski appeared before Judge Van Keuren yesterday with a petition as an insolvent debtor, asking to be relieved of her debts. Judge Van Keuren held that since the verdict of the jury held that Mrs. Smolenski had been guilty of malice in alienating Tancrati's affections, the petition could not free her from the judgment. He ordered her to jail.

Within a few minutes Attorney George W. Ludden filed a bill for injunction on behalf of Mrs. Smolenski in the Superior court, alleging technical defects in the judgment, and seeking to restrain the sheriff from taking her to jail. Judge Marcus Kavanagh gave Mrs. Smolenski her freedom pending a hearing Wednesday.

Gunmen Rob 3 on Visit; Take Woman's $700 Gems

Max Krause, 3514 Grenshaw street, Mrs. Krause and Joseph Feldman, 3518 Grenshaw street, were halted by two armed men last night in front of 6750 North Ashland avenue. The trio were then forced into an alley, where they were robbed of $44 and jewelry valued at $810. Mrs. Krause surrendered three rings and a wrist watch, valued at $700. She and her husband and Feldman had gone to the Ashland avenue address to visit friends and were just leaving their automobile when the bandits stepped up to them.

Mrs. Ruth Beck, Nurse in Waukegan, Is Dead

Mrs. Ruth Beck, 40 years old, who was head nurse at the Lake county general hospital from 1918 to 1930, died yesterday at her home, 1719 Hyde Park avenue, Waukegan, after an illness of several months. Mrs. Beck is survived by her husband, Dr. Karl M. Beck. Funeral services will be held Monday at an hour to be announced later.

YOU'LL HEAR THEM AUG. 20

J. Wesley Jones, one of the five colored choral directors in charge of the Negro choruses in The Chicago Tribune's Chicagoland Music Festival concert in Soldiers' field Saturday night, Aug. 20, rehearsed 500 of his singers at the Metropolitan Community church, 41st street and South Parkway, last night.

MEET TUESDAY TO LAUNCH WAR ON SPEED TRAPS

Swanson Calls In Police Chiefs.

Plans for the abolition of suburban speed traps will be discussed Tuesday at a meeting of suburban police officials in the office of State's Attorney John A. Swanson. Sam Lederer, secretary of the Regional Police association, was instructed to call the meeting yesterday by State's Attorney Swanson. The Regional Police association, recently organized, includes most of the suburban towns in Cook county.

JOHN A. SWANSON.

"It must be impressed on police and justices of the peace that the motor laws were not made for the purpose of gathering revenue for the support of villages and hamlets," State's Attorney Swanson said. "They must learn that the motor laws are meant to promote the safety of motorists and pedestrians."

Grand Jury May Act.

If a warning does not halt the speed trap abuses the grand jury will be asked to investigate conditions in Cook county motor law enforcements, the state's attorney said.

Attorney Joseph Braun of the Chicago Motor club, who has coöperated with the state's attorney's office in combating the speed traps, pointed out yesterday that under the state laws which govern motor travel on state highways there is no speed limit.

"Villages have no right to pass arbitrary speed laws," Attorney Braun said. "The state law says only that the motorist should not travel at a rate too fast to insure reasonable safety."

He said that his organization is now investigating complaints in Niles, and also has complaints against Niles Center, Riverdale, and Harvey.

"The apparent collusion between certain highway policemen and some of the justices of the peace must also be halted," Braun said. "We have complaints that some of the police are taking prisoners to courts where they know a fine will result."

Village Trustee Arrested.

Fred Keanahst, village trusteee of Dixmoor, was arrested early yesterday by Fred Delmagio, speed cop in the village, after Keanahst's motion at a meeting of the village board to investigate the alleged conduct of a speed trap by Delmagio had resulted in a general fist fight.

Keanahst demanded that the board investigate Delmagio's admission, made Wednesday at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Charles Rajsl, that he had taken a case of eggs as bail for a farmer whom he had arrested for speeding. There was no second to his motion for an investigation, and Mayor Charles Special attempted to gavel him down.

He went on speaking. Delmagio arose and hit him in the eye. Keanahst knocked Delmagio across the room. Charles Paduano, motorcycle policeman at Posen and a friend of Delmagio, joined the fray, as did others, and chairs were swung as clubs. The two policemen retired.

Another Fight Started.

When Keanahst drove toward his home after the meeting, accompanied by two youths of the village, he passed Delmagio and Paduano seated in an automobile on Western avenue. One of the youths yelled at Delmagio, asking if he had any egg sandwiches. The two police pursued Keanahst and charged him with driving without a tail light.

Another fight followed. It ended when the police drew their revolvers and took Keanahst before Justice of the Peace Fred Heintz in Blue Island, where he was booked on the tail light charge and released.

King Tut, 125 Year Old Alligator, Has Tooth Pulled

King Tut, the 125 year old alligator on exhibition at the Florida show at the World's Fair, has been ill tempered of late. His keeper discovered that he had a toothache, resulting from a tooth broken in a fight with another 'gator. Yesterday he was dragged from his pool, and while a squad of assistants sat upon him Dr. Joseph Lippert, loop dentist, pulled the tooth.

Prepare for Festival

A bandmaster who has thrilled thousands with his music himself was thrilled last night by the singing of 500 Negroes who are practicing for the concert of the Chicagoland Music Festival, sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, which will be given on Saturday night, Aug. 20, in Soldiers' field.

The bandmaster was Victor Grabel, musical director of THE TRIBUNE'S festival. He was called on to speak at the Metropolitan Community church, 41st street and South Park way, after J. Wesley Jones, one of the five conductors in charge of the Negro choirs, had led them in singing "O Southland." "God gave to you people a great treasure in your voices and through it you are able to inspire and thrill hundreds of thousands of people each summer," said Mr. Grabel.

This preparing for their part in the gigantic performance in Soldiers' field is not taken in any half hearted manner. The singers are learning new words written by James A. Mundy, to an old spiritual. He has renamed it "After While," the last line of each verse reading "There'll come a glad day after while." Mr. Mundy labored tirelessly with the singers for a half hour. The other three conductors at the rehearsal were William Myrick, Edward Boatner, and Elmer Simpson. The next meeting will be held Monday night at 8 o'clock at the Pilgrims' Baptist church, 33d street and Indiana avenue.

PIECE FROM FAN KILLS MOTORIST INSPECTING CAR

Youth Dies in Crash in Wilmette.

Arthur H. Hood, 43 years old, 1832 School street, a mechanic, took a ride yesterday in the second-hand automobile he planned to buy. At Logan boulevard and Artesian avenue he stepped from the driver's seat and lifted the hood to inspect the motor.

At that moment a blade from the whirling motor fan broke and a piece of iron was hurled against Hood's forehead. He was taken to the St. Elizabeth's hospital by the owner of the machine, Walter J. Petelle, 5540 Broadway. He died there an hour later.

Charles Franklin, 17 years old, 2496 Deere Park avenue, Highland Park, was killed last night and three Wilmette companions were injured when their automobile overturned in Wilmette. Those injured were Sylvia and Georgette Horstman, sisters, 19 and 16 years old, respectively, 1116 Locust road, and Lloyd Huguenor, 18, of 1319 Ashland avenue.

All four were in a roadster driven by Franklin when the car left the pavement in the 1100 block, Mohawk road, Wilmette, and overturned on the sidewalk. Passersby took them to the nearby home of Dr. W. W. Hawkins. Franklin was pronounced dead. The girls were treated for minor injuries and taken home. Young Huguenor was removed to the Evanston hospital suffering from head and shoulder injuries.

These deaths and three others in Cook county yesterday increased the toll since Jan. 1 to 671. The other victims:

Charles Kriese, 56 years old, 1423 Main street, Evanston. Killed when he was struck by a projection from a heavy motor truck which passed him as he rode a bicycle at Asbury avenue and Madison street in the suburb. The driver, Walter Wood, 1406 Cleveland street, Evanston, was held.

Anthony De Coba, 15 years old, 3735 Sheffield avenue. Fatally hurt when the automobile in which he was sitting at the side of Joliet road near LaGrange was struck by another machine. He died at the county hospital. The other driver, A. G. Castor, 318 South Hamlin avenue, was held.

Victor Nelson, 35 years old, 2917 South Michigan avenue. Died at the Michael Reese hospital of injuries suffered in an automobile accident on April 7.

Italian Consul Leaves for Vacation in Italy

Dr. Giuseppe Castruccio, Italian consul general in Chicago, left last night for Italy, where he will spend a vacation with his family and also arrange for the casting of the bronze statue of Christopher Columbus to be erected in Grant park before the World's Fair opens. The statue, of heroic size, was modeled by Charles Brioschi of St. Paul. Dr. Castruccio will return to Chicago late in October. In his absence the consulate will be in charge of Antonio Ferme, vice-consul.

UNION TROUBLE HALTS WORK ON ROAD PROJECT

Public Detours in Glen Ellyn.

BY HAL FOUST.

Labor trouble has halted construction on a grade separation in Glen Ellyn at the intersection of Roosevelt road and a new north and south state highway, Ill. 53. Roosevelt road traffic is forced to detour on narrow and dangerous pavement peculiarly aligned by the ramps for the grade separation on the south side of the busy four lane thoroughfare.

The contractor, S. J. Grove & Sons of Libertyville, was awarded the job last fall, but little progress has been made with the work. At the Libertyville office, a man who answered the telephone said no one could discuss the labor trouble except the general superintendent, Eric Bolander, that he couldn't be reached by phone and that it was doubtful whether he would make any statement were he reached.

Public Made to Suffer.

At the district office of the state highway department in Elgin, it was said that the state was not concerned in the labor trouble, that it was a matter solely between the contractor and the unions. However, it's the motoring public that is suffering most by the tieup in the construction.

The ramps used for the run-around are oddly arranged, forcing Roosevelt road traffic to make six sharp ninety degree turns in passing the grade separation. The pavement for these ramps was laid on existing subdivision street dedications to save expense in acquiring a more desirable right of way.

Made to Develop Realty.

When the structure is completed, Roosevelt road will pass over Ill. 53 on an upper level. The only traffic that will have to use the awkward ramps will be cars turning between Roosevelt and Ill. 53. This turning traffic will probably be light, it is stated, since the main purpose of the new road was to develop real estate subdivisions rather than to benefit the motorists who are paying for the pavement.

Two construction projects in the metropolitan area were opened yesterday and will be of aid to week-end traffic. A little more than a mile of four lane concrete was opened in Sheridan road, ending the rough detour through Fort Sheridan.

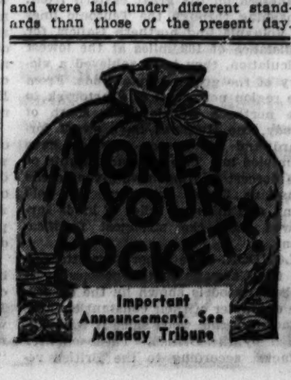

The grade separation at the intersection of North avenue and Lake street in Elmhurst was opened to Lake street traffic, although not to North avenue traffic. Merchants in the western suburbs celebrated with a parade at the separation.

COUNCIL GROUP TO PROBE FLAWS IN CITY STREETS

Ald. John Toman [23d], chairman of the city council committee on local industries, streets and alleys, said yesterday that the committee would take cognizance at its next meeting of reports from the state highway department at Springfield that certain Chicago street pavements were not up to standard. The state engineers declared that tests of Chicago streets indicated that specifications were not followed and the paving did not have the compressive strength it should have.

"If specifications were not followed the paving inspectors will have to answer," Ald. Toman said. "Each paving contract is carefully inspected and city employés watch to see that the proper materials are used and that the pavements are of the designated thickness. We will compare the state department's findings with our records."

President B. F. Lindheimer of the board of local improvements was away yesterday and in his absence John B. Hittell, paving engineer for the board, declared that the pavements mentioned by state officials were all old and were laid under different standards than those of the present day.

THREE BROTHERS SLAIN TOGETHER BY A RIVAL GANG

Pittsburgh Trio Trapped in Lunchroom.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 29.—[Special.]—Three brothers who recently left the suburb of Wilmerding to take over by force a lucrative alcohol peddling territory in Pittsburgh today paid the penalty of their ambition. Gunmen, supposedly employed by a rival liquor gang, walked into a Wylie avenue restaurant and without warning shot and killed the trio.

The victims were John, James, and Arthur Volpe. One of them was eating an early afternoon breakfast and the others were lounging at the restaurant's cigar counter when the killers —three or more, reports vary— entered.

One Follows Assailants.

There were three quick bursts of gunfire; then three more. James and Arthur Volpe fell dead in the restaurant. John, although shot in the chest, staggered out the door to the street, apparently trying to follow the men who had fired at him. One of them turned and fired at him as they started to drive away in a car. Volpe toppled into a gutter, and a Catholic priest who was passing stepped from an automobile and administered the last rites for the dying. The gang leader expired with his head on the curbstone.

The scene of the shooting was near the center of the city, in the so-called hill district, part of the territory being disputed by the brothers and their rivals.

Think Killers Imported.

Superintendent of Police Peter P. Walsh announced he was working on the theory that the gunmen were outsiders brought in to accomplish the wiping out of the Volpe mob. Orders for a roundup of criminals in the hill district was ordered.

"We won't stand for out of town gunmen killing our people, even our racketeers," he declared.

The Volpes had long been powerful in Wilmerding, where they combined their underworld activities with political sovereignty. Recently their power waned in the suburb and they transferred their organization to the city. Reports had been current that their "muscling in" on established gangsters had brought an underworld decree of death for them. Detective Tom Mulvihill asserted that he heard two months ago that all were "on the spot."

A fourth brother, Louis Volpe, is now in the county jail awaiting trial on a charge of violating the prohibition law.

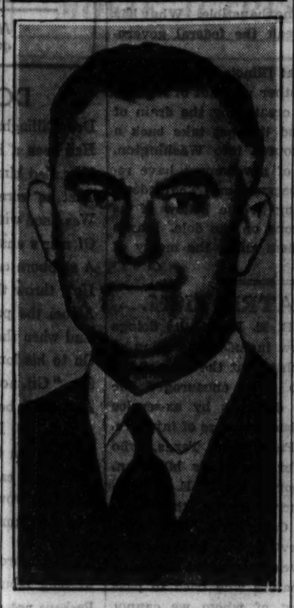

LIFE OF UNION LABOR LEADER IS THREATENED

Ottawa, Ill., July 29.—[Special.]—Sheriff E. J. Welter is investigating threats made against Tony Augustino, Joliet labor leader and organizer for the International Hod Carriers' union, which are believed to be the outgrowth of last week's labor riots in Marseilles. A letter received by Augustino advised him to go to Italy and bore a pen and ink sketch of the S. S. Conte De Verdi and a funeral with a motorcycle escort.

Extracts from the letter read: "How you like the push up the boys give your entertainment committee the other day, eh? Pretty fine I say and another time you put on the rough stuff think twice or maybe some more hoodlums hit the dust.

"This is still America and maybe soon some day you take a nice big boat back to Italy because you don't belong in this country anyway not a citizen. Tell mamma and the kids keep inside the house and you be sure get home before dark."

FOUND DEAD

JOSEPH EDGAR LEE.

The inquest into the death of Joseph Edgar Lee, 55 years old, president of the Currier-Lee Warehouse company, was continued yesterday until Aug. 10 because the coroner's physician had not completed examination of the body. Mr. Lee was found dead early yesterday in a garage at the rear of his home at 911 Sheridan road, Evanston. The doors were closed and the automobile motor running. The doctor's examination was expected to disclose whether the death was caused by carbon monoxide gas or heart disease.

Mr. Lee is survived by his widow, a son, and a daughter. He was a member of the Evanston Golf, Hamilton, and Chicago Yacht clubs.

Funeral services for Mr. Lee will be held at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the chapel of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Evanston. Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery.

CATS TO OBSERVE CURFEW LAW IN OAK PARK NOW

An amicable solution of Oak Park's cat controversy, which has been puzzling Commissioner of Public Works Dudley C. Meyers for some days, was promised yesterday.

Mrs. George Menger, 946 North Hayes avenue, owner of the five cats about which certain of her neighbors have complained, conferred with Mr. Meyers. She said that she had a great affection for the animals, but that she did not want to have any trouble with the neighbors and believed she could make arrangements satisfactorily guaranteeing that no one would be annoyed in future by the noise of her pets.

During the conversation Mr. Meyers explained that Oak Park has a cat curfew law, passed twenty-five years ago. It provides that owners must keep their cats off streets and alleys between 7 p. m. and 9 a. m. under penalty of legal action.

Mrs. Ralph Harrison, 936 North Hayes avenue, yesterday denied emphatically that she had complained of cats as was stated in THE TRIBUNE, or that one of her goldfish named Henrietta Zander had been killed by them. In fact, she declared, her goldfish have no names and none have been lost. And, Mrs. Harrison added, she had been quoted without any authority. The information was transmitted to THE TRIBUNE through the City News bureau.

"The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and mold public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."

PRESIDENT HOOVER AND GOV. ROOSEVELT ENTER THE CAMPAIGN.

President Hoover will receive the formal notification of his nomination Aug. 11 and in accepting it will give the country his reasons for asking for reëlection and his ideas for the future. Gov. Roosevelt has begun a series of radio talks in which he will put out his opinions and proposals.

A great many things have changed since 1928, and among them ideas. When Mr. Hoover and Gov. Smith were the candidates there wasn't, as seen in retrospect, a great deal of division on political fundamentals in the country. The average fellow thought the country was doing handsomely. Well informed men may have known that a smash was coming, but it's notorious that men who ought to have known didn't. That legend of the new era will be a painful comedy for the rest of this generation.

The United States, standing apart from the rest of the world, seemed to have created a permanent way of life that was as good as it was irresistible. Political ideas and governmental conduct were based upon that pleasant fiction. It's busted. Consequently there is the greatest rift in American political opinion since slavery days. In truth there have not been so many revolutionary proposals since the Declaration of Independence. The character of the government has never been in such doubt. The destiny of the United States has never been so confused.

America is confronted with alternatives which contain its fate. On the left there are ideas which, if put into effect, will leave nothing of American society and government as established under the constitution. The Union of states and the freedom of the individual cannot continue under these doctrines. On the right there are citizens who believe that our troubles are caused by the unwise departures from the forms and principles created and affirmed in the organic law of the republic. A safe middle ground does not appear. The country already has become a sterile mixture of private rights and public control.

During this shattering upset of American conditions both Mr. Hoover and Gov. Roosevelt have been in positions of high authority, the one as President and the other as governor of the richest state. If the conditions of 1928 had just gone rolling along both these officials, now candidates, would probably have made records of undisturbed administration, offering little for severe criticism. Any public man of fair ability and useful purpose could look good in 1928. Since then everything has gone over the dam—wealth, records, ideas and purposes.

There can be a fair willingness to judge a public man now not for what he has done in the last four years but by what he proposes to do in the future. The man who was as wise in 1928 as he is in 1932 would be something to see. It must be conceded that all ideas have been shaken up. What would be a ruinous blunder now would not have been so perceived in 1928, and it then might not have had the consequences of one. The tax collector, for instance, was not clearly recognized as the undertaker. Probably we ought to have seen that government was an elephant trying to sit on eggs and hatch them, but let it be admitted that few did see it. Furthermore, some allowance can be made for the error of trying to continue to live in the golden days when their name had become mud.

It's all over the dam. We'll let the records of Mr. Hoover and Mr. Roosevelt go with the rest of it. The examination of the past is useful for admonitions, but what of the future? That is up to the candidates. There is unquestionably a large body of voters who have not decided how their votes will be cast. They know what they want for the United States. They have not made up their minds where best to look for it. This vote may be decisive. It will look for guaranties.

Mr. Hoover and Mr. Roosevelt will be judged from now on by the course they indicate for the future. Assurances are not carried in the party label or in the platform locutions. The candidates will associate themselves with programs clearly or dubiously outlined, as the case may be, and the decision will rest here.

ALL THE SISTERS ON THE DOLE.

Illinois has been granted a relief allowance of $3,000,000 from the funds of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, an advance against its future federal road subsidy. The amount is much less than was asked for and the state will be back at the corporation's door in a short while. Meanwhile it makes the record of being the first state to get anything out of this particular fund for the subsistence of the impoverished.

The finance corporation adopted a rule which is sometimes applied to the impecunious. It heard what was asked and, knowing that it was in for a loan, perforce said yes, but cut down the amount. The rule is sound in the case of the needy states. It forces them to do the best they can with what they get and not to plan to spend from an inexhaustible fund. It is not inexhaustible. What has busted the states will break the federal government.

It must be confessed that Illinois, in joining the almhouse states, sees no other way out of its difficulties. They have been created by the drain of taxes on its resources and it must take back a mite of what has been poured into Washington. The extortionate policies of government have reduced all the states to beggardom. The federal government has everything in the hollow of its hand. The states have gone on the dole. Taxes and subsidies have put them all at the mercy of the almoner.

ABUSE OF PATRIOTISM.

Responsibility for the B. E. F. and its doings in Washington, which now include the killing of one of its members, lies chiefly at the door of the men in public life who have encouraged the making of unreasonable demands by ex-service men and inflamed their mistaken sense of injustice. Representative Wright Patman of Texas, who introduced and fought for the bonus bill; Gen. Smedley Butler, who exhorted the B. E. F. with sensational oratory; Father Coughlin, the broadcasting priest of Royal Oak, Mich., have been conspicuous in this disservice. The politicians in the house of representatives who passed the bonus payment bill and the senators who tried to pass it in their chamber, most of whom we cannot doubt voted for it knowing that it was an unjustifiable exaction upon the nation and especially inexcusable at this time, are also responsible. They deserve more condemnation than the men they have misled.

The authorities at Washington have recognized this, as have the public and most of the press. The B. E. F. has been treated accordingly. As little force has been used against its members as was compatible with public safety, although there has been ample legal reason for strong measures. This patience and restraint ought not to be interpreted as approval of either the demands, the theories or the conduct of the bonus petitioners. Their proceedings have passed considerably beyond the limits of the "right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances." That right does not authorize trespass upon private property or public property, or rioting and violence. It would be unfortunate for everybody if that fallacy should seem to be approved because of the moderation with which the B. E. F. has been treated.

The affair will have, however, one beneficial effect. It has attracted general attention to the subject of what is called veterans' relief. That has become a major public problem of federal finance. It absorbs already a quarter of the federal revenue and under the operation of existing laws will in a few years reach proportions ruinous even to the resources of the United States. This situation has been created under the influence of self-seeking politics operating upon a commendable sentiment of gratitude for war service and sacrifice. But this sentiment has been abused and must now be subjected to common sense. The whole question of service legislation must be reëxamined, and without delay. Much of it is unjustifiable and not only injurious to the nation generally but to ex-service men who have real claims to relief. If the B. E. F. affair helps to clear the air of bunk, as we think it will, and to draw attention to the consequences of demagogic politics in the manipulation of legislation for ex-service men, it will have accomplished, though unintentionally, necessary public service.

In any reconsideration of the problem of veteran relief there will be no lack of generous consideration and grateful care for the men who have made real sacrifices in the nation's service. On the contrary, the ability of the government to deal liberally with deserving cases is being reduced by unjustifiable exactions in the interest of men who have no claim upon the nation, and it must be restored by the removal of these exactions at the earliest possible opportunity. This is a reform demanded not only by the welfare of the nation but by that of all deserving ex-service men.

THE GOLDEN GLOVES.

It may seem illogical to create good feeling by fighting, but there is reason to believe that the Golden Gloves tournament between the boxing teams of Germany and this region made a better understanding between Chicago and Berlin than a dozen conferences or diplomatic affairs could have done. Since the establishment of the republic the German boys have learned the art of boxing and they showed their skill in the ring at Soldiers' field. As all who saw it will agree, the tournament made a great show. The amateurs are good sportsmen as well as eager fighters. It was sentimentally satisfactory to a great many that the contest ended in a draw. On both sides the fighters, no doubt, would have liked it eight to nothing, but there was no sting in 4 to 4.

Editorial of the Day

[The Baltimore Sun.]

Our ever controversial department of agriculture would seem to have a better case against the Chicago Board of Trade in connection with alleged discrimination against the Farmers' National Grain corporation than it had in 1930 when it struck out against the grain exchange for allowing soviet Russia to sell short a few million bushels of wheat.

If the facts are as the order suspending future trading at Chicago states them, the Board of Trade has been resorting to petty obstructionist tactics in its dealing with the government supported grain coöperative. It does not follow, of course, that the mistakes of the established grain trade warrant the extreme penalty the government now seeks to impose under the grain futures act. It would be a serious business to shut off all future trading at the height of the wheat marketing season, and farmers might suffer from such procedure quite as much if not more than the agencies against whom the penalty is directed.

Whether the government really intends to carry a moderately sound case to such an extreme or whether it merely intends to make a grand gesture to the agrarian group and then compromise it is impossible to say. But it ought to be aware of the dangers it is courting, and it is significant that, while the controversy between the board of trade and the Farmers' National has been running for some time, the very eve of a presidential election was chosen as the occasion for the launching of the present big offensive. Remembering that the dual drive against the Board of Trade and the soviets was not launched until September, 1930, when the congressional elections of that year were approaching, the timing of the present big offensive seems doubly significant. It would seem that Secretary Hyde is a hard fighter chiefly in the midst of an electoral campaign, and on such a showing one wonders whether he will really press his battle further than is necessary to gain a political end.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

DOC DILLINGHAM.

Doc Dillingham, back in the fruitful years,
Had been a homeopath, "a man of pills".
He called himself. His cape, an Inverness,
That he wore fall and winter, summer, spring,
Was lined with color charts he once had made
Of man's anatomy. And when Doc had
A stubborn case of some internal thing,
He'd throw the inside of the frayed-edge cape
Across the patient's bed and do research.
On to his long, unpainted, fringe-topped rig,
Say, "Git, now! Git to town down Center street,
And don't be lingerin'.

If there's a light
In Grandpa Stiver's window as you pass—
Why, stop, carnsarn you! Git epp, now! Git epp!"
And sleep until old Echos had obeyed.

He went through life as through an open door,
Missing laburnum and white lilac bloom—
Perhaps not seeing that his poet-wife
Put dawn in stone and night in amethyst.
And when she died of words she could not speak,
Doc paused in doubt; stood in the curtained door
As one who meets finality at last.
"I wish I'd treated her myself," he said,
"Instead of askin' Jepson from The Creek."
And then he called his daughter to his side
Said, "Laury Do! Life's nothin' but a hill
Of viney, runnin' beans, and sometimes if
The wind's too strong, or poles ain't stood up straight,
The summer goes without a kittle full.
Your ma . . . well . . . ain't no use me tellin' you
About an orchard in full bloom, when I'm
A blasted bud still clingin' to the tree.
Now . . . git your rest. I'll set here, still, with her—
A thinkin' time, and sayin' words of earth."

He poked a log that burned low in the grate,
Scraped off his mud-stained boots, and said aloud:
"More clay than ever, this here spring, and we
Was clay."

And then he put on spectacles,
With trembling hand reached for his brown-stained pipe.
The lighted match he held between cupped hands,
But showed its lowly, earthly origin
As flame made silhouette against the bowl.
He hurled the match toward the ashy hearth—
And through closed teeth in sibilant undertone
Muttered these words, "You, too, you, too, are clay."

But late that year, before new almanacs
Had come to hang on bright magenta cord
In Jacob Benson's drug store on the square:
Doc Dillingham had gone the silent way,
An orphan in a black alpaca dress.
And on his tombstone in The Falls graveyard
The words of Doc's self-written epitaph
Are not yet ivy-grown, but crystal clear
As were his eyes.

"A man that lives for livin',
In a dyin' world, lives on forever, and
When this old carcass lays down deep beneath
The soil that gave him sweat and daily bread,
The livin' that he done 'll go whirlin' on—

And those who read what old Doc Dillingham
Wrote for himself, in eighteen-eighty-two,
Know that the "man of pills" is living still.

THE WEST VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE has passed a law permitting doctors to prescribe whisky for their patients. This may be interpreted by complaining tourists in West Virginia as a move in the right direction. The tourists say that up to now they have had to go down back of the town they happen to be in, lay a couple of dollars on a log, shut their eyes, and count to seventy-five before they get their little bottle of white mule. And when one has his tongue hanging out a couple of yard counting to seventy-five is a long and tedious process. And then, too, while the buyer has his eye shut, some low, unprincipled son of evil sneaks up and swipes the hootch.

"WASHINGTON," says the guidebook, "is a very quiet place when congress is not in session." Reading of the doings of the cavalry, the police, and bonus marchers round about the White House lately impels one to believe that Washington, even with congress not in session, is far from being dull and quite a bit livelier than a country graveyard at midnight. And once somebody wrote a poem called "All Quiet Along the Potomac." Whaddaya mean quiet?

AND NOW THE TAILORS in a formal ukase from New York say that fashion sternly decrees a change next fall from the wide trousers the men are wearing now to the old fashioned peg topped, narrow at the ankle kind that the gay boys wore when Florodora was the rage. The males usually get cross at the tailors when a drastic change in style is announced, because it means they've got to go and get new clothes, for a gent is just as keen on being in style as any woman is. But this change in fashion is good news for the men. Not that they're going to hurry right over and order peg topped pants, but they'll hike up to the attic and fight the moths for the possession of old fashioned trousers that have been packed away in the trunk for years and years. Three cheers for the peg topped pants. Now we won't have to buy any new clothes.

JUST AS WE FEARED! They're going to begin the campaign by radio today. And we'd lots rather hear the crooners. And once we said that crooners gave us a pain in the instep. Oh, forgive us, crooners, forgive and forget, come back on our loud speaker and croon and croon and croon.

PIMPLES CURED.

Marriage is a permanent cure. Women rarely have pimples and babies in the same season. Men who undertake the responsibility which goes with sitting at the head of the table almost never have acne. Of course, the marriage cure sometimes fails to work with pimples as it does with other things. Like vaccination it does not always "take" and when it does it may still fail to work, for which there is also much precedent. Nevertheless, we put the marriage cure at the head of the list. It is the surest in those cases when it is otherwise feasible and desirable.

Next comes the cleanliness cure. We say a person has acne if he has many pimples. We say he has pimples if he has infected blackheads. If the grease dries up and becomes dirty in a grease gland we call it a blackhead. The man who lathers his face with soaps and then scrapes and massages the skin with a razor empties his grease glands. He has no blackheads or pimples on the areas of shave. It is not advisable to shave all of the skin of the face, nor for a woman to shave her face at all, but the whole of the shaving technique, except the use of a cutting edge, can be applied to all parts of the skin, and by women as well as by men.

For those who do not care to empty the grease glands by the above methods, the use of Turkish baths, steam face baths, and massage will accomplish much the same purpose. Some dissolve the grease on and in the skin of the face with alcohol and some with chloroform, or solvents of that class.

Perhaps radiation should be ranked next. In some cases it is quite helpful, but it is dangerous. None but the experienced should use it and even then there will be a bad result every little while.

Perhaps diet should come next in order. The diets that we are commonly warned against are those rich in desserts, sweets, sugars, and candies. Another group warns us against eating freely of the heating foods. By this they mean fats and greases of both animal and vegetable origin, and meats. We are also warned against spices, condiments, and alcoholic beverages.

At the present time much research work is being done on the body sugars—those of the blood and of the cells; on the fat in the blood, and fat and near fat in cells; and on the proteid or albumin part of the cells. When all these points are cleared we can form opinions that we can defend as to dieting for pimples.

As matters now stand, all we can say is that simple meals, not heavy in fats, meats, nor sweets, not highly seasoned, and not eaten in excess, seem advisable for those troubled with pimples.

I expect medicines come last. These include yeast and drugs taken internally, and various remedies applied locally.

SOME ARE CURABLE.

E. O. J. writes: I am a man 30 years old and married. I have been sick with tuberculosis for five years.

1. The doctors tell me that I have cavities in the upper lobes of my lungs, but I don't feel sick. The only time I feel bad is when I get a spill, for I am a color case. If I have cavities, wouldn't I have fever?

2. Could I be cured if I take good care of myself?

3. About how long would it take? I have no fever. My sputum has always been negative.

4. Some doctors say I get spills because I have asthma. Could that be so? I have had asthma for the past twenty years.

REPLY.

1. Not all the readers of this column know the meaning of the words in your vocabulary. You have consumption, with cavities in one lung. You do not have fever and you feel well, but you are subject to mild hemorrhages. If you have consumption with cavities and with hemorrhages I am sure you have fever at times. Do you take your temperature carefully and make a written record? Have you watched your temperature accurately periodically since your disease started?

2. Most cases of consumption are curable.

3. If you have had consumption for five years and asthma for twenty years you will be years in recovering at best.

4. Your history, as you give it, throws considerable doubt on the diagnosis of consumption with cavity formation and hemorrhages.

EGGS NOT TO BLAME.

A. J. writes:

1. Will eating two or three eggs a day cause kidney trouble?

2. What are the symptoms of gall trouble?

REPLY.

1. No.

2. I presume you mean infection of the gall bladder. Among the symptoms of that are indigestion, belching, night attacks of belching and indigestion; sometimes pain or tenderness on the side; occasionally, jaundice.

ANEMIA.

N. G. writes: What are the cause, the symptoms, and the treatment of anemia?

REPLY.

There is more than one kind of anemia. In primary anemia, usually called pernicious anemia, treatment consists of the proper use of liver and stomach extracts, stomach juices, and a diet containing liver and tripe. In secondary anemia the treatment consists of iron and copper tonics, and a diet that contains yellow of egg, good lean meat, and vegetables, fruits, nuts, and bran. The cause should be removed, if possible.

BASAL METABOLISM.

Reader writes: How can I know whether my basal metabolism is correct and if it isn't what should be done to correct it?

REPLY.

Have your physician make a metabolism test. He will tell you how to prepare for this test. After making it he will tell you how you rate and what you should do, if anything.

INCOMPLETE STRUCTURE.

Chicago, July 24.—[Friend of the People.]—More than a year ago an excavation was dug on the lot adjoining ours and about three months later the foundation was finished. It has remained in that condition since. A great many boards and forms were left by the contractors and this makes a rendezvous for all of the boys in the neighborhood. This is a very dangerous place for them to play, besides the most unsightly and insanitary place in this district. We have asked the owners to remedy conditions, but to no avail. We will appreciate anything you can do to change this situation. P. D. M.

An inspection of the premises has been made and the agent notified to barricade around the basement to safeguard the public. Another notified to remove all loose material from the premises.

JOHN E. ERICSSON,

WAGE CLAIM.

Chicago, July 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—The shop I worked in shut down. They owe me $106 back wages. The owner of the building took all his machinery and sold it for rent charges. He did not pay for rent a very long time. Are not the employés entitled to first claim? The owner did not say a word to us and we never had a chance to see him. Please advise what I should do. C. D.

Unless the owner had a chattel mortgage or other lien you could enforce a preference by throwing the concern into bankruptcy and filing a claim as a wage earner.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

TAX SALE.

Chicago, July 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. When a mortgaged piece of real estate in Chicago is sold for nonpayment of taxes does the person who bought the mortgage lose the money he invested? 2. If said property has no bidders and is not sold, what becomes of the property? Does it revert to the state? 3. If so, what becomes of said mortgage? 4. What time may elapse when taxes are not paid before property is sold for taxes? C. L.

1. A mere tax sale would be a cloud on the title, but would not completely defeat the mortgage.

2. Where there are no bidders at the tax sale there is a forfeiture to the state when as far as being a cloud on the title is concerned is similar to a tax sale.

3. There can be a redemption within two years.

4. The time within which different pieces of property may be reached for tax sale varies within wide limits.

BANK STOCKHOLDER.

Chicago, July 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am the owner of five shares of bank stock. The bank closed its doors to protect its depositors. I did not buy this stock but received it as an inheritance. 1. Am I liable? 2. If I haven't any money what procedure can they take and what could I do? E. K.

1. Yes, if you accepted the stock so as to become a stockholder.

2. If you have no assets or income of course they cannot collect.

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 30, 1916.

NEW YORK.—New York and surrounding territory were shaken this morning by two explosions which were terrifying in their intensity. The first occurred at 2:08 and the second almost exactly half an hour later. They were caused by the going off of large quantites of munitions awaiting shipment to the allies which were on a powder pier at Black Tom's island, just beyond the Statute of Liberty in the harbor. It is reported that 33 firemen were killed. The powder pier is the property of the National Storage company. After the first explosion took place firemen went to the pier to put out the fires which it started, and they were caught by the second explosion, which was as intense as the first.

LONDON. — The Russian armies have celebrated the opening of the third year of the great war with one of the biggest military strokes ever witnessed on the great eastern front. Smashing through the Teutonic lines in Volhynia and northern Galicia for a distance of 100 miles at the lowest calculation, they have achieved a victory of the greatest magnitude. From the region northwest of Czartorysk to the northern Galician line south of Brody, the Russians have swept forward and the Teuton defenses have crumpled in. Two days and nights of the fiercest fighting have given to the Russians 39,000 prisoners, 100 field guns, and miles on miles of lands furrowed with the strongest fortifications.

LONDON.—The importance attached by the Germans to the possession of Delville wood is shown by the desperate character of their constant counter attacks on this wood since it was captured by the British. These counter attacks, according to the British reports, have been repulsed on every occasion with heavy German losses. In the neighborhood of Pozieres also the British and Germans continue in the closest grips and the severest hand to hand fighting is going on incessantly.

LONDON.—England is taking reprisals as a result of the execution of Capt. Fryatt of the Brussels, convicted, according to the view held here, of "self-defense" against a sub marine. While newspapers editorially held the allies could not enter into a "competition in savagery," nevertheless feeling ran high that there should be some retaliation against Germany. That feeling was increased when it became known that the kaiser himself and his entire council had approved the sentence imposed by the Bruges court martial against the British sea captain.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Special protection for the German merchant submarine Deutschland when it starts out of American territorial waters was asked of the American government with the intimation that the boat would leave Baltimore some time tomorrow. After conference between state, treasury and navy department officials, it was ruled that no extraordinary precautions could be ordered because the United States views the Deutschland as an ordinary merchantman.

CHICAGO.—Relief from the heat is on the way to Chicago from the northwest. The number of deaths for the day attributed to the intense heat ran over the fifty mark, while prostrations ran into the hundreds. The temperature reached a maximum of 96 degrees at 1 p. m.

CHICAGO.—One hundred thousand barrels of beer were consumed in Chicago in the last four days. And 1,000,000 bottles of the amber fluid were delivered yesterday and last night to families to tide them over a "closed" Sunday.

BILLY SUNDAY AS PROPHET.

Chicago, July 26.—When the eighteenth amendment was adopted the Rev. William A. Sunday said:

"The reign of tears is over. The slums will soon be only a memory. We will turn our jails into storehouses and cornercribs. Men will walk upright now; women will smile and children will laugh. Hell will be forever for rent."

When the false prophet gave his cheap vaudeville show before the assembled drys at Des Plaines last night he failed to explain the failure of his predictions. Instead of doing so he called those who differed with him almost every dirty, vile and contemptible name in the dictionary.

Listening to him I was glad that I was brought up a Lutheran and that my church refuses to employ religious racketeers who bring discredit upon the Christian faith.

Religion is a vital and necessary institution. The Bible says that you should forgive your enemies, but there was no trace of this Christian spirit to be found in the harangue of the Rev. Billy Sunday. LEIF STABELL.

CHRISTIAN SENTIMENTS.

Chicago, July 27.—Billy Sunday says that if he were God for at least fifteen minutes his first humane act would be, during his short reign, to confine to fire and brimstone all seeking repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Well, I don't know how the rest of the gang felt, but I certainly gave a deep sigh of relief when I convinced myself that Billy would never be elected by popular vote to the supreme command, even for fifteen minutes.

Billy, however, is not the first to aspire to the throne of the Most High. Beelzebub had the same mad desire, and what a fall was there, my countrymen! Billy as a Supreme Being would be a complete washout, but he would make a wonderful crown prince to his majesty Satan. They have the same mission, the destruction of humanity.

Christ raised the dead, healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, fed the hungry, changed water into wine, for which act Billy, the would be God, would confine to fire and brimstone the kind, loving and compassionate Savior.

No, Billy, you haven't a chance. Upshaw is a far better bet to reach the White House than you are to reach "the mansion in the sky" as executive in chief of the great majority of the human race.

P. J. BROWNE.

NEED HE?

Chicago, July 25.—Will you please satisfy my curiosity about a certain picture caption in yesterday's picture section?

On page 3 was an action picture of Senator Huey [Kingfish] Long with arms raised high in the air and a most alarming expression of something or other on his face. As I looked at this picture I could not help but think what a blow you might have dealt the anti-evolutionists if you had had one of your artists place the limb of a tree in the extended hands.

With this thought still in mind I turned the page and was confronted with a bust portrait of a chimpanzee in the London zoo. Under this picture was the caption "What Name Would You Give Him?" or words to that effect. Need I put in words the answer to that question which popped into my head.

MRS. CHAS. J. GRANT.

A TAXPAYER'S QUANDARY.

Chicago, July 27.—Your editorial of July 25, "Tax Shirkers," must be somewhat irritating to taxpayers who are merely trying to keep from being hijacked by unscrupulous politicians.

Because of an alleged reappraisal, the valuation of my home for tax purposes was suddenly multiplied by more than two and one-half. I do not believe that any appraiser ever looked at my property, and I am certain that no appraiser was ever in my house.

The tax bills which I have received since amount annually to more than I could get for five months' rental of the property. The "actual value" which the appraisers have put on my property is one-third more than I paid for it a few years ago when prices were near the peak. If any one should be foolish enough to offer me this "actual value" for the property, or even several thousand dollars less, I could not afford to refuse, although I do not wish to sell my house. That statement, if true, is in itself conclusive proof of gross overvaluation. If any one doubts it let him make the offer.

For three years I have attempted by every legal means to get a hearing on this subject. I stood in line for four hours in order to get a hearing before the board of review, only to be told that in order to be heard as to the valuation of the building I must sign a waiver of all complaint against the valuation of the land.

When my tax bills were within reason I paid them promptly, as did the vast majority of taxpayers. The revenue so obtained was sufficient to protect life and property and carry on every other legitimate function of government. If governments had retrenched during the last three years as business has, the same sum would be much more than sufficient. If even half the graft and waste were squeezed out of present appropriations, the old taxes would still be adequate.

The injustice and stupidity of expecting necessary public servants to carry on without pay is apparent to every taxpayer, but why not put the blame where it belongs? Since the great majority of voters do not pay taxes directly and do not realize that they pay them indirectly, there is only one check upon the greedy politician who builds up his prestige by making more and easier jobs for himself and his friends. That check is for the taxpayer to refuse to pay unjust taxes until he has had his day in court.

Does any one seriously doubt that if the present confiscatory taxes could be easily collected the taxes for next year would be even higher?

LEON B. ALLEN.

STUDENT RATES.

Chicago, July 24.—I have been wondering when we would get some reduction in street car rates. I don't object to the adult fare, but I think it is outrageous at all times and especially during this depression to have to pay a full fare for school children. The elevated lines give student rates; so should the street railway. All other cities do and how people can keep their children in high school I do not know. I have two; one attends Lane and the other Carl Schurz. My husband has not worked in months and I dread Sept. 12, wondering how I can ever manage it. A MOTHER.

ONLY OVER OUR DEAD BODIES.

Chicago, July 25.—In connection with the controversy over the naming of the new thoroughfare made up of Clark street, Broadway and Wentworth avenue, let me suggest through your paper the name Clarkway or Clarksway.

This would, in a way, be a combination of both names considered and should satisfy both the advocates of the name Broadway and those who would like to retain the name of Clark street.

U. S. SCHOOLBOYS GETTING BETTER, BOGAN BELIEVES

Briton's View Doesn't Fit America, He Says.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

The British schoolboy, long the boast of England, may be less of a gentleman today than he was 30 years ago, as a well known educator charged. But the American schoolboy is "more nearly a gentleman than he was when I was a boy," Supt. William J. Bogan of Chicago's public schools said last night.

A dispatch in yesterday's TRIBUNE quoted Cuthbert Blakiston, headmaster of the fashionable Lancing school of London, as saying in an address before the British Medical society in London:

"There is no comparison between the boys of today and those of 30 years ago. The boys today are indifferent to the traditional interests of gentlemen represented by horses, and above all cricket. Worse, they are destroying the old boast that an Englishman's word is his bond."

He said they were bored, that they were peacocks, that they were timid and lacked principle. They couldn't play cricket, couldn't saddle a horse, and feared loneliness and physical pain.

Praises American Boys.

"I can't speak for the English boys, but I think the American schoolboy is just as vigorous and manly, and more civilized, than when I was a boy," Mr. Bogan said.

"What if he doesn't know horses? He knows automobiles, he knows all about electricity. Styles change. He doesn't do as much boating and sailing as we did when we were boys. But only the wealthy can afford to have horses and sailboats in these days.

"I think our idea of a gentleman is different from the English idea. Education there always was for the select few and perhaps it was more so thirty years ago. Perhaps that is why Mr. Blakiston complains of a lack of honor. Maybe the common people are creeping in even there.

Educate Masses Here.

"Our ambition over here is to educate the whole crowd, honorable and dishonorable; good, bad, and indifferent. Every man to his own prejudices. Mr. Blakiston said that when they gave corporal punishment they noticed that the modern boy showed fear of pain. Well, we're past that. We don't give corporal punishment in our schools."

Mr. Bogan said that the behavior of young men in the war "should have dispelled for all time the talk about their being "effeminate or unmanly." He added that he was very proud of Chicago boys today and thought their boyhood far superior to his own.

Playground Director's View.

George H. Mummert, director of the Delanos school playground, who spent five and a half years in England and Scotland after the war, said his ideas of the British schoolboy were far different from those expressed by Headmaster Blakiston.

"I think the British schoolboy has a much finer sense of sportsmanship than that exhibited in our schools, I am sorry to say," he said. "He takes the technique of his soccer or cricket very seriously, even as seriously as Mr. Blakiston, I imagine. But when it is over, he's anxious to have a cup of tea with the other fellow and a pleasant chat. Those boys are highly intellectual."

Mr. Mummert was of the opinion that this generation of boys, both American and English, take life less seriously than his generation, but that "boys are the same the world over and in all generations." He said, however, that the commercialization of sports had an undesirable effect on American boys.

CHICAGO WOMEN FIND HOSPITALITY OF WEST ENDURES

Jackson, Wyo., July 29.—(AP)—Genuine western hospitality was extended to a group of 34 Chicago and Des Moines women by a dude ranch proprietor after an eastern promoter left them stranded here last week, it was learned today.

The party was brought to the ranch of Lester N. Leek by the promoter. The women said the man represented himself to be connected with the ranch and guaranteed them a $500 trip through the west at the "depression price" of $200, payable in advance.

When the party arrived at the ranch, the promoter disappeared and did not pay Leek $3 a day for each of the guests, as he had agreed.

Leek said the promoter stopped at hotels en route to Jackson and signed vouchers which were to be paid by the ranch later. Authorities are investigating.

WRIT PROTECTS WIFE FROM NEW SPYING DEVICE

An injunction preventing Byron E. Putnam, 814 Ellis avenue, Wheaton, an electrical engineer, from setting electric spying devices throughout their home was obtained by Mrs. Adelaide H. Putnam from Judg William J. Fulton in the Circuit court at Wheaton yesterday.

Mrs. Putnam was also awarded $10 a week to run the house pending a divorce action brought by the husband, who charges she threw books at him. Mrs. Putnam counter charged that her husband invented the electric devices to annoy her and also keeps a miniature arsenal of pistols, rifles, and a shotgun in the home to frighten her.

SEVEN NEW POLICE INSPECTORS MAY BE NAMED TODAY

Allman Silent on His Selections.

Police Commissioner Allman is expected to issue an order today naming the chief inspector and six inspectors of police who will supervise the activities of district captains under the reorganization plan for the Chicago department prepared by Brude Smith, police expert of New York.

JAMES P. ALLMAN.

Since a number of the captains slated for inspectorships are now in command of district stations the transfer of a number of captains is also expected. The transfer may extend to lower ranks in the police personnel.

Zimmer's Name Mentioned.

Commissioner Allman refused to hint yesterday who his appointees will be. The names of Capts. Matthew Zimmer, John Stege, Thomas Condon, and Ira McDowell have been mentioned as likely to be among them, with Capt. Zimmer, who for the last year has been engaged in revamping the department's system for handling automobile thefts, reported slated for the chief inspectorship. Maj. Philip R. Crippen, who for a number of years has been inspector of personnel in the department, was also mentioned yesterday as a possible appointee to one of the new jobs.

Under the new plan the police districts will be divided into five or six zones. All squads and patrolmen traveling beat instead of reporting hourly to their district stations as at present, will make their "pulls" to the zone headquarters, where an inspector will be stationed.

More Efficiency Seen.

In addition to decreasing the number of police operators required to handle calls the new system is expected to increase efficiency in handling and assignment of the department personnel. It is understood that districts on the south and southwest sides will be grouped into three zones, those on the west side into a single zone, and those on the north side into two zones, with an inspector in charge of each.

The chief inspector will be in charge of all uniformed personnel in the department. The detective bureau will operate independently, remaining under command of Chief of Detectives William Schoemaker.

TWO DRY LAW VIOLATORS ONE; STAYS IN JAIL

Last January prohibition agents raided a still at 3607 Cuyler avenue, Berwyn, and arrested Vito Berardi as the attendant. Six weeks later, in another raid at 4551 Ravenswood avenue, one Sam Falle was arrested as a still tender. Both men were indicted for prohibition violations.

Berardi was sent to the De Kalb county jail at Sycamore to serve three months. Falle failed to appear for trial and his bond was forfeited. The surety company which furnished the bond investigated.

As a result of the investigation Berardi was seized yesterday as he left jail after finishing his term. He was taken to the federal building, duly arraigned as Falle, and sent back to jail for another month.

COAST ARTILLERY UNIT LEAVES FOR CAMP IN SOUTH

About 700 officers and men of the 232d coast artillery of the Illinois National Guard prepared last night to leave the Illinois Central station early this morning in three special trains for their annual encampment near Pensacola, Fla. Taking its equipment of guns and searchlights, the regiment, under command of Col. Charles C. Dawes, son of Rufus C. Dawes, is to have two weeks of intensive training. Leaving their headquarters at the Broadway armory, Broadway and Thorndale avenue, the artillerymen were to march to the Wilson avenue elevated station at Broadway and Wilson avenue. From there North Shore trains were to take them to the waiting special trains at the Park Row station.

DRUNKEN DRIVER GETS 10 DAYS.

Peter McDonall, 30 years old, 3553 West North avenue, pleaded guilty yesterday before Municipal Judge Leon Edelman to a charge of driving while intoxicated, adding, "Give me a break, your honor." Judge Edelman sentenced him to 10 days in the Bridewell and fined him $1.

Eight Perfect Scores

Ninety girls from the west parks playgrounds took part in an O'Leary contest yesterday in Garfield park. An O'Leary contest, it was explained by Thomas Rickman, director of athletics for the parks, consists of various exercises performed by bouncing a rubber ball. The girls were divided into two classes, those under 11 years old and those under 15 years old. Six members of the younger group made perfect scores, while the older group turned in two perfect scores.

POLICE RESCUE YOUNG WOMAN FROM CAPTORS

County highway police late last night rescued a young woman from two men who were about to bind her hands preparatory, police believe, to raping her. The pair were captured. In their car were found two deputy sheriff stars from Lake county, Ind., and a gun. Jewelry, other valuables, and pawn tickets were also found.

The woman is Miss Ruth Savage, 24 years old, of 4000 Drexel boulevard. Her captors were Theodore Schweitzer, 23 years old, and Leonard Stockburger, who only a few hours earlier had checked out of an Ellis avenue apartment hotel.

Shortly before midnight Policemen George Truesdale and Merrill Bettenhausen of the Homewood county highway station noticed an automobile parked in the tall weeds at 139th street and Torrence avenue. As they approached, Miss Savage emerged screaming. Behind her were Schweitzer and Stockburger. Schweitzer held some cord in his hand.

Miss Savage told the policemen that the men had offered to drive her to work. Instead, she said, they drove her to the secluded spot and were about to bind her. Stockburger confirmed her statement. However, both he and Schweitzer refused to explain why they held her. They also declined to explain possession of the deputy sheriff badges.

COURT MAY CLOSE MORGAN BACKED JOBS EXCHANGE

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—The National Employment exchange, which was organized twenty-one years ago with the backing of John D. Rockefeller, J. P. Morgan, and other large financiers, as a charitable enterprise devoted to the task of finding jobs for the unemployed, may be closed as the result of a decision handed down today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

The court directed the lower federal court to dismiss a suit brought by the agency last November to restrain James F. Geraghty, commissioner of licenses, from revoking the license of the exchange.

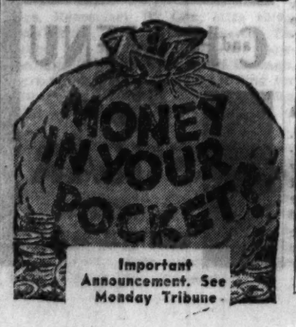

Mr. Geraghty had planned this action, it was set forth in the suit, because the exchange had collected retainer fees from applicants for executive positions. An injunction was sought on the ground that it would protect the agency's constitutional rights against confiscation of property without due process of law.

TELL RESULT OF TAXPAYER ASSN. PROBE MONDAY

The result of the investigation to determine if the Association of Real Estate Taxpayers of Illinois could be prosecuted on a charge of conspiracy to obstruct tax collections will be made public on Monday, State's Attorney Swanson announced yesterday. The report of Assistant Prosecutors Grenville Beardsley and William A. Rittenhouse, who conducted the investigation, was presented to the state's attorney yesterday. Examination of the association activities was started after unpaid teachers adopted a resolution asking that the organization be prosecuted on a charge of obstructing the collection of taxes. Officials of the taxpayers' association advised members not to pay taxes until real estate was relieved of part of the tax burden.

OFFER EVIDENCE ON SOUNDNESS OF BAIN LOANS

Contend Banks Acted in Good Faith.

The defense presented evidence yesterday in an effort to show that loans made by John Bain's twelve banks were good at the time they were made and that real estate figuring in his financial affairs was not overvalued. Attorney Francis X. Busch, who represents Bain, two of Bain's sons, John H. and Robert A. Bain, and Bain's son-in-law, W. Merle Fisher, in their trial on charges of conspiracy to defraud the public through the banks' operations, called several appraisers for this purpose.

Testimony on Bank Stocks.

The value of Bain bank stocks before the closing of the twelve banks was also the subject of testimony. Attorney Busch had said he would establish that the Bains acted in good faith in their banking transactions, even though depositors lost $13,000,000 and it is charged that Bain's investors lost $30,000,000 in addition.

Clarence Golden, 6432 Minerva avenue, former vice president of the Stony Island Trust and Savings bank, was cross-examined by Assistant State's Attorney Harold M. Keele on stipulations of counsel as to loans made by that bank. He said he was unable to recall exact circumstances of loans and he did not know that certain debtors owed money to other Bain banks—a state contention being that many of Bain's associates were insolvent, but were granted additional loans.

Witnesses for Defense.

Witnesses included Joseph K. Brittain, former president of the Chicago Real Estate board, who identified eight certificates of appraisals he made for Bain; Frederick Rex, city statistician, who said the south side population increased greatly during the time Bain was speculating in south side land; George C. Olcott, publisher of a book on land values, and George P. Williams, Gordon D. Gregory, and George Benson, stock brokers.

Mr. Busch said he would continue this line of defense testimony for several days.

Suicide Verdict on Suitor Who Shot Girl, Slew Self

A coroner's jury yesterday at a delayed inquest returned a verdict that Gordon Caldwell, 26 years old, 1319 Hyde Park boulevard, committed suicide on June 3 while temporarily insane. The principal witness was Miss Dorothy Smith, 21 years old, 6138 Champlain avenue, who was shot and wounded by Caldwell before he fired a bullet into his own head. She said Caldwell, whom she knew only slightly, had called her from an art class in the Kimball building and demanded that she leave with him. When she refused, Miss Smith declared, he drew a pistol and began shooting. She has recovered from her wound.

BOLIVIAN TROOPS ATTACK FORTS ALONG FRONTIER

Paraguayan Forces Drive Enemy Back.

ASUNCION, Paraguay, July 29.—(AP)—The conflict between Bolivia and Paraguay over the Gran Chaco region resulted in action at two border points today, according to an official bulletin issued by the Paraguayan government.

In each case, the communique said, Bolivian forces took the offensive. Victory for the Paraguayans was claimed in both instances. An assault at Fort Corrales was driven off with four casualties and another at Fort Coronel was repulsed with two Bolivians killed and one wounded and one Paraguayan wounded.

Map shows (1) Gran Chaco area where Bolivian troops yesterday attacked Paraguayan forts and were repulsed. In the state of Sao Paulo (2) rebels began a new drive against Brazilian troops, while in Santiago, capital of Chile (3), machine guns guarded the presidential palace against a possible uprising.

A Bolivian airplane was sighted over the Paraguayan Fort Boqueron yesterday noon, the bulletin said. Fort Boqueron is 150 miles northwest of Concepcion, near the principal Mennonite colony in the region. Asuncion newspapers urged the government to mobilize the reserves, and the Paraguayan Red Cross started raising hospital funds.

Hold Peace Negotiations.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, July 29.—(AP)—There were indications today that neutral efforts to bring about peace between Paraguay and Bolivia were materializing as a result of diplomatic conferences here.

The Peruvian and Brazilian ambassadors conferred last night with Foreign Minister Saaveira Lamas and the Paraguayan minister had a conference with President Justo.

Capt. Almandas Almonacid, Argentine flyer, an ace with the French during the world war, planned to leave here with several companions tomorrow for Asuncion to offer aid to Paraguay in case war developed.

Brazil's Rebels Open Drive.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, July 29.—(AP)—The government announced today that the Sao Paulo rebels were pushing a drive in the southern sector around Rezende and that they had received help from airplanes. Meanwhile 120 rebel prisoners arrived here from the front lines. Cardinal Leme urged Catholics to pray for peace.

Machine Guns Guard Palace.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 29.—(AP)—Eight truckloads of machine guns bristled expectantly around the presidential palace today, brought there at midnight following rumors of discord in the army and political rumblings against the government of Carlos Davila. The machine gun defense was ordered out by the cabinet, which remained in session through the night. It was reported that several cabinet changes would be announced soon. All troops are being held in readiness.

70 DRYS RAID 14 PLACES IN AURORA, DE KALB

A raiding squad of seventy prohibition agents under the direction of Administrator M. L. Harney last night raided fourteen places in Aurora and De Kalb, including saloons, restaurants and residences. Divided into squads of three or four men, the raiders struck simultaneously in the two towns. Ten places were raided in Aurora and a dozen arrests made. In De Kalb six arrests were made in four raids. All prisoners will be arraigned today before United States Commissioner Walker.

60 Pound Catfish Caught; Takes 4 Men to Land It

Pana, Ill., July 29.—[Special.]—The largest fish ever taken from the Kaskaskia river was drawn out last night at Lorton bridge, southeast of Pana, by Ashby Tipsword and three other fishermen, who were almost dragged into the river by it. It was a Mississippi catfish and weighed approximately sixty pounds.

COPS KEPT IDLE IN COURT 90 HRS. IN BANDIT CASE

Victims Charge Defense with Breaking Faith.

Three policemen spent 90 hours twiddling their thumbs in court during the 25 hearings granted three bandits who held up Miss Marie MacLaughlan, 17 years old, and her mother in a restaurant at 9137 South Western avenue last May 2, the policemen revealed yesterday.

The leader of the bandits, Charles Harrington, 16 years old, who slightly wounded Miss MacLaughlan after she had shot him in the hip in the holdup, was sent to the St. Charles School for Boys yesterday. An indeterminate sentence, which may be terminated in eighteen months if he is on good behavior, was approved by Circuit Judge Otto Kerner.

Two Put on Probation.

Harrington's two companions, Alex. Johnston and Allen Reynolds, were granted probation on Wedensday by Chief Justice Harry M. Fisher of the Criminal court. Miss MacLaughlan, tired, she said, by the many continuances, agreed to the probation. Her father, J. D. MacLaughlan, head of a patrol service, said the many trips to court were too expensive.

"Another thing influenced me to agree to the probation," MacLaughlan said yesterday. "Attorneys for the two boys put on probation promised to reimburse me for all the expenses of going to court if I agreed to the probation. Now they have refused to pay a nickel."

As Policemen See It.

Meanwhile the three policemen, Harry McGrath, Patrick McMahon, and Malachy Burns, who appeared in court each time the case was called, accepted the result philosophically. They estimated that they had spent a total of ninety hours in court because of the various continuances. In the case of McMahon, who works a night shift, this meant that he was in court when he should have been in bed.

"There's many a case that ends the same way," the policemen said. "The police do their duty by appearing as witnesses and it's no business of ours what courts do."

ROB CONSUMER'S OFFICE.

Bondholders Are Asked to Deposit Holdings.

Members of the committee which will seek the deposit of underlying securities of the Chicago elevated lines in order that "L" and street car properties may be merged in the Chicago Local Transportation company were announced yesterday by Halsey, Stewart & Co., reorganization managers. With the announcement was an appeal to bondholders to deposit their holdings at once.

D. F. KELLY.

In addition to D. F. Kelly, president of the Fair store, whose appointment as chairman of the committee was announced Thursday, members of the deposit committee are Lawrence K. Callahan, Chicago capitalist; Edwin L. Lobdell, chairman of the investment house bearing his name, Arthur V. Morton of Philadelphia, vice president of the Pennsylvania Company for Insurance on Lives and Granting Annuities, and Berthold Singer, capitalist and consular representative in Chicago of a number of foreign governments.

Long Experience.

Mr. Lobdell, it was stated, has had long experience in handling Chicago traction securities. The Pennsylvania company, of which Mr. Morton is an officer, is one of the largest trust companies in the country.

In addition to bonds of the Chicago Rapid Transit company, the committee asked for the deposit of bonds of the Metropolitan West Side Elevated Railway company, the Union Consolidated Elevated Railway company, the Northwestern Elevated Railroad company, and the Union Elevated Railroad company, the old companies from which the present "L" system was built.

There are seven bond issues involved altogether. Default of interest on some of the issues on July 1 was the principal reason for the federal court receivership of the Rapid Transit company. Bondholders were informed that eventually a separate protective committee will be formed to represent the special interests of each group of bondholders in the reorganization negotiations.

Need Immediate Action.

"Immediate concerted action is necessary, not only for general protection, but to endeavor to save and further the work already accomplished toward the acquisition by the Chicago Local Transportation company of the transportation properties of the Chicago Rapid Transit company and those of the surface line companies," a Halsey, Stuart & Co. statement said. "Upon such acquisitions, the Chicago Local Transportation company will be qualified under and in a position to accept the ordinance providing for a comprehensive unified local transportation system for the city of Chicago and metropolitan area."

Various committees have been seeking deposit of surface lines securities and the agreement of their holders to the merger terms since 1930. The "L" bonds were originally intended to be left outstanding, as a prior obligation of the new company. The receivership of the "L" lines necessitated a change in the reorganization terms and the deposit of these bonds.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED

DENIES WENDEL INSCRIBED WILL "SON" PRODUCED

Open Attack on Story of Claimant.

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—The purported will of John Gottlieb Wendel, leaving his entire estate to his "son," Thomas Patrick Morris, and the statement in which he acknowledged Morris as his son were declared not to be in Wendel's handwriting today by the one time secretary of the millionaire, testifying before Surrogate James A. Foley.

It is largely upon this statement and this will, both written on the fly leaves of a romantic novel, that Morris bases his claim to kinship with the late Ella V. Von E. Wendel, who left an estate of some $30,000,000.

Morris himself, after three days on the witness stand, quitted it today and immediately heard an attack launched on his story by John M. Harlan, trial counsel for the estate. The statement of the secretary, William Diaz, was the high point of this attack. It was, however, a little qualified by Diaz's admission that there was about Wendel's purported signature to the will "something to compel you to look twice."

Aside from the handwriting issue, Mr. Harlan directed his efforts toward breaking down Morris' contention that Wendel had visited him, when Morris was a boy, in Scotland.

Mr. Diaz said that Wendel had not been out of New York state from 1839 to 1912—a statement which, if true, would wipe out Morris' story.

Rochester, N. Y., July 29.—[Special.]—President Eamon de Valera of the Irish Free State will share the estate of his mother, Mrs. Catherine T. Wheelwright, who died here June 12, with his half-brother, the Rev. Thomas J. Wheelwright, C. SS. R., of West End, N. J., according to terms of her will probated here today.

The estate consists of the family home here and personal property estimated at about $500. Father Wheelwright is named executor, and among the papers filed was a waiver of citation signed by De Valera at the American consulate in Dublin last July 4, consenting to probate of the will.

After providing for burial expenses, Mrs. Wheelwright wrote:

"All the rest, residue and remainder of my estate I give unto Eamon de Valera and Thomas J. Wheelwright, my beloved sons, to be divided equally between them."

ENDS HIS LIFE; LEAVES LETTER ACCUSING TWO

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—Henry Schultz, 62, once wealthy refrigerating cabinet manufacturer, killed himself today very methodically in the basement of his home in the Bronx.

Schultz left a letter in Yiddish full of moral homily and accusations of bad faith against two former employés. He connected 25 feet of gas tubing to a burner and ran it through a hole he bored in a paint cabinet door. Then opening all basement windows so the fumes would not rise into the house, Schultz turned on the gas, entered the cabinet, and closed the door.

In his farewell letter Schultz directed that his body be buried precisely at 3 p. m., Sunday, that the body remain in the house until just before that hour, and that the letter be read to the assemblage at the grave.

Schultz asserted that two trusted employés had quit his employ and started a rival business, the competition driving him to the point of bankruptcy.

GOV. LESLIE MAY ORDER TROOPS TO INDIANA MINE

Terre Haute, Ind., July 29.—[Special.]—No work was done at the Dixie Bee coal mine south of here again today, picketers successfully stopping miners from entering. Today only 200 appeared, but they interrupted passage and then argued with all would-be workers, who returned home, having been instructed by mine authorities not to attempt to run picket lines.

Picketers were assigned to homes of all Dixie Bee workers. One miner reported his home surrounded by 25 pickets.

It was reported tonight that Gov. Leslie has warned mine operators and pickets they must settle their differences by Monday or he will send National Guardsmen to the Dixie Bee.

Clinic Will Aid 100 Victims of Sneeze Weed

Announcement that the University of Illinois Research hospital, 1817 West Polk street, will conduct another experimental clinic for hay fever sufferers when the ragweed pollen ushers in the sneeze season this year was made by Dr. Ben Z. Rappaport, director, yesterday.

More than 100 sufferers will be treated between Aug. 15 and Oct. 1 in pollen free wards, one of which has refrigerated air for the comfort of asthma victims during the hot weather.

The experiment this year will be an amplification of the work done last year, when the patients were placed in a ward with paper filtered, almost pollen free, air. The filtering machines have been greatly improved and three different types will be used to determine which is most effective, according to Dr. Rappaport.

A previous announcement carried by the Associated Press stated that the patients already had been selected. This announcement was erroneous and unauthorized, Dr. Rappaport said.

Applications will be received up to Aug. 10. Persons living in or near Chicago will receive preference, for the sake of convenience, for those selected will go about their business during the day while sleeping at the hospital. Patients will be chosen in the order of application and only those whose afflictions are confined to the months of August and September will be considered.

All patients will be permitted to stay for a period of several days to a week, depending upon their reaction to the treatment. Most of those having hay fever only last year were promptly relieved, but those who had pollen asthma had to remain from four to eleven days before obtaining relief, Dr. Rappaport said. Associated with Dr. Rappaport in conducting the experiment will be Dr. Tell Nelson, also of the research hospital.

Whether 1,500 unemployed heads of families will be put to work exterminating ragweeds by the Illinois emergency relief commission, as recommended by the Chicago's Woman's club, will not be known until next Wednesday, Dr. Morfton H. Bickham, director of the special work division of the commission, said yesterday.

"We have no funds as yet for August, and whether we will get any of the $3,000,000 federal relief fund granted to Illinois will not be determined until the commission meets with the governor on Monday," said Dr. Bickham. "Then the special work division will meet on Wednesday to consider policies."

Dr. Bickham said he was in sympathy with the ragweed extermination movement, but could not express himself at this time on the question of using relief funds for that purpose.

During the fall of 1930 and the spring of 1931, 10,000 heads of families were given jobs by the special work division under the governor's commission. Then from September until April 3,000 men were kept at work and the program since then has been expanded under the Illinois emergency relief commission, with 8,000 men at work and an expenditure of $550,000. The fund will be exhausted Aug. 1.

There are two kinds of ragweed, the giant and the pygmy, and both species, equally vicious to hay fever sufferers, are scattered throughout Chicago and the suburbs, according to Dr. Bernard Fantus, ragweed expert on the joint extermination committee of the women's clubs and the Goodwill industries.

"Ragweed flourishes along roadsides, railroad rights of way, water courses, and on vacant lots," said Dr. Fantus. "It is particularly thick on Cicero and Augusta avenues, on Lawrence and Milwaukee avenues, and along the sanitary district canal. There is much of it near the loop, on the west, north and south sides, and in the suburbs, particularly along the water courses and in the forest preserves."

Dr. Fantus said that 300 men, employed by the West Town Chamber of Commerce, reduced ragweed on the west side about 90 per cent last year and that as a result there is only about 10 per cent as much growing this year in the section where they worked.

Society Women Aid Charity Ticket Sales for Circus Aug. 6

The entire net profits of the afternoon and evening performances of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey's combined shows on Saturday, Aug. 6, when the circus opens in Grant park, will be donated to the Chicago Infant Welfare society by John Ringling, owner, the society announced yesterday.

The funds will benefit the 25,000 babies and expectant mothers in the poorest sections of Chicago, where 20 stations of the Infant Welfare society operate. In the 21 years since the society was founded to serve the needs of Chicago's babies, there has not been such great need for the service as exists now, officials of the society said.

Mrs. Andrew McNally of Evanston, is chairman of the society's ticket committee for the performances, assisted by Mrs. Kingsly Coleman, Mrs. John Denison, Mrs. R. L. Hurst, Mrs. R. F. McMaster and Mrs. J. H. Roberts. Tickets will be on sale beginning Monday at Marshall Field and Company and Lyon & Healy's.

Stores Display Lures for the Gift Shopper

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Gift and gadget shoppers can prowl around the shops this summer and have a grand time spending their money, for gifts and gadgets are superabundant wherever you look.

Whether you loiter around these collections trying to find suitable remembrances for friends, or loot to lug away for your week-end trips, or gifts for friendly relatives, you'll probably be embarrassed by all the available merchandise or else start some gadget collecting for yourself and the place you call home.

You'll lose your heart to some new bedside lamps, fat, squat, comfortable, placid looking affairs of either pewter or gleaming copper. The tiny shade resembles a miniature coolie hat, with the bowl part as round as an apple. They will be perfect for cottage bedrooms, with old fashioned maple and colonial furniture. Even though they are the smallest lamps that gleam they are fully able to shine upon the last few frenzied chapters of a blood curdling mystery and shine on through the night with a comfortable companionship when complete darkness would be dreaded.

Soap collectors will snap at the chance of buying a new and spicy supply of pine scented soap in the new and unusual shapes of regular sized long pine cones; or boxes of soap that look like boxes of roses in enchantingly lovely shades of blue, pink, and lavender.

They are doing some interesting new things with china. There are sets especially planned for summer cottages, with dishes decorated in either mulberry or rosy pink scenes of English country life and with turreted castles in the background.

Interesting idea this, especially if some one knows their English history. Think how easy you can broaden your offspring's education if you can casually recite a few pertinent facts of British politics as they retrieve their eggs and spinach from plates that illustrate Warwick castle, or spoon prunes from sauce dishes that portray the towers of Windsor, or cups with yet another fabled and glamorous and ghosthaunted castle. This new historical china is most moderately priced and you can collect your castles and history, starting with a breakfast for four or else buy enough for six for dinner and still not leave the budget ruinously depleted.

If you are a successful porch hostess who generously feeds all hungry people that drop in any and every hour of the day, you'll be glad to know about all the summer glassware that can be yours for exceedingly small sums. There are good large and tall glasses striped in all colors, orange, red, yellow and black; glasses with stars to match patriotically some new starry serving plates, some good looking red and blue colonial glassware with plates and cups to match, all bumped and knobbed in that old fashioned hobnail pattern.

New cake plates with a business-like cake cutter and server also of china are now spattered with polka dots in red or blue or green or yellow.

And last and anything but least, one shop is showing a new pattern in china called calico and it comes in a lovely rosy shade against a deep cream background. The edges are deep cream and the striped calico pattern covers the remainder of the surface of plates, cups, bowls, platters and teapots. Try this china in your chintz hung, diamond paned cottage dining room and hear your appreciative eaters cheer.

BY RUTH DE YOUNG.

THE king with his sceptre may command men, but Du Barry with her fan will command the king. So Versailles spoke almost 200 years ago when the granddaughter of a pastry cook, the daughter of a seamstress, the mistress of a gamester fluttered her pretty toy and conquered Louis XV., a hostile court, and a battery of tongues.

Yesterday I couldn't refrain wandering back into these historical pleasantries for I had the privilege of a short chat with Mrs. Charles B. Cory Jr., who shares with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Charles B. Cory, an interest in that summer time ornament, the fan, with all of its frivolities, smiles, and coquetry. Mrs. Cory Sr., whose husband is well remembered as curator at the Field museum, is vacationing these warm weather months at Lake Geneva.

It is something of an inherited interest, this fan hobby, the junior Mrs. Cory explained in answer to my queries, for back in the Cory family to the third generation the fan has played a rôle.

"Great Grandmother Cory was a friend of Louis Philippe," Mrs. Cory related. "She traveled much abroad. Her children were presented at the French court. Then when the empire fell in 1848 and Louis with his family fled the Tuileries, which was soon dismantled, grandmother was fortunate enough to obtain a couple of the fans that had belonged to Queen Marie Amelia, before her marriage the daughter of Ferdinand IV. of Italy.

"These, I believe, were the beginning of the collection which now is one of mother's most prized possessions," she continued. "One fan after another has been added down through the years until now the group represents a good many parts of the globe."

The tiny empress fans are precious, dainty trifles, one of them of lace with mother of pearl sequins for ornament. But with all their delicate beauty there are those persons who no doubt would prefer the handsome black Spanish fans, a notable part of the collection.

Another valuable assortment of fans that cannot go without mention is that of Mrs. Martin Ryerson, given a number of years ago to the Art institute. It would be difficult to find a French fashion in fans of which there is not an example in this group.

It is the French ladies of the 18th and 19th centuries that we are indebted for the costliest and the most decorative fans in the whole cycle of history. The first fan, the story is told, was a palm leaf used by a primitive, probably a Hindu, to brush away an annoying insect. This is an origin accepted by persons generally except, perhaps, the Chinese, who delight to repeat two legends that give the ornament a more romantic beginning.

One concerns the fair Lam-si, daughter of a powerful and venerable mandarin who became so suffocated by the heat at a public festival that she withdrew her mask and waved it prettily to give herself the air. The next of the merrymakers, delighted with her graceful gestures, set out at once to invent and perfect the fan. The second tradition tells that the Emperor Tenji, seeing bats folding and unfolding their wings, conceived the idea of making fans of leaves.

Choose whichever story you will, the fan had its beginning before Christ, it became the symbol of Rameses the Great, it played its part in the religious ceremonials of the Greeks and the Romans, and it achieved its place in fashion as the chief weapon of flirtation, the accent of every gesture, the screen for the lady's blushes, the interpreter of her moods.

Who has ever forgotten that Charlotte Corday appeared before Marat in his bath, a knife in one hand, a fan in the other, and consummated the crime that has handed her down to posterity? Or is there any one who doesn't known of Napoleon's contempt for Josephine's shawls and fans, of the lovely playthings painted by Boucher behind which the exotic Pompadour concealed her well simulated blushes, or again of the tiny trifles of the Directoire ladies, not big enough to hide a yawn, much less to conceal a blush?

Fashion after fashion has come and gone, but the fan—of wood, gauze, lace, mica, vellum, parchment paper, mother of pearl, leather, bone, spangles, feathers, even chicken skin—has persisted until today when, as a French couturier said recently, "Now it ees 'le sport,' and the fan and 'le sport,' they do not accord."

PARIS, July 29.—The French market is virtually closed to American films by yesterday's decree requiring that all "dubbed" films be vocalized in France, according to producers' agents here. "Dubbed" films, with French voices substituted for those of the American actors, have been the only source of profit for the American industry here.

Sitting in the very top of the Chicago theater balcony yesterday morning, I had fun. And so did some several thousand others who got there earlier and had all the better seats. Three solid hours of entertainment are to be had this week. The picture elicited silent attention and, at its conclusion, delighted applause—something very rare these days. And it merited that praise.

I didn't see the silent film, as interpreted by Mary Pickford, Eugene O'Brien, Marjorie Daw, and a number of other veterans, but have my doubts as to whether it could be any better than the current one.

Marian Nixon is charming as Rebecca Rowena Randall, a quaint, naïve slip of a girl who makes friends and trouble for herself wherever she goes. You see her first on the mortgaged ramshackle Randall farm, managed by her widowed mother and the seven little Rs. She is invited to live with the Sawyer girls, who have offered to educate her. Rebecca's impromptu entrance into their dignified old home is the beginning of a series of laughable and pathetic episodes. The picture moves rapidly and holds your interest every minute.

And if you don't get a couple of chuckles out of Louise Closser Hale as Aunt Miranda Sawyer—I give up! Every expression, every tone of her voice, even her topknot of silvery hair, is perfect. She's a crusty, crotchety old lady whose icy heart Rebecca finally succeeds in melting.

Settings are very well done. The interior shots of the old white house, residence of the Sawyers for many years, include typical gas chandeliers, ornate wall paper, and enormous beds. And the winter scenes—well, they may be cornflakes on the lot, but they certainly look like snowflakes to me.

Dialogue rings true and Alfred Santell directed with an understanding, capable touch.

The stage show has music, dancing, and such singing!

Watch for List and New Party Tomorrow.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Well, Babe Ruth apparently has fully recovered from the injuries which kept him off the diamond for several days, boys and girls, so our hopes of seeing him at Comiskey park on next Thursday continue to brighten. He lived up to his well earned reputation by hitting two home runs in the game with the Cleveland Indians Thursday, so it would appear that he is none the worse for his recent mishap.

And yesterday the White Sox beat Boston! Perhaps it means that the tide is about to turn for the south side team and they may have a winning streak to overcome that series of losses which looked so discouraging. Jones was the winning pitcher and from your letters I've gathered that he's a big favorite with most of you. Perhaps he'll be on the mound next Thursday in that game with the Yankees.

I've selected the hundred winners for this baseball party and their names will appear in tomorrow's SUNDAY TRIBUNE. There will be news of another good party, too, so don't fail to see it.

Announcement of the display and the fashion shows was made by Ger Sunde, director.

Dark, Romantic Tones Are Smart for Evening Wear

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—As the French dressmakers get busy on their first fall fashions, it is evident that dark, romantic reds are going to be in style for winter evening frocks. Such shades as wine and garnet are effectively used to make stunning evening frocks that look ahead to autumn. And already a few ultra-smart women are wearing these colors around Paris.

Recently at the new cabaret called Montmartre, which reproduces the picturesque and ramshackle Place du Tertre, as a background for the smartest Parisiennes, I saw the frock, pictured today, from Mirande, which is made of maroon red taffeta-faille. It looked very distinguished amid the pale, summery dresses all around.

In making this frock Mirande has added to the quaintness of the material and the color by trimming it with cartridge plaited bands, which resemble ruching. The short sleeves are almost covered with these cartridge plaited bands, and the gored skirt has a wide hem of the same.

Old Settlers Hold 58th Annual Picnic in Park Grove Monday

Veteran residents of Chicago will hold the 58th annual old settlers' picnic Monday in the grove at Riverview park. The annual picnic, started shortly after the Chicago fire, is held under the auspices of the Chicago Turn Gemeinde.

The society keeps a register of all of the old settlers. For that purpose all persons over 40 years old who have lived in Chicago since 1903, will be so classified this year.

There will be a band concert and dance music at the picnic, with bouquets as prizes for the ten oldest couples who take the dance floor. Gold medals will be awarded to the oldest settlers present, the married couple whose ages total the highest, the employé who has worked longest for a single firm, and for the head of a family with the largest number of descendants.

Sixsome Will Play Again for Benedict Cup

Three Couples Tied in Onwentsia Golf Event.

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE George F. McLaughlins won the Benedict cup at the Onwentsia club last year on the 18th green in a sixsome that they, the Charles Dennehys and the Kent Chandlers had to play because the three couples tied for low score in the two ball foursome that is played each summer for the large, handsome silver cup, and this year the McLaughlins, the Dennehys, and the James C. Cathcarts are going to have to play another sixsome to decide who will have the cup this year.

The foursomes were played on Thursday and the former Hollis Letts and her husband, George McLaughline; the former Virginia Wilson, who achieved high golfing honors before she was married, and her husband, Charles Dennehy, and the former Margaret Strawn and her husband, James Cathcart, all brought in net scores of 80, so they will play a match to see who wins the cup some day soon, perhaps tomorrow.

Lake Breezes Encourage Dancing at Outdoor Party.

After the golf Thursday the golfers and others of the members who had not appeared on the links assembled on the brick terrace near the swimming pool for a buffet supper—there is one every Thursday, "cook's night out," at the club—and the dancing that followed on the outdoor platform, just west of the pool. It was almost too cool for comfort when sitting still—a blessed lake breeze having routed the heat that threatened in the morning—but it made the dancing more enjoyable and luckily there were good hot corned beef hash and chicken à la king in addition to the delicious cold lobster and mayonnaise for supper, so no one minded being a bit chilly.

Some of the Lake Foresters who were there were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Chase, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Glore, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Aldis, who had with them Mrs. Edward L. Hasler and the Hubert Ropps, the Scott Durands, the William Burrys, senior and junior, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace C. Winter, Miss Martha Sarver, the Laurance H. Armours, the junior William R. Onwentsia and Indian Hill Tennis Match Tomorrow.

Tomorrow afternoon at the Onwentsia the tennis devotees will have a chance to cheer for their own team when four of the star players from the Indian Hill club in Winnetka come to Lake Forest to play in singles and doubles against the Onwentsia players. Upholding the honor of Indian Hill will be T. Weller Kimball, Hughes Dallas, Richard T. Matthiessen, and "Ned" Brown, and playing for Onwentsia will be Dustin Grannis, Joseph C. Belden Jr., James R. Addington, and Charles F. Garland. The first match will start at 3 o'clock.

Tonight the Indian Hill club is having one of its delightful dancing and breakfast parties which are so popular with the younger members especially. Breakfast is served in the orchard after the dancing stops around midnight. Miss Judith Boddie, who is spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. John T. Boddie, at the Georgian hotel in Evanston, is taking about 30 guests to the party, and Mrs. Melvin N. Veeder also is having a party.

If the lovely cool weather continues another new mark for attendance may be set at Arlington Park today, the last day of the racing season at the beautiful park out northwest of Chicago, which has been such a popular rendezvous for smart Chicagoans and their guests from east, south and west during the month the club has been open this summer. There are numerous reservations for luncheon parties at the fashionable Post and Paddock club and also in the general clubhouse restaurant, a few of the many who have made reservations being Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Field, Mr. and Mrs. Honoré Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Silas H. SOMETHING OUGHT TO BE DONE ABOUT THIS

I Like You So Much

BY MAY EDGINTON

SYNOPSIS.

Gold Franklyn calls Dr. Elverton, who has a surgery in a poor district of London, to attend her indolent, dependent, young half brother. The doctor offers to give Barney Pierce, a well to do accident victim, a lift to his destination, and Pierce waits while the doctor makes his call. He catches a glimpse of the pretty creature who summoned the doctor. Both men determine to help the plucky young orphan girl. The doctor is to sail the next week to New York and Havana on a leave, taking the ship doctor's place. Mrs. Doria Hathaway, a widow friend of Pierce's, is to sail on the same boat. She wants a maid-companion for the Atlantic crossing. The doctor sends Gold to see Mrs. Hathaway and she gets the job. Pierce regrets putting Gold under the demoralizing influence of Doria. He decides to sail himself. On the boat Doria meets David Dorrance, who wants to interest Pierce in a business deal. Doria asks Gold to dine with her. They are joined by Pierce and Dorrance. Gold is angered by Pierce's cynicism and distrust of women. Gip Alen, Gold's half brother, stows away on the boat and threatens to disclose his identity unless Gold does as he bids. Pierce, who overhears Gip's threats, unknown to Gold, arranges to get him third class passage on condition he doesn't bother Gold. Dorrance offers Gold a position as his secretary on the Havana trip, which she gladly accepts. Doria invites a good looking youth from steerage to dine with her and give an exhibition tango. The youth is Gip Alen.

INSTALLMENT XXX.

AN ANONYMOUS BENEFACTOR

"I don't understand," Pierce said from his distance, "how that can be. Couldn't you explain?"

"No. Except——" her voice was still steady and cool, "you've been very nice to find me this minute's shelter. And so I can tell you this much, that I've been running away from a fight, and now suddenly this evening has made me decide to stay and face it."

"What was the fight?"

"That's a private affair," she said.

"I should be really honored if you would tell me more."

"There is nothing to tell; nothing to do."

Pierce turned towards the inner door. "I am going to give you a stiff brandy and soda. Medicine. You need it." He disappeared.

For a half minute Gold Franklyn sat quite still, hearing without listening to it, the tinkle of glasses, the faint "plop" of a cork withdrawn; and then, without a sound, she got to her feet; without a sound was out of the suite and in the main gangway. There was more than merely her first distrust of Barney Pierce that winged her going. She had seen very clear pictures of events as she sat in that armchair, as if the relieving tears had washed the mirage gleams of all foolish hopes from her eyes. She saw Doria, who most certainly would not have wished to see her where she was. She owed a duty to Doria Hathaway who, so lightheartedly, taking her almost on trust, disdaining as it were to examine her moral credits, had brought her aboard this ship. And though now every nerve in her body ached for even such aloneness as she would find in her cramped cabin with the little governess, she made for the smokeroom to find Doria.

"I shall stand by Gip if there's immigration trouble; and if he gets by, I shall have to look after him a little while till he's on his own feet."

She found herself standing beside Elverton in the doorway, listening to the bidding, and into her cleared consciousness was a keen realization of Doria's share in it. Doria stood to make her bids; people were looking at her; she was gay and defiant as if she challenged fate. As she stood there near Elverton, Gold Franklyn knew definitely that Doria Hathaway would not offer her the fare for the return journey.

"So Gip and I together would not be able to get back if the worse came to the worst and he were deported," Gold thought.

Though, of course, Dorrance had suggested the possibility of a return passage after her work on the Havana trip.

Then Elverton turned and saw her.

"Going in?" he said pleasantly.

His pleasant voice belied his thoughts, which were fixed on Doria, and were stark and simple.

She shook her head. "No, I only want to find out if Mrs. Hathaway wants me again tonight."

"I'll find that out for you."

He plunged in among the absorbed groups, reached Doria, asked a question, received with the reply a glittering defiant smile, and came back.

"No," he told her.

"Then I'm going to bed."

"I would like to speak to you a moment, my dear child," said Elverton, "we are old friends, I know your trouble, so you can talk to me."

"I've decided," she said steadily.

"Decided how and what?"

"I shall stand by Gip if there's immigration trouble, and if he gets by I shall have to look after him a little till he's on his own feet."

"I've told you that will never be if you look after him."

"But you see I can't desert?"

"I may see that," said Elverton attentively, and a glow warmed his eyes, "but there's desertion and desertion. There's tactical desertion and that would be your line. That is fully justified."

"But I'd have to be within reach, within call, even if he didn't know it."

"You're like a mother with a bad child whom she shuts into a room alone, listening anxiously at the keyhole herself to make sure it doesn't cry!"

He walked slowly beside her back through the main lounge. "Look here. You've landed a job for yourself?"

"Yes. I am not at liberty to tell you what it is."

"Quite. Though I'd like to know. I feel almost in loco parentis to you."

"And to Gip?"

"Certainly not. That's not my child!"

"I've accepted the job. It's a temporary one."

"Good?"

"A dream!"

"My dear child, hold on to it. What prevents?"

"What may happen to Gip may prevent."

"Now," said Elverton, "do you trust me? You do? Good! If I promise you that your young stepbrother will be provided for perfectly while you fulfill this contract of yours—because a promise should be a contract," he urged.

"A promise is a contract." She thought of Doria, the lighthearted, gambling her money away, breaking her undertakings, and could even feel a real affection for that warm, greedy, improvident bird of paradise. "I promised my mother to care for Gip," she said.

"If you can be assured all will be well with him—that is to say, he'll be looked after and given a fine chance—will you let go and go on with your own life?"

"I might, then. Making conditions with myself."

"'Conditions?'"

"Not to cheat over it. Not to pretend it was best for him if it was only best for me. Not to desert," she said again.

"Listen," Elverton urged in a voice she could not doubt, "the rich passenger who paid your stepbrother's fare is offering him a six months' tryout at the very best possible game for him." He imagined the Texan tramp, but kept the dry, enjoying smile from his lips.

"Truly?"

"Truly. Your stepbrother has accepted it." He had heard both offer and "acceptance," yet still kept the dry, enjoying smile away. "Your stepbrother, so he told us and so we believe, is an American national."

"I'd forgotten it! Will that count?"

"It will count everything. We have little doubt of landing him quite easily."

"'We?'"

"I can hardly believe it all."

"You may believe it all, and more," Elverton emphasized.

"Supposing this benefactor changes his mind, or—or tires, or—or doesn't mean all he says."

"I promise you this is a man who does not tire, does not change his mind, and means all that he says. This is a man who would never let go."

Elverton enjoyed saying this.

"Why the secrecy?" she asked suddenly.

"Ah! Rich men, my dear child, are careful. They are afraid to advertise their good deeds. That is why rich men are a greatly maligned breed."

"I can think of a rich man who thinks every one is a sponger—especially women. But I don't think Gip's rich man would be like that. The one I am thinking of would so despise any one he helped—if there is any one whom he helps."

Bodyguard Is New Film Mark of Distinction

George Bancroft Engages Two to Protect Him.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

Hollywood, Cal., July 29.—[Special.]—Instead of back yard swimming pools one's bodyguard is beginning to pass as the Hollywood mark of individual consequence. George Bancroft, who once mildly remarked that "all the world seems to be Bancroft conscious," has risen to the occasion by hiring two bodyguards. They stick with him everywhere. One is a medium sized Englishman, who looks inoffensive, but really is a "hard guy." The other is a chap two inches taller than the New York Empire State building.

Nicholas Gyory, friend and business representative for Lita Grey Chaplin, has added bodyguarding to his duties. He applied to the Los Angeles police commission yesterday for a permit to carry a gun, saying it was for the protection of the two Chaplin children. He said: "So far as I know there is no specific threat."

Guards who had been stationed for the temporary protection of Jackie Cooper and Edgar Allan Woolf, writer, as the result of threats, have been dismissed; but watchmen still patrol the huge Beach Side mansion belonging to Marion Davies, who received an incendiary package with a fuse last year. Joe von Sternberg, Marlene Dietrich, and Ann Harding also have bodyguards.

Grover Jones, scenario partner of William Slavens McNutt, lives on an isolated stretch of Beverly boulevard in the Brentwood district, midway between Hollywood and the sea. No gasoline stations remain open in his district late at night, and Jones got tired of having his front door bell rung two or three times a week by automobile parties who had run out of gas and wished to telephone for help. So Jones puts a 1 gallon can of gas on his front lawn, by the curb, every night and surmounts it with a placard: "You are welcome to the gallon of gas in the can, but please don't wake me up by ringing the door bell."

Jocelyn Lee, actress, has surrendered to their father, Luther Reed, her two children, Dana and Celeste. Reed will rear the children. Their mother called up on long distance from New York to bid good-by while she was preparing for a trip to Paris.

Nancy Lyon, Harry Bannister's youthful fiancée, who is one of the girls in the Cantor picture, fell from a high stairway to the floor while rehearsing last Wednesday but was back on the set today.

There has been a convention of deans of men from various colleges at the campus of University of California at Los Angeles this week. Yesterday one of the hosts for the deans called up United Artists studio and said the deans would like to visit a film studio. The film they wanted to see in the making was Eddie Cantor's "Kid from Spain," where seventy chorus girls in scanties were rehearsing under Dance Director Bus Beerkley.

Little Dickie Moore, having finished in Marlene Dietrich's picture, has been signed to play the protégé of Orphan Annie in Radio-RKO's "Little Orphan Annie." In fact, it was children's day in the Radio-RKO casting office today. Junior Durkin, being there, was signed up for two pictures by Producer J. D. Bachman.

A Friend in Need

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Need Home Furnishings.

"I wonder if you can help a family we are interested in secure some furniture. They were recently burned out and saved only the bedroom furniture. Now they need table and chairs, living room furniture, and clothing for a girl 5 and a boy 2. They will be so grateful to you if you can help them out of this situation.

"M. F."

Your odd or surplus pieces of furniture could be put to good use here in helping this family reëstablish a home. At present, lack of necessary furnishings is making them most uncomfortable.

Request for Fruit Jars.

"We are a young couple living on the edge of this town. My husband is a cripple, so it is impossible for him to do much work. We have garden space and fruit trees and I could do quite a bit of canning if I had fruit jars, but we have no money with which to buy them. It would help so much if we could get them through your column. MRS. H. L."

Preserving the fruits and vegetables which are plentiful in their garden now would help to solve the food problem for these unemployed people next winter. Fruit jars would make this possible.

Hundreds too many questions this week to settle in our one short question and answer chat. But those which can't be squeezed into type will be answered by mail, so please feel free to write us whenever trouble turns up in the kitchen.

First from H. S., who must have read my mind, for she wants one of the cakes I was planning to talk about next week—an angel-sunshine cake. As Miss S. remarks, "the exterior is that of an angel food, but when sliced it appears to be a combination of both sunshine and angel food."

1⅛ cups sugar.
¼ teaspoon salt.
2 1-3 cup egg whites.
4 egg yolks.

Sift the flour, measure it, and sift again four times. Beat the whites slightly, add salt and cream of tartar, and beat till stiff. Fold in the sugar by tablespoonfuls, mixing gently after each addition. Remove one-half to another bowl and fold into it gently the orange extract, three-fourths cup of the sifted flour, and the egg yolks, which have been beaten very light. To the other half add the vanilla and remaining flour, folding in gently.

The cake may be baked in one of two ways. Either divide the white mixture, placing half in an ungreased tube pan, then adding the yellow portion and finally the remaining white. Or the mixtures may be spooned into the pan alternately, giving a cake with a delightful gold and white marbled appearance on cutting.

Question No. 2 comes from Miss C. M., who is having trouble with yeast dough for rolls which she puts in her ice box. Invariably, she says, it sours inside of twenty-four hours, no matter how carefully she covers it.

This souring might take place because of so many different factors that it is almost impossible to say which, offhand. But almost invariably such difficulty comes from insufficient refrigeration. If yours is, as you say, an "ice box," Miss M., it is possible that the dough is not being kept cold enough. The coldest place in any box is just under the ice—not on it or above it. But even this does not seem to keep certain dough recipes from spoiling.

The second possibility is that your recipe, while good the first day, has poor keeping qualities. The best way to test this is to experiment with another recipe and compare the results. With too little salt the yeast is sometimes not sufficiently regulated, and may develop slightly even at relatively low temperatures, thus souring the dough.

Our third question can be asked in about ten words and answered—if only there were room—in about three thousand. It comes from Miss H. H., who asks what to serve, and how best to serve a buffet lunch to about 300 people in a private home.

Such a luncheon—any entertainment for a large group—requires a deal of organizing and service. The simplest solution will be the use of two large tables with a hostess seated at the end of each. The tables should be dressed in their most pleasing linen, with a low, artistic arrangement of flowers or fruit in the center. Since guests undoubtedly will have to pass in line about the two tables [which will be equipped exactly the same], and later hold their plates or trays on their laps, no foods which require knives should be served, and high glasses and goblets should be avoided.

The buffet luncheon usually has two courses, the first consisting of one or two hot dishes with sandwiches or hot breads, a salad and a relish, the second of dessert and coffee. The tables should be reset for the second course and the guests asked to place their used dishes on a service table which will be cleared to the kitchen as fast as filled. Dishes from the dessert course may go back on the main tables. One interesting menu runs like this:

Meat Timbales
Baked Potatoes in Half Shell
Hot Buttered Rolls Relish
Sour Cream Cabbage Salad
Peach Sherbet
Fig Bars
Coffee Nuts Mints

Guests should be served the meat and potatoes first by one hostess who has the plates beside her. Guests then pass around the table, helping themselves to additional main dishes, and to rolls and relish. At the other end they are served with salad by the hostess, and help themselves to dressing, forks, napkins, and glasses of water on the way back on the other side of the table.

The dessert course will be served in the same fashion. One hostess supplies plates and dessert. Nuts, wafers, and candy are taken by guests as they pass up one side. They are then helped to coffee by the other hostess and then help themselves to sugar, cream, fork and spoon on the return trip. If convenient, glasses of water may be carried around by a maid after the guests are seated.

Haverford, Pa., July 29.—(AP)—Lloyd E. Morris Jr. of Columbus, O., today was announced as a winner of a corporation scholarship to Haverford college.

WOMAN'S DRESS.

Isn't this an attractive dress for summer days about town? It's a lovely model and slimming. Navy blue and white silk crêpe, with plain white for contrast, made the original. The cross over tied bodice detracts from the width, and the inverted pin tucks cleverly indicate the normal waistline, leaving the front and back free, thus creating a panel effect and giving the figure height.

The pattern, 2959, comes in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material with ¼ yard of 35 inch contrasting.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McNally of Evanston, who have one of the loveliest o fthe island estates and who have been prominent in all of the summer activities in that region for many years, are not going to open their house this season and probably will remain in Evanston through the entire summer.

August is always the gayest month on the islands, with sociabilities centering around the Thousand Island Country club to which most members of the summer colony at Alexandria bay belong. The annual invitation golf tournament will open on Monday at the club and will bring a number of visitors to the islands. The Thousand Islands Yacht club is another popular gathering place for the summer visitors, especially on Saturday nights, when members from the surrounding islands attend the dinner-dances.

Mrs. O. B. Tennis of Paris arrived from Europe a few days ago to be the guest of Mrs. Charles T. Boynton of Highland Park for an extended stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Hibbard of 2440 Lake View avenue will leave tomorrow for Eagle Knob lodge at Lake Owen, Wis. They will return in late September.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic B. Whitman of Hannibal, Mo., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Harriet Lee, on June 20. Mrs. Whitman was Miss Gertrude Bissell of Winnetka before her marriage.

Second Baby Can Cause Behavior Woes with First

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

A letter and answer which speak for themselves make up today's column.

The letter: "I would like the pamphlets on 'Obedience' and 'Stubbornness.' I am having some trouble with my little girl and finally [since I wanted quiet, as I had a small baby] I spanked her. Lately she has been so cross and I seem to be unable to talk or reason things out with her. When she was a little thing I could reason with her so well.

"She comes stamping downstairs, doesn't want to sit up and eat her breakfast, slides off the chair under the table, speaks crossly when she is spoken to and in general acts the part of an ill-mannered, disobedient little girl.

"Now, as to her physical condition. She has always been well until this summer when she and the baby both had whooping cough, followed by a stomach and bowel disturbance which the doctor said is prevalent here now.

"I realize she has had a hard summer—terribly hot weather, but I can't let her go on as she is or she will grow up to be hard to manage.

"She was the only child until she was 3½.

"I didn't worry so much over her behavior until I read a doctor's comment on the Indiana case [girl killed at a wild party]. The boy had never 'minded' his mother."

The answer:

First, I should not worry about some of the things that are said after newspaper tragedies like the one you mentioned. There are some people who always ascribe every spectacular and abnormal crime to simple disobedience in normal children.

Just as you yourself think, your little girl was probably feeling the effects of heat and whooping cough. She has been a really sick child. I should ignore her amazing ways as much as possible and avoid the spanking, though I understand how hard it is for you. Perhaps the "Patience" booklet would be helpful to you, in addition to the others.

But I do think the baby is a factor. I would try to reassure your little daughter of her place in your affections, not by lots of demonstrations, but by a real interest in what she does, by giving her your companionship alone at times, by enlisting her as your ally and helper, and by exercising a patience that is often difficult with a young baby to care for. These indirect means do bear definite fruit. This I know.

Nine Hurt in Glasgow's Welcome to Movie Team

GLASGOW, Scotland, July 29.—(AP)—Nine persons went to hospitals and many were less seriously hurt in a wild crush of several thousands at Central station today to greet Laurel and Hardy, the Hollywood movie team, who came to spend the week-end. Laurel wept with emotion. Each of the comedians said he never had seen such a welcome.

ENGAGEMENT

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Evans Roberts, daughter of Col. Warren R. Roberts of Chicago, to Kenneth Stewart Cole, on June 29, in New York City. The bride is a graduate of the law department of the University of California and has been associated for several years with a corporation law firm in Chicago. Dr. Cole is a graduate of Yale with additional degrees from Columbia university and the University of Leipzig. He is a research professor in the department of physiobiology at Columbia.

Bright Sayings of the Children

Bobby, aged 3, had been ill and could not have his usual outings because of that and inclement weather. One day he looked out of the window, then turned to me and said wistfully, "There are two mammas 'bugging' their babies." Two neighbor women had passed with their baby carriages.

Girl's Amateur Movie Swells Free Ice Fund

BY KATHERINE KELLEY.

In a darkened basement at the Johnson home, 4710 West Austin avenue, last night an audience of youngsters whose parents have been hit by unemployment, gleefully applauded the mischievous antics of Mickey Mouse at an amateur motion picture benefit for THE TRIBUNE free ice fund.

These youngsters had brought their pennies to the neighborhood benefit because they knew there were a good many children more in need of ice than themselves right in their own community. The program was planned by Shirley Madsen, 11 years old, whose uncle, George Johnson, operated the motion picture machine. There also were songs and dances by neighborhood children.

Youngsters who raise money for the ice fund by planning benefits are among the most constant contributors. Every summer neighborhood groups spend the hot vacation presenting original plays, directing circus performances, and managing lemonade stands. Though the recipts are small, their contributions mount up, enabling the ice fund to extend its service to many more families than would be possible without the aid of the juveniles.

$1—Grace Goddard, Myrtle Nelson, G. Lown, and Anonymous.

Total	$ 19.00
Previously acknowledged	1,433.50
Grand total	$1,452.50

Next Tuesday and Thursday will be red letter days for two more delegations of tenement mothers and children, who will leave over the Chicago and North Western railroad for Camp Algonquin. These groups will replace two others who have been spending the past two weeks in the Fox river camp, supported partially by TRIBUNE readers. The camp is directed by the United Charities.

Contributions to both the Free Ice and Camp Algonquin funds should be sent to the cashier of THE TRIBUNE, Tribune Tower. Selection of the needy families who receive ice and camp vacations are made through the United Charities. THE TRIBUNE only raises the funds to make both possible.

Beauty Salon's Slant on the Good Operator

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

This is offered in the way of a novelty in beauty advice. But it may be enlightening and helpful. We are taking the position on the inside looking out. We're getting the beauty salon's slant on the perfect operator in its employ. On that young woman who takes us on, handles our hair, faces, eyebrows, nails, and so on.

In each employé the salon has either an asset or a liability. In a trade paper article one learns: "That the perfect operator must present a personal appearance beyond reproach. She must be perfectly groomed, know her business, have a pleasing personality, and be a good salesperson. If she has a mop of untidy hair hanging limply around her face, long, dirty finger nails, shapeless high heeled shoes, she is no asset to her house.

"Her finger nails, well manicured, should have slight oval tips so that she does not scratch her patron's face or scalp. She wears no jewelry except a watch for timing. Her uniform is crisp and spotless, shoes sensible, with comfortable heels. If her hair doesn't stay in place she wears an invisible net.

"Because the employé works so close to her patron she has to be a fanatic about personal cleanliness. Perspiration preventives must be used so that not the slightest odor is noticeable."

To "dearie" or "honey" a patron is bad form. It is cheap and patrons like best the one who is dignifiedly pleased to see them without gush or cheap effusion.

In spite of patron's well known capacity for unfolding intimate details of their lives, the custotm is not welcome to the salon proprietor. The less intimate chatter and gossip between oprator and patron, the better they like it. The operator is there to explain treatments, give treatments and get the customer out with as smart dispatch as possible.

The good operator never tells what another patron is using, or the kind of treatment she is receiving. But she will tell her patron how better to put on her rouge to bring out greater eye beauty and make other suggestions with sublety to show a personal interest.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Parents, read this! And believe you can't fool those sane, bright young people of yours any of the time:

"I am 20 years old and have been keeping company with a chap 21 years old for two years, and we intend to be married just as soon as finances permit. For the last two years life at home has been one round of arguments after another. Arguments over coming home late [10:30], going on a hike, a boat ride, swimming, playing tennis, or my fiancé coming on a day that we are not supposed to see each other [we meet three times a week]. There isn't anything I can mention that my mother approves of for us to do except one thing and that is going to parties with my brother and sisters. That is quite permissible, yet that is just the kind of amusement we both do not care for.

"Please do not think we are old fashioned; we only feel that those who care for parties should have them and those who do not care for them should not be forced to go to them. Is there anything wrong with such logic? Is there anything wrong in the amusement we crave—boat rides, hikes, etc.? My mother thinks so.

"What makes the situation the harder to bear is the fact that last week we went away for the week-end and my mother's sisters and brothers gathered at the place we were staying. As far back as I can remember at all these gatherings it has always been a custom to start fooling around with each other's husbands and wives, kissing, and so on. All in fun, they claim. Then jokes are told, first nice ones, and then raw ones. From jokes they go to "wisecracking" about sex. It gets so disgusting that one feels like screaming and running away from them, but to leave the room would be committing a breach of etiquette in the eyes of my mother and the people therein.

"Their thoughts run in an evil strain and they think: What can these two lovers be leaving the room for if not to kiss and hug each other? They never stop to think how disgusting and nauseating have been their own actions. Yet, it is these same people, my mother included, who condemn my fiancé if he dares to touch or kiss me. It is these same people who can see nothing but evil in a hike, boat ride, etc.

"We have tried to make my mother see our point, but it is futile. She tells me love is measured in dollars and cents and that it ends after a few months. If I attempt to argue with her, immediately I am accused of never carrying out her wishes—I am ill mannered—I never think of her after all the good things she has done for me Only last night I asked my mother if I may join the Y. W. C. A. and she refused.

"Tell me, Miss Blake, are the things I want to do so ridiculouis and absurd? In my estimation, they are only the things any normal girl would want to do and certainly I am no different from the others. EVELYN."

Paris Fashion Show Princess Silhouette Abolishes Waistline

[Copyright: 1932: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, July 29.—Redfern opens the Paris winter fashion salons by abolishing the waistline in a slim but not fitted princess silhouette. Big sleeves are continued with square top puffs to the elbows, then tight to the wrists.

Fur trimmed cloth suits with lame blouses are shown. Waist length puff sleeved fur jacket or cape and muff sets are featured. A contrasting upper bodice in frock fronts with plain backs is interesting. Pale gray is stressed for evening.

The sensation of Vera Borea's collection is borelastex, a new elastic fabric which may revolutionize fashions by rendering individual fitting superfluous. The process may be applied to all textiles, giving a crinkly crêpe surface.

Borea lowers the waist line to subnormal in numerous models. Her straight wool blouses are sure to be a success. Panel effects for afternoon and evening are smart in the exclusive new crinkled heavy crêpe with a half shiny finish. Corrugated fabrics and ribbon trimmings are notable.

The characteristic Borea style points to fur tail cravats and trim minus pelts. Huge pickled safety pins or saddle girth fastenings are replacing clips. Buttons are banned, except in wood for sports clothes. Leather trimmings and single breasted closings are popular. The favorite colors are potter's clay, asbestos and scarab green.

Skirt lengths are unchanged so far. Sheathe lines and diagonal cuts are waning. High but moderate skirt fullness with front emphasis is confirmed. Smart economy trimming of thick braided or roped yarn cords on wool costumes is offered an alternative fur by Borea and Redfern.

One color ensembles are gaining favor in the formal note. Contrasts continued for sports costumes. Velvet is emphasized for all hours, but crinkly crêpes and knotty woolens hold their ground. Satin is regaining its importance. Linen and cotton lace evening gowns are numerous.

Field Museum Is Given a West Indian Moray

A specimen of the West Indian moray, a species of eel, has been given the Field Museum of Natural History by Capt. F. G. Saeger of Miami, Fla. It is four feet seven inches long, and weighs 15 pounds. The moray has strong, sharp teeth and has been known to bite fishermen, according to Alfred C. Weed, assistant curator of fishes.

'Faraway' Will Be 'Best Seller,' Is Prediction

Has All Ingredients of a Popular Novel.

BY FANNY BUTCHER

"Faraway," by J. B. Priestley (Harpers).

THE author of "The Good Companions" has after two years [since "Angel Pavement"] presented his passionately devoted public with another novel which, while not of the length of "The "Good Companions" (thank heaven), has as much real adventure in its 450 pages as any reader could ask for.

J. B. PRIESTLEY.

If there is one ingredient of the popular novel which Mr. Priestley has omitted I will be grateful to any one calling my attention to it. So complete is the tally of titillating topics that the critic is slighly baffled as to the exact status of the volume which contains them all so lavishly. Is "Faraway" a romance, or a travel book, or a character study, or another "Treasure Island," or a tale of intrigue? The answer to that question is "Yes," because it is all of those things.

It begins and ends in Buntingham, Suffolk, England, in the study of a maltster by the name of William Dursley, who has lived—at the beginning—the forty years of his life with practically no ruffling whatever of his emotions, no adventures of the spirit or the flesh, and who has had at the end, in a couple of years, enough excitement, enough emotion, enough adventure to fill a lifetime.

In that sense it is a romance in the most traditional manner. There is no more romantic idea in literature than that, after what seems like a lifetime of dullness, adventure begins popping. Young and old alike adore such tales, for to the young they give courage to face what may come in the hope that at any moment, round any corner, their own adventure may be encountered. And to the old they give courage to face what has passed, for at any moment, round any corner, their own adventure may be encountered.

Into the quietude of the bachelor study of William Dursley there intrudes his Uncle Baldwin, straight from the South sea where he has been a trader his life long, filled with some mystery about something which turns out to be, as he is dying, a secret about an island on which he has discovered pitchblende, which yields the uranium ore from which radium is taken. To three people in the world who have been kind to him he entrusts the location of the island and, so that no one of the three may outwit the others, he tells his nephew what is on the island, and sends the longitude to one and the latitude to each of the other two—one a retired commander in the royal navy, the other an American in San Francisco. There you have all of the traditional ingredients of the treasure hunt tale.

William Dursley finds Commander Ivybridge (who has the longitude) a character out of the past whose passion in life is to see Easter island before he dies. With him he meets a wealthy Manchester wholesale grocer, with whom they join forces. Each one of the three is in his own right a "character" and in them you have the traditional "character" novel. Their peculiarities of manner, speech and psychology and their joint eagerness to adventure for the sake of adventure give the reader the J. B. Priestley of the famous "The Good Companions."

The third member of Uncle Baldwin's triumvirate proves to be, after Commander Ivybridge and Mr. Ramsbottom have set sail for Tahiti and Mr. Dursley has gone to San Francisco, California, U. S. A., to find him, dead. His daughter, however, has ideas of her own about the treasure hunt and insists upon joining it. And the story of Mr. Dursley's journey across the Atlantic, across the United States, to Tahiti, and through the assorted South seas on the hunt for Faraway island is a travel book of the most popular sort.

All of the traditional travelogue material is there, grilled to perfection. The comment on de luxe travel, on New York, on San Francisco, on the local American panorama as seen from the car window, is done in Mr. Priestley's most sophisticated and skilled manner. Just for the joy in travel which the hero (and the author) had, "Faraway" is a memorable book.

And there is the traditional story of the grand passion, unrequited, and traditional tales of the lighter loves.

There is intrigue, including the intervention of the Chilean government. There are terrific storms at sea, and lazy, lovely, lilting nights on land. There is an unimaginable fortune at stake, beauty, brains, a Hollywood group with the greatest of all the motion picture czars in person (not a news reel). There is, in fact, practically everything that any one ever found in a thriller (except murder) and so skillfully has Mr. Priestley mixed his heady ingredients that the resultant literary shandygaff is sure to cheer and probably will entirely inebriate many readers.

I prophesy that "Faraway" will be far and away the best seller of the next few weeks.

On Monday I shall review Willa Cather's "Obscure Destinies," published on that day.

It was reported from London that a faded copy of Kate Douglas Wiggins' "The Birds' Christmas Carol," "with an autograph by Dickens," brought at an auction $1,680, whereupon a humorous columnist said he would give $16,000,000 for that same copy.

Among the New Books

FICTION.

My Name Is Legion, by Charles Morgan, author of the very popular novel, "The Fountain" [Knopf], a reprint for the U. S., is an avowedly mystical novel about a saintlike girl living in a corrupt world.

Portrait in a Mirror, by Charles Morgan [Knopf], another reissue of a novel from a popular pen, deals subtly and memorably with the ecstasy of first love.

NON-FICTION.

Problems of the Pacific, edited by Bruno Lasker [University of Chicago Press], surveys the present problems of the Pacific, political, social, and economic.

Through the Communist Looking-Glass, by Harry Stekoll [Brewer Warren and Putnam], is by a Russian who has not visited his native country for 20 years and views the experiments there disinterestedly.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Lucille Cléry, by Joseph Shearing [Harpers], was not the heroine's historical name but the actual facts of her life and existence made up this story of a "cause célèbre" of the 19th century.

POETRY.

Applegate Captures Spirit of Tribes in 'Tales of New Mexico'

Frank G. Applegate has collected in "Native Tales of New Mexico" [Lippincott] a whole series of New Mexican folk tales and folk lore, both modern and ancient. He had the capacity as an author and sensitive artist to retell in more effective imagery, since he captured not only the spirit but also the form and continuity and pattern of the tales the natives told him.

There are many differences in the tribes in New Mexico, but the author was so well acquainted with that country that he could separate the mixed blood streams and could trace one particular story back to its original source.

The book of charming and authentic tales has an introduction by Mary Austin, one of the outstanding authorities on the American southwest, who says of Frank Applegate and his book, "that he should have died within the year is the greatest calamity that could have happened to the country that knew and loved him. . . . One cannot endure the thought that the work, dropped from his hands, will utterly fail. For who comes next, it stands as a marker . . . to be taken up again and carried to its appointed end. And the end which the author . . . foresaw was the fusion of all tales. The salient characteristic of all of them is that they could not have happened anywhere else, which is the unassailable hallmark of regionalism in literature."

"Truth About Hoover" Traces to Sources Attacks on President

The author of "The Truth About Hoover" (Houghton-Mifflin), Herbert Corey, when he heard and read the scurrilous attacks on President Hoover, decided that he would do some investigating to see if there was any truth in them.

Each attack he carefully traced to its source and this book is the result, a vindication of Hoover's honesty and courage. Corey devotes several chapters to tracing the origin of the attacks, the authors of them, and, if possible, the intentions behind them.

This book is an honest attempt to investigate the charges brought against Hoover and should in fairness be read both by those who indulge in excessive praise and in excessive blame.

H. M. Tomlinson Writing a Book of Experiences

New Long Novel Will Be Published Next Year.

BY FRANK SWINNERTON.

MR. H. M. TOMLINSON is at work upon a new, long novel which will not be published until next year. In this, following on the plan of "All Our Yesterdays," Mr. Tomlinson is not so much telling a story as expressing in the form of fiction certain ideas which have crystallized in his mind as the result of long experience and thought.

H. M. TOMLINSON.

It will be a criticism. And as Mr. Tomlinson is a journalist who is almost in a class by himself, with much knowledge of matters social and political, the book cannot fail to be of importance. He is not hurrying over it, but with that quiet sincerity which is his delightful characteristic is working slowly and reflectively on a work that will be popular only because it is original and expressive.

Of all English writers, Mr. Tomlinson is the least pretentious. He spends his time between his desk, his garden, and the Savage club, which is the resort of working journalists and men of letters. And in spite of his considerable success in late years he remains for all the same delightful old "Tommy," who has always been loved and respected by all who know him.

A book which has been out for several months and which is still making friends and selling very largely in a modest way, is "Farmer's Glory," by A. G. Street. This book was enthusiastically reviewed when it appeared and it has dropped out of the publishers' advertisements; but the author is now speaking regularly on the English radio, where he has scored a decided success.

His book is one that is liked by all its readers: and the secret of this fact lies in its beauty and its simplicity. The first third of it deals with the life of an English farm before the war and is a picture of old-time country manners which has no superiors; the second third tells the plain tale of the author's experiences as a young farmer in Canada; and the last third, which is less delightful but equally engrossing, is an account of English farming conditions since the war.

The author has no airs. He speaks of what he understands. But he has such a command of memory and language that the book, "Farmer's Glory," will be found hereafter among the minor classics of our time. It is full of enchantment; and for those who wish to learn something of England and English country life as they really are it will be as invaluable as it is interesting and amusing.

Mr. Evelyn Waugh's novel, about which I recently spoke, has a new title. It is called not "Accession," but "Black Mischief!" It will be published here in September.

A first novel has been written by a nephew of the late C. K. Scott-Moncreiff. It is called "Café Bar," and is said to be a picture of London's underworld as that is known to exist in Soho.

Whether the book is based upon experience I do not know. For most of us Soho is a district in which the foreign residents keep restaurants for the entertainment of English people tired of British cooking. The underworld of fiction lies farther east. At any rate, Mr. G. S. Moncreiff's novel should be worth reading.

—BY WESTBROOK PEGLER—

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Las Vegas, N. M., En Route to Olympic Games, July 29.—Persons aboard this train are going to Los Angeles for the Olympic games. "Los Angeles" means "the angels" in Spanish. Study Spanish. Plato said, "No man can know too much knowledge."

The Olympic games were established in Greece. The Greeks were a great race, but there are other things in life besides athletics and sport. Physical perfection is desirable, but physical development at the expense of the intellect is not a wise program.

Chateaubriand, wise hermit philosopher, wrote, "Moderation in all things." That is worth thinking about, even in these days.

Gene Tunney, champion boxer, may go to the United States senate. Tunney in the ring would have been no match for a gorilla. The gorilla would have crushed him in ten seconds. But Tunney is more intelligent; he would be the gorilla's superior in the senate. This preserves the balance of power.

Olympic athletes run fast, but a train goes faster. Puny man bends mighty Nature to his will. Steam loosed upon the air makes a hissing noise but does not do any work. Steam in a cylinder drives locomotives faster than any sprinter could run. William T. Tilden invented the locomotive and Samuel Hopkins Adams, fourth President of the United States, the Gettysburg address. Ten hundred thousand million trillion gorillas could not invent the locomotive or the Gettysburg address.

Prairie dogs poise by their holes and gaze at man. Man gazes at the prairie dogs. Each has something to learn from the other, but the prairie dog does not learn. Man adapts the prairie dog's engineering principles, building tunnels and subways. But the prairie dog, having no intellect, does not learn from man that it is better to build houses above the ground, where it is light and sunny. No prairie dog will ever go to the United States senate. Wise Nature has made other plans.

Los Angeles, beautiful city offering marvelous real estate bargains, rests by the Pacific ocean. La Marquise de Quebec, when he discovered the Pacific in $22 B. C., exclaimed, "Swift flies the arrow from the bow." Today modern American youths swim faster than Leander in the Pacific, but there is no swimming in the desert. The reason for this is obvious to thinking men and women. Practice thinking.

European athletes come to Los Angeles, beautiful city of real estate bargains, to run, jump, and hurl objects. This takes money. But Europe cannot pay her war debts. Uncle Sam will wonder about that.

Physically perfect young women swimming or playing tennis can do good in the world if they impart their physical perfection to strong, healthy children. Physical perfection acquired for mere vanity in beauty is wrong. Like wealth, water power and mineral deposits, it is wasted unless it is productive. Socrates, builder of the Taj Mahal, was the son of Charlemagne, world's most beautiful woman. But his father had brains. He taught his son to think and we enjoy the profit. It is called the Koran. Read it.

Ancient Thrace reveled in luxury and idleness. Along this railroad idle workmen whittle by the railroad stations, but not in luxury. Some day science will harness the energy of the sun and there will be no work for man to do. Praxitiles, founder of the Archimidean principle, foresaw this when he said to Marshal Ney, "No tengo tobacco." The courses of nations are governed by trifling things.

Paavo Nurmi, Finnish runner, covers 26 miles in a little over two hours. The aeroplane covers the same distance in a few minutes. In a hurry Nurmi woul' take an aeroplane. He cannot think with his feet. Frederick the Great was a cripple, but he discovered gunpowder, which blows the strongest man to atoms, 3,000 years after his death.

In California, where land is cheap and the climate marvelous, visitors to the Olympic games will see many wonderful bargains in real estate. Visitors to Columbus circle, marvelous center in busy New York, will see many real estate bargains, too. It would take man's fastest aeroplane 3,000 years to reach Stella Bul-Bul, the nearest star in the firmament. Washington, great American, never visited the stars or California. But he lived in New York. Five dollars' worth of Columbus circle real estate in his day would be worth six hundred million billion to his heirs today. Talleyrand wrote: "If I had my life to live again I would do many things differently." One grain of wisdom is worth ten thousand billion athletic records.

THE GUMPS—BRING OUT THE CITY DIRECTORY

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., July 29.—Out from the mists of history the old spirit of international rivalry on the athletic field will take its quadrennial rebirth in opening ceremonies of the tenth modern revival of the Olympic games here tomorrow.

F. MORGAN TAYLOR

With Vice President Charles Curtis doing the honors as representative of the head of the host nation, the men's and women's teams sent by 39 countries will fall in behind their flags and to the blare of martial music march around the Los Angeles Olympic stadium in the parade of nations which emblemizes the spirit of amity to which the games are dedicated. The American contingent will walk behind the colors carried by F. Morgan Taylor, veteran Chicago hurdler, who is here competing in his third successive Olympic.

Festivities on First Day.

Following the parade of nations, the Olympic oath, a solemn ceremony swearing each athlete to the spirit of friendly competition, will be taken, as representative of all the athletes of all nations, by Lieut. George C. Calnan, U. S. N., a fencer on the American international team for the fourth time.

Other ceremonies will wind up the opening day's schedule, and only minor competition, preliminaries in the international weight lifting, will be held on opening day.

Starting on Sunday and competing every day for two weeks until closing ceremonies on Sunday, Aug. 14, the men's and women's teams will vie until all championships in track and field, swimming, rowing, yachting, horsemanship, cycling, wrestling, boxing, weight lifting, gymnastics, fencing, lacrosse and field hockey are determined.

American Team Largest.

About 1,900 athletes, 150 of them women, are included in the games. As usual, the United States teams are numerically greatest both in the men's and women's events. Next to the United States come the Japanese, with more than 200 contenders; third are the Italians, with 106; then the Germans and the British.

Even if outscored in first places in the track and field, the Yankee team rates as favorite to win in team totals due to the expected American scoring power in the six places which, unofficially, are counted to score Olympic team championships.

Under this system points are rated at 10 for first, 5 for second, and successive 4, 3, 2, and 1 for the lesser places. This scoring system will be generally used for the benefit of sports followers in figuring team totals both in the track and field and the swimming competition.

There is no official Olympic games system of scoring points other than the award and the salute to each first place winner by the official fluttering of the athlete's national flag on the main staff of the stadium.

Paavo Nurmi Is Barred.

Chances of the Finnish team were hit a hard blow with official decision barring Paavo Nurmi, distance star. The Finns, who have kept themselves aloof in Olympic village, met the decision with glum visages and grunts of contempt, but refused to comment other than to send brief word by one spokesman that the team had decided not to withdraw from the games, as threatened while the Nurmi case was up for consideration of the International Amateur Athletic federation behind closed doors.

Nurmi declined to speak to anybody about it, even to his teammates, but the latter voted to elect him team manager, thus retaining Nurmi's eligibility to remain with the team in the rigidly restricted Olympic village.

Japanese Notables Arrive.

A delegation of five Tokio councilmen, in addition to several members of the Japanese house of peers, arrived in Los Angeles today to put in Tokio's bid for the Olympic games of 1940, in competition with the bids already presented by Italy and Spain. Berlin already has won the right to stage the games in 1936.

Several members of the American teams who have been down with colds for the last several days were reported recovering today. Only George Saling, the Iowa hurdler, and Pen Hallowell, Harvard 1,500 meter runner, seemed still off form. Ben Eastman, the Stanford flash, looks much better than he did at the Palo Alto trials for the American team, having nursed a lot of pep back into his system after his slump from too much early season speed.

Babe Didrikson Confident.

Of the girl athletes, awaiting their start in the two weeks grind on Monday, Mildred [Babe] Didrikson of Dallas, Tex., has proved the most conspicuous figure. Miss Didrikson, who won the national girls' track championship single handed, has been conspicuous verbally as well as physically—she towers over more modest sisters—by her repeated comment to other girls that "I'm here to beat every one in sight, and I'm going to do it."

Miss Didrikson has even informed Helene Madison and Georgia Coleman, prospective stars of the American team, that she thinks she can swim and dive better than they do.

Helene Mayer, German fencing champion; Stella Walsh of Poland [and Cleveland], in the track events; Yvonne Goddard, French girl, who is European swimming champion, and who visits the beauty shop daily; Ingeborg Sjoquist of Sweden, who has been referred to as the most strikingly beautiful of the fair athletes; Marie Vierdag of Holland, and a bevy of Japanese misses whose names are difficult to catch, when one is introduced, are supposed to represent the leading point winning possibilities in the women's branches of competition.

ALLISON, VINES LOSE TO FRANCE; CUP HOPES FADE

Cochet, Borotra Conquer American Stars.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 29.—The United States must win three straight matches if it is to regain the Davis cup, emblematic of the world tennis championship, from France. America dropped both singles matches of the challenge round today, but the 10,000 who jammed Roland Garros stadium saw a two act drama that amazed the so-called tennis experts.

Act one was the complete breakdown of Ellsworth Vines Jr., in his cup debut after his triumphs at Wimbledon and in the inter-zone matches. The aging and fragile Jean Borotra, looking none too good himself, defeated the American hope, 6-4, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.

Act two was the transformation of Wilmer Allison. Led on as a sacrifice to Henri Cochet, the man best known as half of America's doubles team astounded the galleries by turning into a bright and particular star.

Impossible Almost Happens.

For three breath taking sets he almost had the crowd thinking that one of those impossible things might happen, that brilliant tennis plus bulldog grit might prevail over magic. It didn't, but Allison was still fighting like a lion when he went down to honorable defeat, 7-5, 5-6, 7-5, 6-2.

Vines was the center of attention as the matches opened. He dropped the first two games, looking like a lanky kid with a lot of tennis in his right arm, but with stage fright holding him back. Whatever it was, it kept right on holding him back. As the set wore on, he seemed easier in play and less nervous. He duelled cautiously with his volatile opponent, but strategy was unavailing because he lacked the weapons to duel with.

Vines Pulls Up, Then Falters.

Vines pulled up with the Frenchman at 4-4 for a moment, but faltered and lost the set without a serious struggle.

The American's usually deadly service was missing fire badly. Not one service ace did he score in the first set and he double faulted twice. His service still was betraying him in the second set. He was bested both in cunning and steadiness in a baseline duel with Borotra and was unable to keep the Frenchman from getting to the net. And Borotra at the net is unhealthy for anybody.

The third set went to Vines, 6-3, due mainly to Borotra's fatigue. It was only in the fourth set that any real tennis was seen. Vines at the beginning hit his stride and was strengthening his service with an occasional ace when Borotra staged one of his rallies and it was set and match before Vines could check him.

Wilmer Shows His Mettle.

Allison started out effectively, but unspectacularly, winning the first set by greater steadiness. It was in the second, with Cochet settling down to serious tennis, that the American began to show his mettle. He took everything the French master could shoot at him and shot it back. Doggedly, inch by inch, or in a sudden inspired plunge he would win his way to the net and Cochet couldn't pass him. Usually he didn't try, he just shrugged and got ready for the next point. Point by point the American was as good a man as his opponent, but what Cochet did easily, Allison achieved after superhuman effort.

In the third set there were moments when Cochet, with easy and impudent assurance, drove ball after ball into the net and looked as if his magic might be deserting him. But the crises were just tough spots for him while they were torture for Allison.

The fourth set was slaughter, but Allison already had played enough tennis for one day for any mortal.

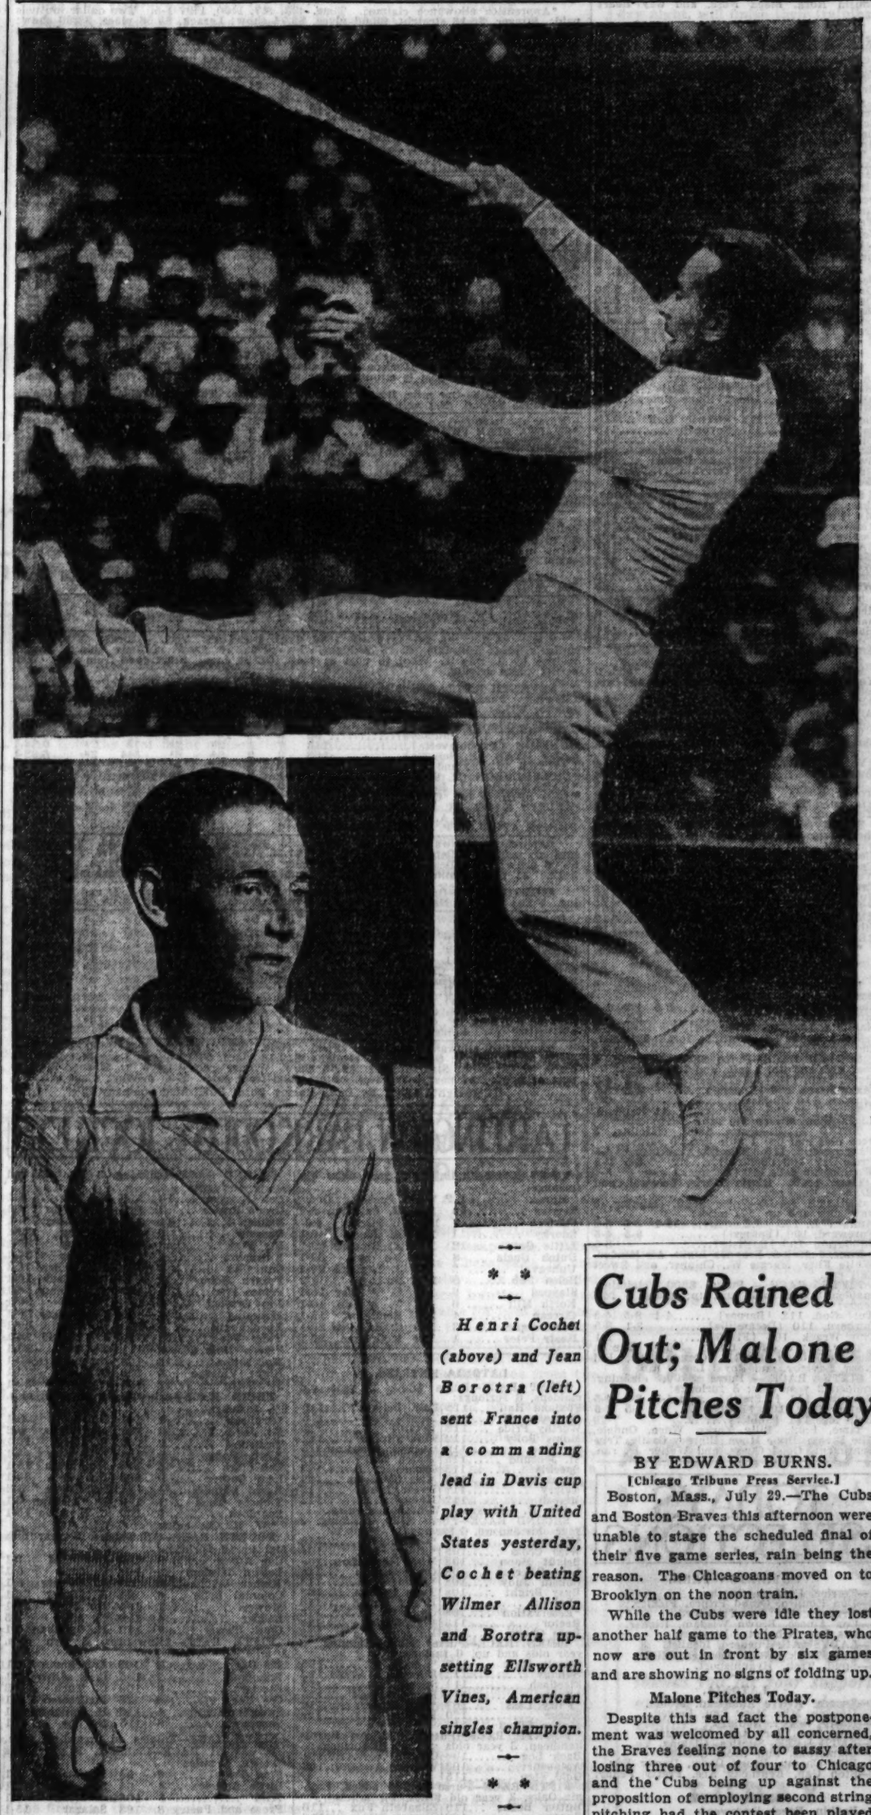

Allison, Van Ryn in Doubles.

The hopes of the United States tomorrow will depend on Allison and John Van Ryn, Philadelphia, in the doubles match. They will meet Cochet and Jacques Brugnon, who were named as the doubles team immediately after today's matches.

Victory tomorrow for France will not give it another triumph in Davis cup competition since it won the title from the United States in 1927. The defeat of Vines came as a surprise, the American being rated as the strongest member of the United States team.

A defeat tomorrow in the doubles will not harm France's chances of retaining the championship as Cochet is expected to coast along to another victory against Vines in the singles [illegible] tomorrow for France will on Sunday.

PUT FRANCE TWO UP IN TENNIS PLAY

BY FRENCH LANE.

Arlington Park's record smashing season of 30 days will end this afternoon with the running of the Arlington Futurity.

The Futurity will mark the introduction of a 2 year old event which promises to become one of the most noted in America. Ten of the fleetest juveniles in the country were named to start overnight and if all accept the issue the race will have a gross value of $56,106. Thus it will be the richest 2 year old race ever run outside of New York and Maryland.

Last night while W. R. Coe's entry of Ladysman, Orphean and Pomponius was ruling as the favorite at even money, the Arlington Park management hurried along plans to handle what they expect to be the largest crowd ever to gather at Chicago's famous track.

It's Dollar Day Today.

It will be dollar day as the curtain rolls down at Arlington and it was indicated the bargain counter admission price would draw people from all parts of the central states to see the future stars of racing battle for such a rich prize.

The Coe entry of three horses was mustering support everywhere last night, but to the students of form the Futurity shaped up as a most open event. It became almost a grab bag affair when Crowning Glory, the outstanding favorite, pulled up so lame after a workout on Thursday that he was not named in the overnight field.

Had Great Promise.

Crowning Glory had won the Hyde Park stakes earlier in the season, and even earlier than that had established a track record at Arlington for 5½ furlongs. He promised to go on and be one of the great 2 year olds of the year, possibly the champion.

His last workout on Thursday was impressive. Late in the day he was very lame and was sent along with the other Whitney horses to Saratoga.

With Crowning Glory out the Futurity shaped up as anybody's horse race. Coe, the easterner, was conceded to have the best chance because he had nominated three color bearers.

But Ladysman Is a Real Horse.

Ladysman is regarded as the foremost of the trio. When he won the first race of his career at Arlington a few days ago he impressed horsemen with being the best 2 year old they have seen here this year.

Most of these shrewd turf followers were all set to bet on Ladysman to beat Crowning Glory. If appearance counts Ladysman eventually will develop into a much greater horse than Crowning Glory.

Another colt that looms up menacingly is Puchero, which Clyde Phillips brought here from Saratoga for the race. This son of Pot au Feu stopped the speedy Sandy Bill's winning streak by winning the Great American stakes at Aqueduct. He turned in an exceptional trial at Saratoga before shipping here. He topped off his training Thursday with an impressive 6 furlongs in 1:13 2-5. Harvey Elston, one of the better veteran jockeys in the east, will be here to guide the William Ziegler Jr. colt.

Hirsch Hopes for Another.

Max Hirsch, who bagged the rich Classic for Morton L. Schwartz, hopes to add the Futurity to his credit also and will saddle Idealist and Tickory Tock, both of which are winners during the meeting. The latter will carry the silks of A. Charles Schwartz and Idealist will represent Gusto's owner.

Two fillies are in the lineup. Hal Price Headley's Technique and Adolph E. Pons' Swivel. Both lassies have shown their worth in races at the local course. Technique won a notable victory when she defeated Hilena, Swivel, Boy Crazy, Timorous, and other good fillies on July 12. Hilena later went on to capture the Arlington Lassie stakes, in which Technique did not start. Swivel did not race in her best form in the Lassie, but in her previous start she lost a nose decision to Edelweiss, which ran second in the Lassie.

Colts Train Well.

Completing the Futurity field are Audley farm's Trace Call and Dr. Robert L. Woodard's Pierre Pan. Neither ever has been a winner, but both colts have trained admirably for the event. That their owners will pay $1,000 to start them is an indication of their high promise.

The Futurity will be run as the sixth race this afternoon at about 5 o'clock. It is backed by one of the best balanced cards of the Arlington season.

Sox Awake from Long Sleep; Whip Boston in Final, 4 to 3

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

After five lean days of searching around for a victory, the White Sox finally caught up with one yesterday afternoon. They dusted off the Boston red legs in the final of the series, 4 to 3, thus preventing the eighth placers from going away from here with a clean sweep to their credit.

Not a little credit for bringing the Pale Hose out of the doldrums must be accorded old Sam Jones, one of the American league's famous tourists. The veteran Sam started off as if he had no intentions of putting in a full day's work. The bothersome members of the enemy front got after him in the first inning and hung a deuce on the scoreboard. Jones promptly set his house in order and then breezed through to the end with only four hits delaying conclusion of his eighth win of the year. Two of these taps occurred in the ninth to promote the third Boston run.

Sox Make Hits Count

The domestic Sox were not particularly robust in their hitting off Ivy Andrews, the former Yankee, but they made everything count. They grabbed

FINNS PARADE IN HELSINGFORS TO HONOR NURMI

HELSINGFORS, Finland, July 29.—(AP)—A great demonstration was staged tonight in the streets of Helsingfors on behalf of Paavo Nurmi, the nation's athletic hero, who has finally been barred from participation in the Olympic games in Los Angeles.

Cubs Rained Out; Malone Pitches Today

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., July 29.—The Cubs and Boston Braves this afternoon were unable to stage the scheduled final of their five game series, rain being the reason. The Chicagoans moved on to Brooklyn on the noon train.

While the Cubs were idle they lost another half game to the Pirates, who now are out in front by six games and are showing no signs of folding up.

Malone Pitches Today.

Despite this sad fact the postponement was welcomed by all concerned, the Braves feeling none to sassy after losing three out of four to Chicago and the Cubs being up against the proposition of employing second string pitching had the contest been played today. As it is, Pat Malone will be ready to go in the opener against the Dodgers tomorrow.

The Cubs lost three games out of four the last time they visited Brooklyn, but, despite the riotous behavior of the Dodgers in their Cardinal series, the Cubs have no great fear of the Flatbushers.

Philadelphia Next Stop.

The Cubs and Dodgers will play a single game tomorrow and a double header on Sunday. Monday will be an off day and the series will be concluded Tuesday. Then on to Philadelphia for four games. The eastern invasion concludes with four games with the Giants, but this will not turn the Cubs toward home, for they play one game with the Pirates on Aug. 11, followed with four games in three days in St. Louis.

PLAYDALE GIVES THE RUN AROUND TO ANNIMESSIC

It was at a mile and a half and Playdale was in front all the way, pulling out in the late stages into a lead of a half dozen lengths which he maintained right up to the finish line.

Playdale, only recently acquired by Mr. Taggart, ran the grueling route of a mile and a half in 2:29 4-5 and smashed the track record by nearly two full seconds.

Young Mr. Taggart, familiarly known now as the prince of French Lick, decided late yesterday morning that he wanted to see his Playdale run in the Lake View. Thus he cranked up his new tri-motor plane at about 11 o'clock and arrived at Arlington race course in time to see Tabaku win the first race, which was run at 2:20 o'clock.

After his quick trip by plane up from French Lick, Mr. Taggart probably didn't get much kick out of watching his steed Playdale win a two horse race. But he must have got a thrill 30 minutes later when his 3 year old son of My Play-Xenora which he named Old Depot won the seventh race and paid $22.64 for a $2 ticket.

Indications are that the Taggart racing establishment is getting lucky after a long siege of the opposite fortune. When Jockey W. Saunders drove Old Depot home it was the third victory the stable had scored in two afternoons. Not many race horse owners have been so successful throughout the rich Arlington season. It has been hard to win races at Arlington except with the finest horses.

Fans to Get Exact Odds at Hawthorne

Officials of the Hawthorne race track, which will be opened Monday for a 29 day meeting, expect to be able to provide patrons of the mutuels with the exact odds on every horse at post time. It was announced yesterday that the parades preceding each race will be handled so that the field will not reach the post until two minutes after the windows are closed.

It is believed that this will permit the mutuel department to determine the payoff before the races are run.

The Australian system of timing, which was introduced at Hawthorne last year, will be continued. The chronometer which was imported last season has been overhauled. Under the Australian system the starting gate is placed directly on the starting point so that the horses run the distance called for on the program.

Pat Horgan, who has been an announcer at Chicago tracks for years, arrived yesterday and will be at the microphone throughout the meeting. In addition to his usual calls, Horgan will announce the times by quarters as each race is run.

The horse colony at Hawthorne has grown to such proportions that stable room is at a premium and every available stall in the neighborhood is in use.

CHAMPIONS RACE TOMORROW FOR OUTBOARD CUPS

Champions and former champions will be among the speedboat drivers from fourteen states east of the Mississippi who will take part in the outboard regatta in the World's Fair lagoon at 1 p. m. tomorrow.

Among those entered are Tom Estlick, of Waukegan, holder of the high speed record for the mile course of 56:52 miles an hour, made in time trials; Walter Widegren, of Long Island, N. Y.; Jack Maypole, of River Forest, Arrell Reinking, of Indianapolis, Ind.; Hub Myers, of Petoskey, Mich.; Everett Ingalis, of Nashville, Tenn.; and Horace Tennes, of Eagle River, Wis.

The chief event of the day will be the fourth annual race for the $10,000 trophy presented by Com. Eugene McDonald. Forty will take part in this contest. Com. McDonald will be present to award the trophy to the winning driver in behalf of the National Outboard association.

In addition fifteen silver cups will be awarded for those placing first, second and third in five events.

Windsor Park P. O. Nine Defeats Lake View, 9 to 8

off one run on a triple in the first inning. A home run smack by Red Kress supplied another marker in the fifth. Andrews also assisted his enemies in this inning by muffing a throw that permitted them to take the lead. And after the fifth Andrews' work was of such a high grade that only one more hit was chalked against his day's record. But that lone hit happened to come behind a pass and steal and it was good for the final run.

Two runs off Jones in the opening inning were the outcome of a pass coupled up with three successive singles. The pass went to Olson for a starter and Oliver bunted him to second. Johnson cracked his bat in half on a single to center that scored Olson. Mr. Jolley, as usual, horned into the argument with a single that put Johnson on third. Alexander drilled a hole through the infield with a line drive single, Johnson counting and Jolley getting to third. After Pickering had been disposed of on a pop out, a double steal was ordered, but Mr. Jolley is a slow traveler when afoot, so it was a simple matter to nail him at the plate, Grube to Appling to Grube.

One Run on One Hit.

The homespun Sox notched only one hit in their initial attack, but it proved enough to get a man around to the plate. Hayes supplied the hit in the form of a triple to the right center field scoreboard with one out. He dashed home while Olson was throwing out Selph. Then the locals underwent an extended period of suffering. In the second and third innings they put the first batter on base. In the fourth they got a man on with one out. In each instance they were cut down by a double play.

The break in Andrews' defense didn't appear until after Appling had been thrown out in the fifth. Then Kress boomed his homer into the lower deck in left field. That tied up the affair at two apiece. A moment later, Andrews, in trying to cover first base on Blue's hopper to Alexander, muffed the throw, and this enabled Blue to scoot to second. Grube poked a single into left to provide Blue with a chance to check in at the plate, putting the home contingent ahead by 3 to 2. Jones then fanned, Grube stole second, and Funk singled, but Grube was killed off at the plate on Oliver's throw-in.

After his shaky start, Jones didn't let the enemy cause him any annoyance until the sixth, but he escaped from this safely despite a full house. Oliver opened the inning with a hit to center and was forced on Johnson's thump to Blue. The bothersome Jolley produced nothing more violent than a grounder to Hayes. Alexander was given a pass, which was more or less intentional. Then Appling messed up an easy roller by Pickering, loading the bases. Warstler's fly to Fothergill ended this threat.

In view of subsequent happenings, it was well for Jones' record, not to mention that of his mates, that they picked up a run in the eighth. This was produced on a minimum of effort. After two were deposed, Funk walked and promptly stole second. Hayes slapped a single to left and Funk scored. Jolley tried to stop him with a healthy throw, but inadvertently pegged it high over Tate, letting Hayes get to third. He died there. Then the Red Legs came up with a ninth inning run that wasn't quite enough to shove the south siders into a tie. This tally was the result of a double by Tate and a single by Pinch Hitter Watwood, after two were gone. Jones finished up properly by fanning Olson.

TILDEN, BARNES WIN PRO TENNIS DOUBLES CROWN

William T. Tilden II. and his youthful partner, Bruce Barnes of Texas, blasted their way to the United States professional doubles championship yesterday at the South Shore Country club, defeating in straight sets Karel Kozeluh and Albert Burke, 6-2, 6-1, 6-3.

The gallery was kept in constant uproar as both teams advanced to the net, returning the ball for extended volleys with sharp shots that bounced from one racquet to another.

The match lacked the customary buffoonery that has characterized the play of Kozeluh, a stocky little Czechoslovakian, and Burke, the French champion. Both of the foreign stars settled down to the vain task of upsetting the Americans.

Tilden Battles Kozeluh.

Tilden will meet Karel Kozeluh and Hans Nusslein will play a fellow German, Roman Najuch, in the other section of the draw.

Play will open at 2:30 o'clock. Following these tournament matches, exhibition games by eliminated stars will be held. Finals will be played tomorrow.

NATIONAL OPEN TENNIS TOURNEY STARTS TODAY

The fourth annual national open lawn tennis championship tournament will open this afternoon on the grass courts in Washington park, off Garfield boulevard. Wilfred Jones, Boston college, will defend his title in the men's singles, while J. Carrigan, Chicago, will seek to retain his junior singles championship.

Others in the men's singles include I. Tashuri, Japan; Parfecto, Philippine Island; Douglas Turner, University of Illinois; Richard Hudlin, former University of Chicago captain; W. Coleman, North Carolina, and Edward Schramm, Harvard university.

Gaston Picked to Pitch Against Senators Today

Milt Gaston will act as the pitching reception committee today in the opener with the Washington Senators. Lloyd Brown is due to appear for the hostile forces.

Manager Lew Fonseca is still among the missing, but he promised that if he saw an outfielder of possible big league attainments he would bring him back, the cost notwithstanding.

Jones' only weakness was in letting the first batter get to base. He was confronted with that situation in four different innings, but the first was the only one in which runs resulted. Warstler was plunked on the shirt to open the second and was caught in a double play. Olson walked to open the third, but the next three men were feeble. Johnson opened the eighth with a single and another double play was pulled.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

EARLIER CHICAGO.

DEAR WAKE: Back in the '60s money was scarce and various were the economies which would seem severe even in these days of depression. In the first place, wages were small and a family dependent on wage earning had to skimp severely to make both ends meet.

For instance, we saved all the pork and beef fat fried out in cooking and used it to make hard and soft soap. We also saved all goose grease. When mixed with lard it made a good spread on bread. Or if any of us children took cold, mother heated goose grease and rubbed it on our forehead, nose, and chest.

On July 4 father always bought me a 5 cent package of firecrackers. I had instructions to use half in the morning and half in the evening. I enjoyed those firecrackers more than the more elaborate displays I have since witnessed.

I was the oldest of three boys. When I outgrew a pair of pants they went to the next oldest and he in turn passed them along. Dad was not tight, or hoarding either. It took all he could make to keep the family, but we were happy with our simple necessities. A. M. Holverson.

In my boyhood days I remember being told of the old Dearborn street bridge. Back in 1834 it seems it was looked upon with disfavor by many and arguments were advanced against it, such as that it obstructed navigation and also frightened the timid by its gallowlike appearance at night.

Finally it was decided to remove it after the draw had remained open two days and nights owing to some defect in the operating machinery. Meantime the ferry ha dbeen removed to Clark street. Then Dearborn street merchants found their patronage injured by diversion of traffic and clamored for another bridge. When it was erected, however, Clark street drew the prize and Dearborn remained without a bridge until 1889. C. M. C.

A Photograph.

For you this photograph of me—
May it recall each memory
That intertwines the pleasant days
Since we have traveled friendship's ways.

Let recollection come again
Of evening walks through silver rain,
The hours we talked, the dreams we'd trade,

But sweet! Should passing years bring end
To friendship, as they often do,
No other pal can e'er replace you!

PIRATES CAPTURE SIXTH STRAIGHT FROM GIANTS, 4-3

Lead Cubs by 6 Games; Rally in 8th Wins.

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—A four run rally in the eighth inning swept the hapless New York Giants overboard today as the league leading Pittsburgh Pirates won their sixth straight game in a seven game series, 4 to 3. The victory puts the Pirates six games ahead of the Chicago Cubs in the National league pennant race.

Adolfo Luque, veteran Cuban right hander, blanked the Pirates until the eighth when he went the way of all Terry's pitchers in the series. Gibson, who was sent in to relieve him, halted the barrage of hits, but not until four runs had scored.

Harris began mound duties for the Pirates, but was taken out in the eighth, when the Giants threatened. Swetonic finished the game. The Giants were off to a two run lead in the fourth. The Pirates collected seven hits to five for the Giants. Each team committed one error. Score:

DODGERS WHIP CARDS, 7-4.

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 29.—(AP)—Burly Hack Wilson, last year's forgotten man of baseball, set a warm pace today and his Brooklyn teammates followed it to win their fifth victory in six games against the St. Louis Cardinals, 7 to 4, and to step past the world's champions into fifth place in the National league.

Hack started the Dodgers off in the first inning by driving his 18th home run of the season against the right field screen with O'Doul on base to gain a 3 to 0 lead. Previously Rosenfeld had opened with a double off Dizzy Dean and scored on a balk and Stripp's fly.

The Dodgers got another run in the fourth on Slade's single and Sukeforth's triple. Then Wilson cut loose again in the fifth. He rapped a double to drive in Joe Stripp, who also had hit for two bases, surprised the fans by reaching third ahead of Gelbert's throw when Cuccinello hit to the shortstop, and then scored on Wright's fly.

Dazzy Vance, who started for Brooklyn and achieved his 11th victory of the season, equaling his 1931 winning record, was forced to retire in the sixth because of a lame back. Score:

DICK TRACY—It's Even Worse Than That

Home Run by Averill Beats Yankees, 4-3

Cleveland, O., July 29.—(AP)—One wallop—Earl Averill's 25th home run of the season—brought the Indians a 4 to 3 victory over the New York Yankees today and gave them the series, three games to one. The defeat reduced the Yanks' lead to 7½ games.

For six innings Cleveland couldn't get a run off Vernon Gomez, while the Yankees collected three off Clint Brown and a 2 to 0 lead in the fourth. In the seventh, however, the Tribe broke loose. Bill Cissell opened with a single and Willie Kamm clouted a triple for the first run. Then, with two out and two on base, Averill drove high over the right field wall to finish a four run rally.

The Yanks tried a one man attempt to recover in the ninth when Babe Ruth hit over the same barrier for his 29th homer of the season and his third in two days, but Brown set the next three men down in order and recorded his 11th victory of the season. Score:

JACOBS LANDS IN NEW YORK; TALKS BOUT TO CERMAK

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—Joe Jacobs, manager of Max Schmeling, arrived in New York today following a European journey. The former heavyweight champion's pilot said he had received an offer from Nate Lewis, Chicago promoter, who wants Schmeling to meet King Levinsky, Tuffy Griffith or Max Baer at Chicago on Sept. 21.

While on the high seas Jacobs held telephone communication with Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago who is en route to England. Mayor Cermak expressed hope that a Schmeling bout could be arranged in Chicago and asked Jacobs to do all he could to effect a bout there.

Raymond Little, Former Tennis Star, Kills Self

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—Raymond D. Little, famous as an international tennis player two decades ago and a doubles player on several victorious Davis cup teams, committed suicide today in the bathroom of the apartment at 485 Park avenue, where he lived with his wife, the former Marion Mellen.

Attired in pajamas and a dressing robe, Little took a shotgun to the bathroom, placed the muzzle in his mouth and pushed the trigger. Mrs. Little was in an adjoining room, and, hearing the shot, rushed to him. She called Dr. A. Wilbur Duryee, but Little had been killed instantly.

At the office of the Kingsport Press, of which Little was treasurer, it was said he had been in ill health.

Little, with Gustave F. Touchard, held the national doubles title for a number of years. In later years he retired from active play and became one of three czars of the ranking committee.

He played as an internationalist while at the top of his game and was a member of the American Davis cup team for several years in the days of Larned, R. Norris Williams, and William J. Clothier.

CHAMP AND NEAR-CHAMP

Banks Turns Back Meike for Junior Golf Crown, 7 and 5

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Notre Dame is likely to have another Larry Moeller on its golf team next year, when a young man from La Grange named John Banks turns up on the South Bend campus for his sophomore year. Yesterday Johnny won the eighteenth annual junior championship of the Western Golf association at the Medinah Country club by defeating Willie Meike, the home club's pride, 7 to 5, in the 36 hole final of the four day tournament. Three hundred and five of the younger generation started play Tuesday.

Banks, a member of the Chicago public links team last year, is a graduate of La Grange High school and has completed his freshman work at Notre Dame, but dropped out of school last year. He learned the game as a caddy at Edgewood Valley, picking up many a trick while carrying clubs for such as Gus Novotny, Babe Bunning, Tom Frainey, and Fred Gariepy.

Johnny Is Slow Starter.

Johnny didn't get going until the last eighteen, for this Willie Meike, playing his first year in the western junior, gave him a battle all through the morning round, in which they were even at the end of the opening nine and Banks only 1 up at the finish of the eighteen. Meike, a graduate of Austin High school, previously had seen aplenty of the Medinah layout as a caddy, and came in for lunch with a medal 79, against Banks' 77. Willie's iron play was decidedly off in the matinee portion of the match, however, while Banks, originally a slugger, who his improved his swing by shortening it, was dropping the ball on the green consistently. He was one under par at the conclusion of the battle, having wound up the first afternoon nine 4 up on his opponent.

Two Birdies to Start It.

Both boys started out the morning round as if they had designs on the course record. Banks took the first two holes with birdies on good putts, but the caddy gallery following Meike caused the Medinah welkin to ring when Willie took his mashie for his second shot on the 441 yard third and dropped the ball in for an eagle two. He evened the match on the fourth, where Banks hit a tree with his drive, but sliced his own tee shot at the fifth. They halved the sixth, but Banks found a trap on the next hole while Meike was getting a par 3. They both took down birdie deuces on the ninth, Banks sinking a ten footer and Willie laying his ball two feet from the pin.

They halved the 10th and 11th, but Banks encountered another trap at the 12th. The 13th and 14th were divided, and then Willie took a turn at locating traps, dropping his second in one. He went one down at the 17th, where he drove into the rough and was short with his approach.

Still Going Strong.

Banks opened the afternoon round with another brace of birdies, sinking an eight footer on the first and repeating with one twelve feet away on the second. Meike had a hard time getting away from the first tee, dubbing his drive and falling short with his second and third. Willie regained a hole at the fifth, where he was four feet away from the cup for a birdie three, while Johnny was dropping a 20 footer for his par. The water at the seventh embarrassed Meike; he three putted the 8th, and came to grief on the 9th, another water hole.

Meike was short at the 10th and 11th. Banks missed a chance to end the match on the 12th when he failed on a four foot putt, but responded with a 12 footer for a birdie three on the 13th.

Bloomington, Ill., July 29.—[Special.]—Gene Sarazen and Tommy Armour defeated Yontz Bonnett Jr., Bloomington city champion, and Bill Percival of Champaign, former Illinois amateur champion, here today, 4 and 3, in a scheduled eighteen hole match, which ended on the fifteenth green.

Sarazen and Armour carded 34s for the first nine holes, par being 35. Percival was high with 38 and Bonnett counted 36. Armour's iron shots and long putts featured the match. He shot five birdies, while Sarazen had three.

Armstrong Is District Golf Victor, 2 Up

Miss Jean Armstrong, Indian Hill, attained her golfing ambition yesterday at the Riverside club by winning the Chicago Women's district championship, a feat she has been striving to accomplish for four years.

She won over Miss June Beebe of Olympia Fields, 2 up, in the 18 hole final. The match was a bitter struggle throughout. Miss Beebe was 1 up at the end of the first nine. Miss Armstrong used three putts on the third and fourth holes. At the turn Miss Beebe had a 42, four over par.

Miss Beebe Gets Into Rough.

Coming back, the Olympia Fields girl shot into the tall rough at the 10th and took a 7. At the eleventh she banged her tee shot far into the woods and was one down. On the 14th June sent her shot into a trap and lost another. She had a chance to take the 16th, as she lay only a foot or so from the pin, but Jean's long run-up putt left June a dead stymie. Another stymie at the 17th was turned into victory on the hole when June curled around it and forced Jean to take 3 putts. At the final hole there appeared a chance for Miss Beebe to halve, but with her ball lying 15 feet away, Miss Armstrong sank the putt and won out, 2 up. She had a four stroke lead over June on the incoming nine, 40 to 44.

The card:

Miss Ingram Beats Miss Weiller

The real upset of the tournament came in the championship consolation final match. Miss Jane Weiller, Northmoor, had a lead of five holes over Miss Virginia Ingram, Sunset Ridge, at the end of the first nine. Miss Ingram rallied brilliantly, and at the 18th hole they lay even and all square, with two medium sized putts to sink. Miss Ingram ran hers down, but Miss Weiller missed by an inch to lose.

In the first flight final Mrs. Pearl Indig of Mohawk won over Mrs. A. R. Copeland of Calumet, 3 and 2, and Dorothy Fuller, Riverside, defeated Mrs. Lennox Nairn, Sunset Ridge, 3 and 2, in the first flight consolation.

KIZER RETURNS FROM EUROPE; FACES BIG TASK

Lafayette, Ind., July 29.—[Special.]—Noble Kizer, head football coach at Purdue university, and Mrs. Kizer landed in New York today following a month's tour of Europe, during which they were host and hostess to a group of college students. Kizer immediately headed for home, where he will begin plans for the strenuous football schedule the Boilermakers face this fall.

Kizer's vacation will come to an abrupt end upon his arrival at headquarters here, for a program must be worked out that will tax the resources of the coaching staff. All of the members of the varsity staff, including Mal Elward, Glen Harmeson, Guy Mackey and George Stears, plan to curtail their vacation activities in order to join the council at which plans for the opening practice sessions will be drafted.

Thirteen veterans of three successive campaigns that netted one undisputed championship, one co-championship, and one runnerup place, as the Boilermakers won 23 games while losing only three, were lost by graduation last June.

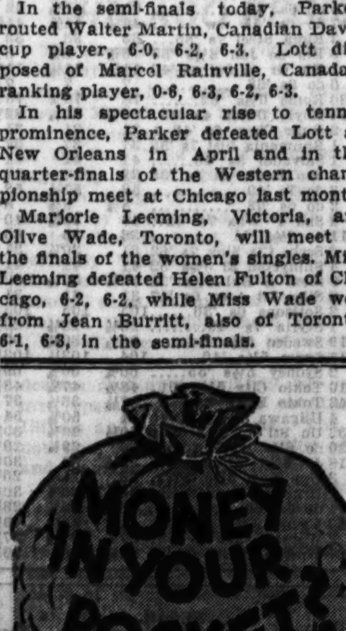

PARKER, LOTT MEET TODAY FOR CANADIAN CROWN

OTTAWA, Ont., July 29.—Frankie Parker, 16 year old Milwaukee player, tomorrow will seek his third victory over George Lott of Chicago in the finals of the Canadian lawn tennis tournament.

In the semi-finals today, Parker routed Walter Martin, Canadian Davis cup player, 6-0, 6-2, 6-3. Lott disposed of Marcel Rainville, Canada's ranking player, 0-6, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3.

In his spectacular rise to tennis prominence, Parker defeated Lott at New Orleans in April and in the quarter-finals of the Western championship meet at Chicago last month.

Goddard and McKay Reach City Golf Final

A Chicago city golf championship tournament has been held at Jackson park for 23 years, but for the second year in succession a local boy has been unable to crowd into the picture. Another all-California final was produced yesterday, when Douglas McKay, the defending champion, whose home is in Long Beach, but who competes from Cherry Hill and is a law student at De Paul university, and Irving Goddard of Pasadena won their semi-final matches. Last year McKay won the title from Joe Nichols, a fellow townsman from Long Beach.

McKay entered the final by defeating Bob Sawyer of Ridge, 9 and 8, in one of the 36 hole semi-finals, while Goddard, who established a new course record of 69 Thursday, was defeating John Rolston of Techny Fields, 3 and 2. McKay finished the morning 18 5 up on Sawyer, while Goddard was 4 up on Rolston at the intermission. As a result of his work Thursday, the 20 year old Goddard, a junior student on the coast, is favored to win today's 36 hole final.

Another 36 hole match will be on the program today, when F. McNamara of Evergreen and H. Baker Jr., of Olympia Fields battle for the championship flight consolation honors. In the semi-finals yesterday McNamara won from Bill Skrenteny of Lincolnshire, 9 and 8, while Baker advanced by beating R. Christianson of Garfield park, 9 and 7.

R. Deen of Biltmore won the first flight championship, open to players with a handicap above eight, by beating H. M. Woods of the home club, 4 and 3. Consolation honors in the first flight were carried off by Sam Moss of Garfield park, who defeated a clubmate, L. Pitcher, 4 and 3.

CHESAPEAKES TO FEATURE COUNTY FAIR DOG SHOW

The dog show to be held in connection with the Cook County fair, which opens Friday, will be featured by a large exhibit of Chesapeakes. Little is known of the Chesapeake in this part of the country. He is regarded as one of the finest hunting dogs and is especially valuable for fowl shooting.

Originating in the Chesapeake bay country of Maryland and Virginia, the breed has been especially trained for years in retrieving birds from the water.

Fred B. Novotny of St. Paul, president of the Chesapeake Bay Club of America, yesterday notified Dr. J. M. Kaiser, president of the Cook County Kennel club, that he is sending a group of his club's stars, nearly all of them prize winners at recent bench shows in the east.

Maurice Reynolds, president of the Dobermann-Pinscher club, also notified Dr. Kaiser that his club would have a representative showing to compete with police dogs.

Although the dog show will not be held until the last two days of the fair, Aug. 13 and 14, entries to the show close Monday.

Mrs. Gordon St. Clair of Glen Ellyn has entered three English setters, all blue ribbon winners at the last Chicago Kennel club show. Miss Emily Sweitzer of Northbrook has entered eight Irish setters.

The Aragon kennels of Franklin Park have named 23 entries of Irish and English setters and pointers, all field dogs.

KID CHOCOLATE ARRIVES TODAY FOR SHEA BOUT

Clivelle, Miller to Head Supporting Card.

Chocolate has boxed in Chicago before, but that way 'way back in 1929, when he tackled Steve Smith. His fight Thursday marks his first start here against an opponent of worth.

Two newcomers will appear in the supporting bouts. Angel Clivelle meets Willie Oster, and Freddie Miller, the Cincinnati featherweight, fights Hymie Wiseman of Des Moines.

Clivelle and Miller are expected to be in training here by Monday afternoon. Another eight round bout features Sammy Slaughter, Bud Taylor's colored flash, against Paul Pirrone of Cleveland.

Laskey has appeared in Chicago three times in his short career and has scored three knockouts. Last week he stopped George Neron.

Jack Robinson and Bob Stone clash in one of the five rounders on the card. Jackie Davis, north side lightweight, will tangle with Phil McQuillan in another five rounder. Three other bouts will complete the card.

Shea has hired Pete Pantaleo to replace Billy Gladstone as sparring mate. For the second straight day yesterday at the Arcade gymnasium Eddie dropped Gladstone during their drill. The Chicago challenger will box with Pantaleo, Philadelphia junior lightweight, this afternoon and Lou Vine, who went three rounds with Shea yesterday.

Two new clubs will offer professional fights on Aug. 10 at Mills stadium and Northwest stadium. Chuck Logan, matchmaker for the Northwest club, has signed Ray Tramblie, Rockford middleweight, and Bud Saltis to meet. Tramblie arrived yesterday and Saltis will come from Minneapolis, Minn., tomorrow to start training. Willard Luzzo, matchmaker at Mills stadium, has arranged a bout between Henry Lenard, South Chicago featherweight, and Wilbur Chevalier of Milwaukee.

Benny Leonard, former lightweight champion, will make his next start at Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 10. . . . Hershie Wilson and Rosy [Kid] Baker, Indianapolis fighter, passed through the loop yesterday en route to Madison, Wis., where they clash with Frankie Hughes and Frankie Burns, respectively. . . . Jack King, Ark., welterweight, is to leave Chicago today for Pittsburgh to face Billy Holt there Monday.

Retzlaff-Gastanga Bout at Ebbets Field Postponed

New York, July 29.—[Special.]—The heavyweight boxing match scheduled tonight at Ebbets field between Charley Retzlaff of Duluth, Minn., and Isadoro Gastanga of Spain was postponed today. The bout conflicted with a previously arranged show at Coney Island.

They Can't Resist! Crows Still Flock to Old Horned Owl

BY BOB BECKER.

Sportsmen who want to do a good turn for the game birds in Chicagoland by removing a few of their feathered enemies will find that the crows still react to the old stuffed horned owl lure. The trick attracts them within gun range. We tried it a few days ago on a farm several miles west of Wheaton, where numerous tracts of oak timber afford an ideal habitat for the crows. It didn't take long to get in a few volleys at the big black birds, which responded to our crow call and then staged a miniature riot around the horned owl decoy.

With the summer vegetation now at its peak, the question of a blind is easily solved for the crow shooter. The other day we found it a simple matter to crawl under the thick, leafy branches of shrubs near the owl decoy and remain out of sight until it was time to shoot. However, the crow shooter should remember to pick a fairly open place in the woods, if possible, so that the crows have room to dip low and swing around the decoy. Otherwise, select a hideout at the edge of the woods and place the decoy in an open field.

The morning we stirred up the crows west of Wheaton it was apparent that one flock of about nine had forgotten all about its previous experience with our owl decoy. We sounded the alarm call on our wooden crow caller and immediately four crows swept out of the timber at our left to let go with a 4-11 alarm. The 16 gauge roared twice and two went down. After a minute or two of calling to the noisy birds that had flown away, back came a larger bunch of crows and we picked off two more before the flight was over. Inasmuch as the crows then had caught on to the trick it was necessary to move to another patch of woods to continue the shooting and drop a few more of them.

Returning from the hunting grounds over a gravel highway north of Glenn Elyyn and via Bloomingdale we saw a summer bird resident of Chicagoland that will make a bird fan think of the tropics and the swamps of Florida. Standing in a shallow pond close to the road was an American egret, one of the sleek, snow white herons from the southland.

We watched this beautiful bird with our binoculars for several minutes and he never took his eyes from us. This heron, here for the summer, had two little green herons, three sandpipers, and a couple of red winged blackbirds for company in this shallow pool.

WOOD CAPTURES SEABRIGHT TITLE; DEFEATS MANGIN

Seabright, N. J., July 29.—[Special.]—Sidney B. Wood Jr. of New York won the Seabright men's singles tennis championship today by defeating Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., 1-6, 6-2, 6-4. It was the second time that the New Yorker had won the tournament.

The women's doubles title went to Helen Jacobs and Sarah Palfrey. They overwhelmed Josephine Cruickshank and Majorie Gladman Van Ryn, 6-3, 7-5. Miss Palfrey was the steadiest of the four players.

Samuel Gilpin and Eddie Jacobs reached the final round of the men's doubles, whipping E. W. Feibleman and Frank Bowden, 6-3, 2-6, 6-2.

CITY JOINS IN THIS RAIL FIGHT AGAINST TRUCKS

Canadian National Cuts Pay of Officials.

The Chicago and North Western railroad, one of the first roads to report some years ago the inroads of motor trucks on rail traffic, announced yesterday that its car loadings are improving and the outlook is better. Freight traffic on the North Western railway for the day was the heaviest in nearly three months. With substantial loadings earlier in the week, officials anticipate an increase.

Meanwhile the city of Springfield, Ill., asked permission of a federal court to intervene in the fight which the Peoria and Pekin Union railroad, a switching line, is making to avert imposition of a federal rate increase which the road says will take its coal traffic away and give it to motor trucks.

Additional railway news was that from across the northern border, where the Canadian National Railways reported salary cuts. From New York came word that the presidents of the ear eastern roads will meet again eastern roads will meet again Aug. 11 in New York to consider further the elimination of wasteful competition.

Fears for Coal Trade.

In view of a temporary injunction granted the Peoria and Pekin Union railway by the federal court, the city of Springfield asked the interstate commerce commission to protect the local coal industry by suspending the new coal freight rates scheduled to become effective between here and Peoria Monday.

Under present rates coal is moved from Springfield mines to Peoria consumers at 86 cents a ton, while the P. & P. U. ships it from Peoria district mines to that city for 30 cents a ton. Should the commerce commission reject the city's request the new rate between Springfield and Peoria would be 94 cents. The Peoria and Pekin Union contended the new rates would have boosted its tariffs to 60 cents, or 100 per cent, and resulted in loss of all traffic to motor trucks.

Canadian National Economies.

A special dispatch from Montreal said the Canadian National Railways' June report and the half year earnings data revealed that higher officials' salaries have been cut as much as 40 per cent. June operating costs were $4,132,015, or 26.93 per cent less than those for June of last year. Gross revenues were $12,437,076, a decrease of $2,799,154 as compared with last year. A net revenue of $1,227,856 was thus shown, whereas in June of last year a deficit of $105,005 was recorded.

For the six months ending with June the gross revenue of that system was $70,187,818, compared with $88,275,625, a drop of $18,087,808, but operating expenses for the six months' period were slashed $19,167,447, being $67,779,143, against $86,946,590 a year ago.

Sir Henry Thornton walked out of his office yesterday for good with an allowance of $50,000 from the government because he resigned as head of the Canadian National Railways 14 months before his contract was over. Thornton's contract provided for $75,000 a year and expenses. S. J. Hungerford is acting president. It is understood the salary cuts affect officials drawing over $15,000 a year.

Canadian Pacific Also Cuts.

The Canadian Pacific also cut its costs. June operating expenses totaled $8,918,185, against $10,802,511, a decrease of $1,884,326. Gross revenues for June totaled $10,496,801, against $12,722,335, a decline of $2,225,534. Net income was $1,578,616 for June, against $1,919,823 in June of last year.

Other Railways' Earnings.

The Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville reported for June net operating deficit of $88,233, against net operating income of $41,034 for the same 1931 month. Gross was $589,715 against $966,136.

For the first half of 1932 net operating deficit amounted to $335,085, compared with net operating income of $193,390 in the corresponding period last year; gross $4,022,751, against $5,872,197.

BUSINESS GAINS SHOWN IN BOTH EAST AND WEST

Farm Products and Other Prices Better.

Signs of better business, outside of the recent advances in the commodity market, continued to come yesterday from many sides. They dealt with more men being put to work in various parts of the country, with better prospects in several lines, with opinions of a railway president and relief notions of a senator.

Bradstreet reported better feeling was based on expectation that the enlarged powers of the Reconstruction Finance corporation would soon show active effects, the light stock of merchandise, some evidence that the smaller factories were getting on a profit making basis, and fair stability of live stock prices at higher levels. The showing of retail trade, this review said, continued comparatively the best of any line, with volume holding at about an even level with the last few weeks. Heavy industries are still largely dormant.

Bring Encouragement.

Dun's said the week's developments brought considerable encouragement to practically every branch of commercial activity, hot weather having helped retailers sell large quantities of seasonal merchandise. Demand for supplies in agricultural districts, caused by early harvests, is shortening the summer lull in merchandise distribution, this review asserted. More active buying of hardware is reported, especially in rural communities; the textile situation has taken a turn for the better and several thousand idle textile workers were recalled to the mills during the week. The review also said a better sentiment prevailed in wholesale markets and that buying had made unexpected gains in a number of divisions.

Some Better News.

Recent advances in wheat prices have lifted the flour market out of its recent dullness and it is reported that the mills of the southwest and northwest have increased their backlog of business substantially. Eastern mill agents report inquiries more numerous, but say actual buying still is conservative.

Heavy engineering construction contracts exceeded $29,000,000 for the week ended July 25, bringing the average for the month up to more than $30,000,000, the highest weekly average since November, 1931, says the Engineering News-Record. The bulk of last week's awards was for public works.

Leading cement producing companies have advanced prices in the eastern district 19 cents to 29 cents a barrel. This is the first advance in this territory since 1929.

Electric refrigerator sales for the first six months in the United States totaled 594,910 units, compared with 597,454 in the first half of 1931, according to the National Electric Light association. June sales were 156,720 units, against 119,761 in June, 1931.

Senator Gives His Views.

Senator Robert J. Buckley, Democrat of Ohio, said yesterday in Chicago government construction along economical lines should solve a part of America's unemployment problem. "I believe in public works," he said, "but not if it has no other purpose than to provide employment; useless buildings are a heavier burden on already overburdened taxpayers."

Stutz Business Better

The Stutz Motor Car Company of America reported yesterday at Indianapolis, Ind., six times as many unfilled orders as it had June 30. A portion of those are for export which has shown a turn for the better during recent weeks. The factory force has been increased approximately forty per cent during the last three weeks.

Philadelphia Adopts Slogan.

"Buy Now for Future Security" was announced yesterday in Philadelphia as the slogan of a campaign starting there next week. Patrons of the 800 movie theaters in the Philadelphia district having a weekly attendance estimated at 5,000,000 will be bombarded with that idea on the screen and by speakers at every performance.

The Full-Fashioned Hosiery Manufacturers of America, Inc., voted in that city yesterday to continue the national working agreement between manufacturers and employés in the industry. The agreement, which provides for nationally uniform wages and hours for workers, arbitration of all disputes and standard working conditions, must be readopted by the workers before its renewal becomes official. A national referendum on its ratification now is being conducted by the workers. The current term of the agreement expires Sept. 1.

Report Better Outlook.

At St. Paul, Minn.—President Charles Donnelly of the Northern Pacific railway, returning from a western trip, said "throughout the inland empire there prevails a distinct note of optimism."

"The business men with whom I came in contact were uniformly encouraged over the prospects for improved business, reflecting the agricultural betterment of the territory," he asserted.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 29.—Gross and net earnings of the United Gas Improvement company for the June quarter, as well as for the twelve months ended June 30, receded only slightly in comparison with the previous year's results.

Net income for the three months ended June 30 amounted to $8,553,103, after charges, taxes, minority interest, etc., equal after preferred dividend requirements to 33 cents a share on the outstanding common stock, against $9,338,234, or 36 cents a share, on the common for the like 1931 period. Net income for the first half year was equal to 72 cents a share on the common.

For the twelve months ended June 30 net income of $36,622,434 was reported, equal after preferred dividends to $1.41 a share on the common, against $38,480,464, or $1.52 a share, for the preceding year.

BONDS SLOW UP, THEN CONTINUE DRIVE FORWARD

Curb Shares in Another Display of Strength.

New York, July 29.—(AP)—The bond market slowed down momentarily for a breathing spell today, but soon resumed the steady climb from which it has not deviated throughout the present month.

Prices followed an irregular trend during the greater part of the session, with indication that a moderate reaction might be at hand. Attempts to negotiate lower bids, however, ran up against a scarcity of offerings with the result that higher quotations began to appear in all categories.

The railroads again jumped into the lead, with many low priced speculative issues gaining from 1 to 3 or more points. Substantial improvement was also recorded by the higher grade loans. The only news that might have affected the rails was a report from Washington that the Reconstruction Finance corporation was discussing the possibility of loans to the carriers for repairs and maintenance, but not for new equipment.

Amusements Pick Up.

The industrials were only a step behind the transportation group in popularity, various specialties, including the oils, displaying pronounced strength. Amusement issues picked up noticeably. Bonds of most of the communications companies and some of the power and light corporations attracted an increased following.

The foreign department was spotty. Australian guaranteed 7s of 1943 slumped 7 points following announcement that funds for the payment of interest on this issue had not been received by the trustees. British 5½s eased, as did the Australians. The Germans rallied for moderate gains and the Argentines showed resistance after their recent depression.

CURB SHARES RISE

Keeping step with the rising trend on the big board, curb stocks today gave another display of strength under the leadership of utilities. The day's trading, totaling about 240,000 shares, was 20,000 shares below that of Thursday, but measured by recent volume it was a decidedly active market.

Utilities forged to the front early in the session and their buoyant tone served to impart solid strength to the general market. Electric Bond and Share issues rose sharply to new high levels under heavy trading. Some utility stocks having narrow markets advanced 5 to 10 points, due to scarcity of offerings. This was true of such issues as American Gas and Electric preferred, Long Island Lighting preferred, and Columbia Gas and Electric convertible preferred.

BUDD MANUFACTURING.

Had a net loss in the June quarter of $313,141 after all charges, compared with net loss of $541,346 in the previous three months and net profit of $102,545 in the June, 1931, quarter. Six months' net loss aggregated $854,487, contrasted with net profit of $180,565, in the first half of last year.

SINCLAIR TALKS OF OFFER TO BUY RICHFIELD OIL

Los Angeles, Cal., July 29.—(AP)—Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate behind the proposal of the Consolidated Oil company to purchase the assets of the Richfield Oil company, now in receivership, arrived here today hopeful that the recommendations placed upon his offer by Richfield committees would prove final.

"I am gratified that the representatives of the bondholders and secured creditors of Richfield have decided to recommend our bid to the holders of Richfield obligations," he said.

"If, as, and when we are able to acquire these properties we plan to build up our interests in the oil industry on the Pacific coast."

NATIONAL LEAD PLANS TO SHIP BY RAILROADS

New York, July 29.—(AP)—The National Lead company, an important shipper, has decided that henceforth all the freight business which it controls shall go to the railroads.

The company announced today that its directors had adopted a resolution favoring rail transportation wherever possible for all shipments under the company's control as their contribution toward helping the railroads recover their financial health and purchasing power.

The action was taken by the company "in recognition of the importance of the welfare of the railroad industry as a factor in any general economic recovery."

RAW SILK.

NEW YORK, July 29.—(AP)—SILK—Raw futures closed active. Sales, 1,480 bales. September, $1.36; December, $1.37; March, $1.37. Open market quotations [60 day basis]: Shanghai steam extra B, $1.42; Canton double extra A 14-16s, $1.15; Japanese crack double extra, $1.40.

Ingersoll-Rand.

Will you please give me some idea of the financial standing of Ingersoll-Rand company?—H. B.

Ingersoll-Rand company manufactures air compressors, oil and gas engines, and machinery used in mining. Together with American Locomotive and General Electric companies, it manufactures oil-electric locomotives.

It has five plants in the United States, four of which are in the eastern section, and one plant in Canada.

Operations resulted in a profit in each of the eleven years through 1930. Net loss for 1931 was $166,000. Deficit after dividends was $4,317,000 and decrease in earned surplus for the year, after adjustments, was $5,000,000.

Net income for 1930 was $4,875,000, or $4.72 per common share, against net of $10,654,000, or $10.50 per common share, for 1929. Net for 1928 was $8,017,000, against $6,551,000 for 1927.

The company has continually maintained a strong financial condition. On Dec. 31, 1931, current assets were $29,493,000 and current liabilities were $1,070,000. Cash, United States government, and other marketable securities (at market) alone were more than $17,000,000. Working capital was $28,424,000, against $32,911,000 the year before.

There is no funded debt. Capitalization consists of 25,255 shares of 6 per cent preferred (par $100) and 1,000,000 no par common shares.

Dividends on the common have been paid regularly since 1910. With the March 1, 1932, common payment of 75 cents per share, the former annual $4 rate was reduced to $3.

The preferred is high grade. The common deserves a fairly good rating.

Arkansas-Missouri Power.

Please give me information and your opinion on Arkansas-Missouri Power first 6s, due 1953.—N. J. B.

Arkansas-Missouri Power company, a subsidiary of Inland Power and Light corporation, furnishes electricity, ice, and water to 111 communities with a population of 107,600 in Arkansas and Missouri.

Gross revenues for 1931 were $1,356,000, against $1,477,000 for 1930, $1,323,000 for 1929, and $1,069,000 for 1928.

Balance available for fixed charges in 1931 equaled that item in 1930. Because of an increase in fixed charges they were earned 1.27 times in 1931, against 1.38 times in 1930. Charges were earned 1.38 times in 1929 and 1.35 times in 1928.

On Dec. 31, 1931, current assets were $386,000 and current liabilities were $311,000. Funded debt was $4,907,000, and amount due to affiliated companies was $416,000.

TRADE BOARD ATTACKS GRAIN FUTURES LAW

Appeal Filed in U. S. Court Here.

BY PAUL POTTER.

The Chicago Board of Trade's fight to maintain its freedom from political pressure was carried to the federal courts yesterday. A petition was filed in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here for review of the order issued by Secretaries Hyde and Lamont and Attorney General Mitchell acting as federal grain commission. That order issued July 23 would close the world's largest grain exchange for sixty days for refusal to admit the Farmers' National Grain corporation to its clearing house.

The petition, filed by Weymouth Kirkland and Howard Ellis for the Board of Trade, made it plain that the courts will be asked to declare the grain futures act of 1922 unconstitutional. That act was passed at the instance of the farm bloc in Washington and provides for federal regulation of farm commodity markets. The law was in operation just ten years before the most of its drastic features were put to legal test. On twenty-eight different counts the Board of Trade challenges the grain futures commission decision.

Delays Working of Penalty.

Attorneys for both the Farmers' National Grain corporation and the Board of Trade agreed yesterday that filing of the petition and placing of a bond by the court would stave off, pending court action, the exchange's sixty day penalty, set by the grain corporation's order to start on Aug. 8.

Among the charges of error which the exchange makes is that the Farmers' National Grain corporation should have been denied its petition to force the closing of the exchange. That corporation, the Board of Trade's lawyers say, never has given the exchange or its clearing corporation adequate proof that it is a legal coöperative or of its financial responsibility.

The exchange holds that the commission of three cabinet members was "unlawfully prejudicial" to the Board of Trade and erred in not giving the Board of Trade opportunity to inquire into the financial responsibility of the Farmers' National Grain corporation, or to determine if it was a lawfully formed coöperative. The petition questions that the grain corporation has been conducted as a coöperative, even if it had been legally formed as one.

Raises Legal Question.

Another legal question raised is whether the Chicago Board of Trade and the Board of Trade Clearing corporation could be "treated as a single institution" and the exchange be held responsible for what the clearing corporation does.

The two concerns are entirely separate, one providing a market for trading in commodities or securities and the other providing facilities for clearing transactions and assuring financial integrity.

BLAME FARM BOARD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 29.—Some brokers here declare that persistent selling of cotton by the farm board or cotton coöperatives, and the refusal of the farm board to outline to the trade a definite policy as to its future procedure in the disposition of some 3,500,000 bales of cotton which it either owns or controls, are factors largely responsible for the semi-demoralized condition existing in the American cotton industry..

During the last few weeks, the farm board or cotton coöperatives have been selling on the average of upward of 10,000 bales of cotton daily on the New York Cotton exchange. This is said to be the chief reason for cotton prices not having advanced during the last three weeks, while nearly all the other commodities during that period have had a substantial recovery. This selling is described as not only destructive, but many claim that it is breaking faith with the cotton farmers as well as the textile trade.

Bought in 1930.

In 1930, the farm board purchased approximately 1,300,000 bales of cotton for stabilization purposes, at an average price now, including carrying charges of about 17 cents a pound. In the session of 1930-31, the farm board advanced to the various cotton coöperative associations throughout the south, 90 per cent of the market value of about 2,300,000 bales of cotton which with charges now stands the farm board about 10 cents a pound. The trade looks upon both these transactions as the same. In other words it is generally considered that to all intents and purposes these 3,500,000 bales of cotton are owned by the farm board.

Is Turn Here? All Asking as Prices Rise

BY HOWARD WOOD.

"What does it mean?" is the question most frequently being asked these days. "Does the upturn in commodity and security prices indicate a definite turn for the better?"

Stocks have been persistently going up for days. Live stock has been on the upgrade for more than a month. Sugar is up. Coffee is up. So are a long list of other commodities. Even grains have been pushing up from the levels where they have been stagnating for some time. The bond market has improved.

La Salle street is more impressed with the gain in commodity prices and the upturn in bonds than it is with the stock market's splurge, although that, too, is encouraging.

The economist for one of the big loop banks says that in his opinion the "psychological low" was passed in the latter part of June. He believes that the major fear—the fear of continually falling prices—has subsided and that more commitments are being made now, which in due time will be reflected in such indexes as car loadings, bank clearings, electric power consumption, and volume of credit outstanding.

An upturn in commodity and security prices does not immediately fill freight cars, buy limousines or pay off the mortgage on the old homestead but if it sticks it will, in time, turn the tide.

A continued advance in commodity prices is not entirely essential. The important thing is to check the decline that has been eating increasingly into profits for three years through inventory writeoffs.

A big soap company earns 18 millions and then has to write off 9 millions as "special non-recurring charges" because of price declines. A packing company buys hogs at $4.50 and by the time it is ready to sell them as pork hog prices have taken a 50 cent nosedive.

That is the sort of thing that has been taking the profit out of business. Hence, it is not hard to understand why sentiment in many lines of business has taken a turn along with commodity prices.

Charles E. Snyder, editor of the Chicago Daily Drovers' Journal, last December, at the time of the International Like Stock show, was quoted on this page as saying that an upturn was due in live stock prices because producers had sold out their supplies.

"No one knows exactly what it means," Mr. Snyder said yesterday, "but there is a chance that it marks the turn of the business tide, and that in its wake will follow, haltingly but surely, small gains in other lines that in the course of time will become big ones. At least, the live stock current has turned, in a very substantial manner.

"The live stock and meat industry is one of the three largest in the country. If steel had made the same comeback that this great industry has, the business interests would conclude certainly that the worst was passed. Basing such a conclusion on live stock is no more far fetched than it would be to base it on steel."

Simultaneous advances in a large number of commodity prices has been somewhat of a pleasant surprise to a world in which expectation of further decline had almost become a habit. But specialists in various commodities have not been surprised.

Just as Mr. Snyder predicted higher live stock prices, so Armand Schmoll Jr., New York hide and leather merchant, predicted improvement in hide and leather prices.

"We readily recognize the relationship existing between hides and other world commodities," he said last February, "but nevertheless we cannot agree with those who preach a hysterical gospel of demoralization at a time when prices have already discounted and overdiscounted everything of a destructive nature without taking into account any of the constructive factors which may be ahead of us."

Improvement in the bond market means increasing public confidence in the ability of corporations to pay their debts, and therefore is related to the upturn in commodity prices.

Locally, this is particularly important at this time for a syndicate headed by three Chicago banks is about to offer $20,000,000 of Commonwealth Edison thirty year 5½ per cent bonds. Although the bankers have five months in which to float this issue the tone of the bond market has been so materially improved that the offering is expected early next week.

COMMITTEE IS NAMED FOR THE HOTEL LA SALLE

BY AL CHASE.

Predicting default of the Aug. 1 interest payment on the $4,200,000 first mortgage bonds now outstanding against the Hotel La Salle, a bondholders' protective committee, headed by Francis E. Manierre has been formed, and has requested owners of bonds to deposit their securities with Halsey, Stuart & Co. immediately. In addition to Mr. Manierre, who is a partner in the realty firm of Dibblee & Manierre, the committee comprises Frank W. Pearson and Winthrop H. Smith.

FRANCIS E. MANIERRE. [Walinger Photo.]

In his letter to the bondholders Chairman Manierre states that an independent auditor's report on Dec. 31, 1931, showed accrued general taxes amounting to $461,778, with not sufficient funds to pay them. In addition the Hotel La Salle company is now delinquent in the payment of three months' ground rent.

Lease 72 Per Cent of Site.

"The company's balance sheet discloses that leaseholds subjected to the lien of the mortgage as security for the bonds are carried on the books at $2,101,791," Mr. Manierre states. "As approximately 72 per cent of the site upon which the hotel stands is held under long term leases the payment of the $54,400 annual ground rental is of vital importance to the bondholders.

"Because of the company's financial condition and its lack of earnings (an operating deficit, before interest and depreciation, of $377,003 having been sustained for the year 1931, as shown by the audit report), it is apparent that the security for the bonds is seriously jeopardized."

Two Receivers Named.

On June 3, 1932, at a hearing before the United States District court for the northern district of Illinois, a petition for receivership of the Hotel La Salle company was granted because of the admission by the company of its inability to meet a small claim of an unsecured creditor due to insufficient working capital. Ernest J. Stevens, president of the company, was appointed receiver, and shortly afterward the court named Thurlow G. Essington as co-receiver.

The original bond issue against the Hotel La Salle and leaseholds was $5,000,000, underwritten in 1924 by Kissel, Kinnicutt & Co. and Halsey, Stuart & Co. The rate was 5½ per cent. This issue has been paid down to $4,200,000.

Phelps Kelley of Halsey, Stuart & Co. is secretary to the new bondholders' protective committee. Butler, Pope, Ballard & Elting are attorneys for the same body.

Present Gains Nearer Stocks' Asset Values

BY SCRUTATOR.

Just about a month ago this column presented two articles analyzing and commenting on the common stocks of 33 large American corporations. Under the caption, "Do Stocks Now Offer Bargains for Long Pull?" It then was pointed out that the market prices of these stocks were generally far below their asset value.

It was suggested then that buyers of securities, who largely ignored asset values and considered only high earning power during the great bull market, now were considering low earnings and ignoring assets. It was further suggested that investors might well return to the old attitude of considering the asset value of securities as well as their earnings.

Show Recent Advances.

These common stocks, most of which appear in the list on which THE TRIBUNE's stock market "averages" is based, have risen sharply in the meantime. When the articles appeared the combined "average" of industrial and railroad stocks stood at 36.33. It reached a low point of 34.43 on July 8 and then moved upward almost steadily to 45.11 last Thursday.

Whether the stock market has gone ahead too fast remains to be seen. It still is true that market prices remain far below asset values and very much further below the market prices established at the peak of the bull market in September, 1929, when the "averages" reached 306.79.

Tabulation Shows Gains.

The following list of stocks is the same as used in the articles printed a month ago, showing market prices then and last Thursday, the percentage advance registered in that time and prices at the top of the bull market in 1929:

While the present low prices for stocks is influenced by the sharp shrinkage in earnings and dividends of most corporations, in the recovery period from the present depression it is likely that the big companies, particularly those in the basic industries, will lead the way.

FRIGIDAIRE HAS NEW MANAGER IN CHICAGO REGION

The management of Frigidaire Sales corporation's operations in the Chicago region has been taken over by Lowell McCutcheon, formerly commercial salesmanager of the corporation at Dayton. This was announced last night by H. W. Newell, vice president in charge of sales, at a dinner attended by dealers and salesmen at the Knickerbocker hotel. Harry Wines, formerly wholesale salesmanager of the New York area, has been made general sales manager of the Chicago district, the announcement said.

The Chicago territory to be supervised by Mr. McCutcheon includes 126 dealers and approximately 900 salesmen operating in twelve counties in Illinois and ten in Indiana. The corporation maintains eight sales offices and display rooms in this city.

Since the beginning of the business, Frigidaire has been represented in Chicago by the Stover company. Through the change the personnel of this organization passes under supervision of the Frigidaire Sales corporation, which will handle the business direct, Mr. Newell said. E. E. Levy has been president of the Stover company. He is retiring from active service.

CALL DOLLAR STRENGTH DUE TO RETURN FLOW OF INVESTMENT FUNDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 29.—Activity in exchange markets subsided somewhat in the last two days, but a steady demand for the dollar continued. Sterling exchange was weaker, but only slightly, and French francs recovered a fraction from their low point of 3.91 last night.

Belgian and Dutch exchanges declined and Swiss was down half a point. All are still above the points at which gold would begin to flow here on exchange transactions.

Strength of the dollar is ascribed by most traders to a return flow of capital from Europe for investment here in the security markets, coupled with the low stage of foreign balances in New York.

It is believed that the long position in sterling is pretty well liquidated and that most of the London demand for dollars is due to British investments in this market. In this connection it is pointed out that a British commission visited America a few weeks ago to survey business conditions and went home to advise careful investments in American securities.

INSULL ISSUES IN LIVELY GAINS ON BOARD HERE

The so-called Insull issues were the headliners on the Chicago Stock Exchange yesterday in trading that again expanded both as to volume and as to price.

Commonwealth Edison closing at 64½ was 3¾ points to the good. Public Service of Northern Illinois no par climbed 4 points to close at 34½, while the 7 per cent preferred was up 2¼ at 63¼. Cities Service in the utilities again proved to be one of the liveliest stocks traded in, but showed no change. Middle West 7 per cent almost doubled itself by rising from 3 to close at 7.

While gains in the general list were the general order, there were few greater than fractional. Acme Steel gained a point at 13 and Continental Steel doubled itself by going to 3. Great Lakes Dredge finds 8 a difficult price to move from and closed at this figure. It seemed a little bit like old times to note 8,950 shares of Grigsby Grunow changing hands, but the closing price, 1⅞, served to dispel the illusion. Other shares to make fractional gains were Marshall Field, Montgomery Ward A, Thompson, U. S. Gypsum and Swift International.

AEOLIAN CO. AND AMERICAN PIANO AGREE TO MERGE

New York, July 29.—(AP)—The Aeolian company and the American Piano company, two of the largest manufacturers of musical instruments in the country, today announced their consolidation in a new company to be known as the Aeolian American corporation. Stockholders of both companies have approved the merger. Financial details of the merger were not disclosed.

Staehling, manager of the local branch of the Sterling Motor Truck company, all operations of the La France-Republic Sales corporation, Alma, Mich., are being transferred to the plant of the Sterling Motor Truck company, Milwaukee, that acquired all their assets on June 1. It is reported the La France-Republic motor trucks will be continued to be manufactured by Sterling.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 29.—Eight American directors of the late Ivar Kreuger's International Match company are to be sued for general neglect of their duties as directors and trustees and on the specific ground that they paid dividends from capital.

This announcement was made today to the federal referee, Oscar Ehrhorn, by James N. Rosenberg of counsel for the Irving Trust company, as federal receiver and trustee in bankruptcy.

The directors named by Mr. Rosenberg were Percy Rockefeller, John McHugh, Francis Lee Higginson, Adrian H. Larkin, Donald Durant, Frederick W. Allen, Henry Havemeyer, and Samuel Pryor.

Austria Fails to Get Funds for Interest

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 29.—Messrs. Jansen, Wellenberg & Jay, European trustees for the Austrian government guaranteed loan, 1923-1943, announced today through J. P. Morgan & Co., that, while there has been no delay in the payments due to bondholders, the government, owing to exchange difficulties, has not provided funds for payment of the monthly service installment due July 1 on the bonds.

The issue is known as the league of nations loan. The bonds were issued originally in the amount of about $125,000,000, about $25,000,000 of which was sold in this country. The bonds were issued under the aegis of the league to stabilize conditions in Austria.

Of the original issue of $25,000,000 sold in this country about $7,877,000 has been retired through the sinking fund.

Bonds Are Guaranteed.

It was further announced that the trustees have not received any information which would lead them to suppose that this installment or the monthly installment, due on Aug. 1 next will be met.

The bonds, it is understood here, are guaranteed as to principal, interest, and redemption payments by the following countries to the extent mentioned: Great Britain, 24½ per cent; Szechoslovakia and France, 24½ per cent; Italy, 20½ per cent; Belgium, 2 per cent; Sweden, 2 per cent; Denmark, 1 per cent, and Holland, 1 per cent.

Funds Are Insufficient.

Funds already received by the trustees, it was announced, are insufficient to meet in full the interest due on Dec. 1, next. Should the government, however, fail to make the necessary transfer before the date due, whether by monthly installments or otherwise, interest payment woul dbe met by utilizing the reserve fund created for that purpose.

The trustees already have received the necessary monies to provide for sinking fund requirements for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1932, in accordance with the terms of the general bond.

New York, July 29.—The new bull custodians of the share market cut loose with still another display of prosperity fireworks today. Gains ranged as high as 3 or 4 points.

Railroad shares were prominent and utilities active and strong. The close found many stocks selling at more than double their recent lows for the year. The turnover was around 2,100,000 shares as compared with 2,800,000 yesterday.

Greatest Activity at Close.

Activity was concentrated mainly in the last two hours of the session. There were two rallies during the day on active buying. The second was near the start of the final hour and continued unchecked through to the closing gong. The result was that most stocks closed around their best levels of the day.

Prominent among the features of the day were the four railroads heading the systems proposed for consolidation in the so-called eastern four-party plan, New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio, Chesapeake and Ohio and Pennsylvania. It had been announced overnight that three of the four roads had decided to go along with the interstate commerce commission on its merger proposal. The belief was expressed that the Pennsylvania would fall in line before long. Among western carriers, the movement was felt specially by Union Pacific, Atchison and Southern Pacific. Gains of 1 to 3 points were the rule throughout the group.

Third Day of Advances.

Today's advance was the third consecutive one and the eighth in the last nine trading sessions. Since July 8, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE's index of fifty stocks has advanced from 33.98 to Receivers for Chicago Rapid Transit Company have been appointed by the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, and they have taken possession and control of the property and business of the Company.

Interest was due July first on certain of the above obligations and was not paid, making it, therefore, essential that immediate steps be taken to consolidate the position of, and obtain representation for, the holders of all mortgage bond issues now direct obligations of the Chicago Rapid Transit Company. Immediate concerted action is necessary, not only for general protection, but to endeavor to save and further the work already accomplished toward the acquisition by the Chicago Local Transportation Company of the transportation properties of the Chicago Rapid Transit Company and those of the surface line companies. Upon such acquisitions, the Chicago Local Transportation Company will be qualified under and in position to accept the Ordinance Providing for a Comprehensive Unified Local Transportation System for the City of Chicago and Metropolitan area, approved by the electors of Chicago at a special election held on July 1, 1930. Suits testing the validity of this Ordinance have been carried to the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois, which court has just rendered its decision upholding the validity of the Ordinance. The time for acceptance of the Ordinance, as now extended by the Chicago City Council, expires January 31, 1933.

The following committee has been organized under a Deposit Agreement to be dated as of July 1, 1932, copies of which will be furnished upon request. The Agreement will provide for the enlargement of the Committee membership and division thereof to solely represent specific liens should sufficient conflict of interest, in the opinion of the Committee, eventuate.

PROFIT TAKING CLIPS RECENT WHEAT ADVANCE

Slight Losses Shown for the Day.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Bullish sentiment was less pronounced among wheat traders yesterday. The market developed a reactionary tendency, nevertheless it was regarded as having given an excellent account of itself.

Profit taking more than offset new buying. At one time prices showed around 1¼c under Thursday's finish. Toward the last there was a rally on the pronounced strength in stocks. Closing trades were at net losses of ½@⅝c, with July finishing at 50¼@50⅝c, trades being made over this range in various parts of the pit. September closed at 51½@51⅝c, and December at 54¾@54⅞c.

Weakness in the Kansas City and Winnipeg wheat markets had some effect on local sentiment. A lower basis for high protein hard winter was reported at Kansas City and milling demand was said to be slow. Futures there were off 1⅛@1¼c at the last. Winnipeg broke around 2c from the early top led to selling here, and the Canadian market closed 1@1¼c lower, with October at 60½c in Canadian funds.

Await Export Buying.

Failure of Europe to come into the wheat market as a buyer of cash grain on a large scale was the cause given as one of the factors in increasing the desire on the part of local longs to secure profits, especially as prices had advanced sharply for three straight days. However, it was expected that many of those who sold out would want to reinstate their lines in case of a good recession in the market, and sentiment late in the day was affected considerably by the strong close in security markets.

Buying against bids was a factor in checking the decline in wheat. At one time buying by locals caused a sharp rally and lifted prices over 1c to a fraction above the previous close, but the trade was not as large as on Thursday, when the total purchases were 41,899,000 bu, the largest since April 30.

A poorer milling demand was reported in Liverpool and futures there were off rather sharply early, only to rally and close unchanged to ¼c per bu lower with October 56½c. No. 2 hard winter in the English spot market was quoted at equal to 61¼c. There were strong intimations of export business in American wheats, but the quantities were not given, while around 400,000 bu Manitobas were said to have been taken.

Corn Closes Lower.

Outside trade in corn has not broadened to any great extent, and pit observers allege this is due in part to the prospect for a crop well in excess of that of 1931 despite the recent damage reports, and to the continued liberal movement of old grain to terminal markets. Normally this season of the year is a period of crop scares, and also of small receipts from the old crop. Commission houses and locals were on the selling side while support came mainly from shorts and holders of bids.

Closing trades on corn futures were at net losses of ⅝@⅞c, with July at 31c; September, 32@32⅛c, and December, 32⅝@32¾c. Country offerings to arrive were not as large as recently, with 42,000 bu booked by local handlers. It is believed that an advance of 1c or more will be necessary to start the country selling freely again.

Cash Oats in Demand.

Cash interests were on the buying side of oats futures early yesterday, which gave rise to a belief that liberal shipping sales had been made. However, no business of consequence was reported up to the close, although cash handlers intimated there had been more oats sold to seaboard interests of late than had been given out to the trade. Futures finished ½@⅞c lower, with July, 16⅞c; September, 18@18⅛c, and December, 20½@20⅝c.

Rye was more inclined to follow the recessions in wheat than the upturns. Trade was not large and mainly of a local character. Closing trades were ⅝@1c lower, with July, 32c; September, 33⅝c, and December, 36⅝c.

RAIL MERGER'S PROSPECTS AID RISE IN STOCKS

From the percentage standpoint, the upturn has been the sharpest of any during the current depression, for while the rally between Nov. 13, 1929, and April 10, 1930, amounted to 49.3 per cent, it covered a period of five months.

American Telephone again led the utilities forward going to a new high of 89¼, up 2¼ points on the day. Peoples Gas, American Water Works, Brooklyn Union Gas and Public Service of New Jersey were other favorites of the division.

The sharpest gains as usual here of late were made by preferred stocks. The preferreds of American Car and Foundry, Atchison, Bangor and Arrostook, American Smelting, Mullins Manufacturing, Loews Inc., Chicago and North Western and Bush Terminal were conspicuous to upturns among them running as high as 6 or 7 points. Auburn Auto spurted 8⅝ points, most of it in the late trading.

The proceedings before Referee Kurtz in addition to a meeting of the creditors included the appearance of the officers of the National Public Service corporation and the Seaboard Public Service company, subsidiaries of the National Electric Power company, which were petitioned into bankruptcy two weeks ago.

Of the nine claims against National Electric Power the largest were filed by the Irving Trust company for $13,004,500, and the Chase National bank for $5,509,601. The proceedings were adjourned until Aug. 8.

Heavy grades of hogs that have been a drag on the whole price list all week were dumped on yesterday's market. Sheep pulled quotations down 10@20c. Stock exceeding 250 lbs in weight led the break, but weakness spread to all classes and at the finish some good to choice light and light butchers were in headlong retreat.

Extreme weights finished at the lowest point in recent weeks, with the price range widest since last September. The top price dropped below the $5.00 line, only one load reaching $4.95, while the general average at $4.30 stood lowest of the month. The two prices were 65c apart, this spread comparing with 40c the middle of last week. Packing grades now comprise about half the receipts which accounts for the sharp lowering of average costs. Hogs accumulated during the week were mostly extreme weights.

Bulk of yesterday's packing sows brought $3.15@4.00, only smooth light kinds of butcher type at the outside figure. Most of the 250@300 lb butchers sold at $4.25@4.55 and only 200@225 lb averages were eligible to $4.75 and above. Butchers exceeding 350 lbs in weight cashed at $4.00 and under.

Cattle Supply Meager.

Yesterday's meager supply of 1,000 cattle was cleaned up on a slow "catch as catch can" trade in which most salesmen managed to dispose of their offerings at what they considered steady rates. Hardly enough arrived to establish a market. Best grades of steers are closing 25@50c above a week ago, while plainer kinds are weak to 25c lower for the week, with the spread widest since February. Nothing of good quality sold yesterday. One load of 1,100 lb steers brought $7.50, with two yearlings averaging 750 lbs at $8.00. The trade is carrying a nominal quotation of $9.75 for top beef steers. Poorer grades ranged down to $5.00 and some thin, ill bred steers sold at $3.00 @4.00. Butcher stock was dull and slightly lower. Calves sold steady, but show gains of 75c to $1.00 for the week.

Lamb Trade Firm.

Sellers bolstered lamb quotations yesterday when only 7,000 arrived on the market and sold the majority of the good to choice grades with light sorts on a strong basis. Bulk of the best grades of native lambs were sorted at $6.00@6.25, a few to city butchers reaching $6.50. No westerns were offered. Mature stock and yearlings sold steady. Feeding lambs are in better demand lately, and are quoted at $4.00@5.00. Slaughter lambs have come up 25@50c in value during the week, while yearlings have gained 25c and aged sheep 25@75c.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 300 cattle, 4,000 hogs and 1,000 sheep, against 745 cattle, 3,257 hogs and 1,742 sheep the previous Saturday, and 588 cattle, 4,498 hogs and 1,229 sheep a year ago.

Probable receipts of hogs at Chicago for next Monday are estimated from 22,000 to 33,000. J. M. Waters marked 22,000; G. W. Chandler, 24,000; F. M. Sherwood, 25,000; W. T. Reneker and G. Brittain, 26,000; A. N. Spence, 27,000; W. Garrett, 28,000; A. G. Welhener and W. G. Olson, 30,000; J. A. Bunyan, 32,000, and R. B. Ellis, 33,000.

LIQUIDATION IN LARD

A decline in hog prices as well as in grains, liberal receipts of hogs, a slower cash trade, liquidation by holders, and rather indifferent support ended in a net decline of 7½@15c on lard futures. Bellies not traded in with the market 10@12½c lower. Cash meat trade was quieter. Fresh pork loins were slow sale with packers here and in the east freezing their holdings. Liverpool lard was unchanged to 3d lower, the latter on October. Export clearances of lard from the seaboard were 1,266,000 lbs and bacon 96,500 lbs. Prices follow:

COTTON TRADE MIXED

Trading in cotton was not heavy with a moderate advance early, a recession later and closed 4 to 7 points higher on futures in Chicago and unchanged to 5 points higher in other markets. Wall street was a moderate buyer and New Orleans a fair seller of distant deliveries. News from Worth street was more encouraging to holders of raw material. Weather throughout the belt was on the whole favorable.

Spinners' takings of American cotton for the week were 204,000 bales, against 201,000 bales the previous week and 178,000 bales last year. Port receipts today were 17,632 bales, compared with 8,679 bales a week ago and 23,640 bales last year. The firmness in the stock market had a good influence on cotton.

Official reports give the carryover of domestic cotton nearly large enough for the annual consumption. Estimates on acreage July 1 this year are 37,200,000 acres, or 9.5 per cent below last year, and 19.1 per cent less than in 1930.

Spot cotton in New York advanced to 6c, a gain of 5 points, New Orleans $5.85, Galveston $5.75, and Houston $5.65. Prices follow:

PAYS TO LOOK AHEAD

Poultry and egg production has a future. The wise man will prepare now. A small farm properly equipped and managed, located within easy reach of the city, assures contentment, good living and profits for its owner.

Our 1, 2 or 5 acre farms with modern homes in a well-organized colony, near school, church and stores, large poultry house, electric, gas, water; rail and bus service to Chicago, guaranteed market for your product, rich, black soil, which means a wonderful garden, plenty of good, wholesome air and sunshine; an ideal place to bring up the kiddies, is what we have to offer. It will pay you to investigate.

The 800 people living on our farms we give as reference. Our prices are within reach of all, our terms are easy. We are there to stay and our service is genuine. A number of new homes now being constructed. Let us interest you. Drive to our office, 177th and Oak Park-av. or call, write or phone for full details.
